Plate Errors of the Empire Stamps – Passer Revised Part 1: The 2 Piastres Stamps (1876–1890)

by Hans Paul Soetens

Copyright © 2023

The Definitive postage stamps and the Postage Due stamps known in Turkish-Ottoman philately as “Empire” or “UPU” were produced and issued from 1876 onwards to comply with the bilingual requirements (Ottoman Turkish and French) agreed in the General Postal Union (from 1878: Universal Postal Union) treaties. These stamps are described in detail in Adolf Passer’s book (on pp. 76–89), published by the Royal Philatelic Society London in 1938. A summary can also be found in Andreas Birken’s translation into German published in 2016.

The discovery in my own collection holdings of two complete sheets of 150 stamps and several partial sheets of 50 and 100 stamps of the 2 Piastres issues (holdings that were bought long ago, separated and forgotten) gives me the perfect occasion to look more closely at the plate errors. I believe these print sheets of 150 stamps were generally split up to create counter sheets of 50. Most of the partial sheet were without gum, but the full sheets still had gum that had fully hardened in 140 years. Unfolding these sheets is therefore extremely precarious.

Passer states that apart from a “broken ‘R’ in Piastres” there were no printing errors; this was adopted unchecked by Dr. Birken.¹ The following overview shows that there are indeed many notable plate errors on the sheets.

First of all, I show a series of plate errors whose position in the sheets clearly indicate that Passer probably only had access to sections from the centre of these 2 Piastres sheets (rows 6 to 10), in which no obvious plate errors have been found to date.

A distinction must be made between plate defects caused by problems with damaged printing felt,² by soiling of the printing plate and those caused by foreign particles (hickeys). Due to wear of the underlying printing felt, the counter-pressure necessary for ink transfer is lost; this can be seen in the diffuse colour transferred to the edges of such a spot. These spots almost never show the sharp break line between the printed and unprinted area.

Passer writes³ that the printing plates were taken apart and reassembled for new printing at least until 1884. As has been shown, this assertion is certainly no longer the case with the editions from 1888 onwards.

Besides the usual “broken ‘R’ in Piastres,” it is useful to look at the bottom connections of the lines around the circles. The short line to the left of the inscription “2 Guruş” regularly does not connect to the lower edge of this horn. To the left of the Arabic “٢” in the Arabic value field, the lower line of the plate regularly does not connect to the short line or the last millimetre of this lower line is significantly thinner.

1 Passer p. 79, Birken p. 61.

2 In addition to the printing plate, one also needs a reasonably flexible base to get enough counter-pressure on the surface to be printed). For this purpose, printing felt was used, which was, however, also subject to wear and tear and then adversely affected the application of the ink. This is evident in letterpress/typography printing. Shifting of the printing felt or underlaying of weak areas leads to the migration of poorly or insufficiently printed areas.

3 Passer p. 77, Birken p. 6.

The plate errors shown here were found in the 1876 issues examined and further on in the 1888 and 1890 issues but are there almost all found in identical positions. For plate errors found in both 1876 and 1888 sheets, it can be assumed with reasonable certainty that these faults would also be present in the 1884 and 1886 issues.

With the plate errors detected the positions in the sheet of 150 stamps could in many cases also be assigned to the partial sheets of 50 and 100. Passer's assertion that the printing plate of the 2 Piastres was reassembled between the printings of 1886 and 1888 may be correct, but for the printings of 1888 and 1890 this is demonstrably not the case.

The images of the plate errors are accompanied by the field positions. At the end I show some deviations which can be found in different variations on several fields. I have not classified them as plate errors, although they are clearly deviating types. There are too many to be classed as just plate errors. Maybe it is possible to use these deviations for plating the sheets.

Special Cases and Hickeys

Further on I show a few special cases of foreign particles (hickeys).

The so-called plate error "broken 'R' in Piastres" occurs very frequently on these printing plates and can therefore not be regarded as a plate error. At best as a subtype in the designation "PIASTRES". There are many other irregularities in this inscription, such as unusually shaped letters "E", letters with a variation in the serifs, etc. These irregularities can be very useful for those who want to do a plate reconstruction of this issue.

The mentioned plate errors "broken coloured line above the M" and "broken coloured line below the P" (both adjacent to "EMP:") should be present in the 1876 and 1884/86 sheets. Unfortunately, the field positions are not mentioned and Passer's opinion that the errors in the 1888 and 1890 prints show up on other positions could not be supported by my research.

The failure to mention the major plate errors shown above suggests that Passer relied on unverified information from third parties for his treatment of the 2 Piastres stamps.

I will leave the search for plate errors of the Ottoman-Turkish inscription "Posta-ı Devlet-i Osmaniye" in the centre-piece to others, because it was not my intention to plate this issue.

*All images of the 2 Piastres stamps of 1888 have been digitally enhanced to highlight the flaws.
This also applies to some stamps of the other issues.*

For the 1876/77 postage stamps of the Duloz type (MiNr. 27–29, letterpress with overprint type VI) two additional values were prepared at the time:

- Passer 73 MiNr. V 5 Piastres slate-blue
- Passer 74 MiNr. VI 25 Piastres lake-red

There are trial proofs of both stamps on cardboard paper (imperforate), proofs on ordinary paper with gum (perforation: L 11½), plate proofs on ordinary paper with gum (imperforate) and final proofs for the production run (perforation: L 13¼).

Both values were never produced and issued, as there were still enough valid stocks of previous issues remaining.

Quarantine at Brindisi in 1882: Disinfection of P&O Mail

by Bo Andersson

Copyright © 2023

By the end of 1870 Brindisi replaced Marseilles as the P&O transit port in the Mediterranean. Due to the almost continuous threat of cholera emanating from the countries east of Suez, P&O steamers were occasionally held back for inspection of disease on board.

During the summer of 1882 there were rumours in the Mediterranean that cholera had erupted at Aden. In July, a fireman was reported dead of cholera on the ship Hesperia when calling at Aden. The steamer had arrived from Bombay with some five hundred pilgrims for Mecca. Also, there were reports about minor outbreaks of cholera among other Muslim groups who had called at Aden on their way to Mecca. The rumours kept circulating and by mid-September quarantine was established in many Mediterranean ports. In Italy, the Minister of Interior announced that:¹

[...] vessels arriving from Egypt after the 5th inst., without having performed quarantine in any Mediterranean port, shall be subjected to an observation of three days, if they have clean bills and to a rigorous quarantine of ten days in a lazaretto, if they have had or have any cases of cholera on board.

P&O Tanjore Arriving at Brindisi: Mails Disinfected

The first P&O steamer affected by the quarantine was the Tanjore that arrived early in the morning of 16th September 1882. Her mails were landed, but the steamer was refused entry to Brindisi. The passengers were detained on board and had no other choice but to proceed on to Venice, notwithstanding that Tanjore had a clean bill of health and no sickness on board.

The passengers were very displeased with their situation and on arrival at Venice they addressed a serious complaint about the Italian authorities to Lord Granville, the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in London, describing in detail their stay in Italy. The letter, which is dated Venice 19th September appeared in THE TIMES of London on 27th September and is shown in full on page 19 (fig. 3). Some extracts are quoted in the following:²

QUARANTINE AT BRINDISI

Steamship Tanjore, Venice, Sept. 19, 1882.

My Lord, [...]

We left Bombay on Tuesday, Aug. 29, in the steamer Mirzapore, from which we changed on Tuesday, the 12th of September, at Port Said, into the Tanjore. With the exception of two ladies taken on board at Suez and one gentleman at Ismailia, there was no addition to our number. At Bombay we believe there had not been any cholera for some time and from the beginning to the end of our voyage both on the Mirzapore and the Tanjore not a single case of illness of any kind or description occurred.

When we arrived at Brindisi we were a clear 17 days from Bombay and 10 from Aden, and had been passed by the sanitary officer at Suez as having a clean bill of health. What then was the excuse of the Italian authorities for refusing to allow us to go ashore there to continue our journey with the mails by train, and for causing us the grave inconvenience and delay of three days' quarantine? Simply that we had come from an Egyptian port, at which we had never landed, and with which we had held no communication of any sort or kind [...]

We say nothing about the ridiculous proceedings of the Brindisi officials in requiring us to march singly past their doctor for inspection, the ludicrous spectacle of our medical officer's report being held for perusal from our ship's gangway for fear of infection at the end of a pair of tongs, the wanton delay to the mails by taking them to an isolated place at the entrance to the harbour for fumigation [...] Nor need we dilate on the feelings of exasperation with which, in perfect health and strength, we found ourselves kept prisoners for 24 hours in the harbour of Venice, and a second time called upon to undergo a medical inspection [...].

There are several interesting details in this description including the remark on mail fumigation, which however the passengers can only have heard of and not seen. That mail landed by the Tanjore actually was disinfected is confirmed by the card below (fig. 1). It has two fine knife-slashes for disinfection.

The “isolated place at the entrance to the harbour” probably refers to the old lazaretto (Lazzaretto Vecchio),³ at the mouth of the outer harbour (fig. 4). The quarantine station was still existing in 1882, but was already long out of regular use.

QUARANTINE AT BRINDISI.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES.

Sir,—I was requested by my fellow passengers on board the last mail steamer from India to Brindisi to enclose you the accompanying letter, which we have addressed through the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to Lord Granville. To the matters therein mentioned, I may add that upon our arrival at Venice we found that, owing to the floods, further progress homewards was temporarily impossible, and in the result, instead of reaching London on the 18th inst., the first of us could only get through by Sunday, the 24th, this being nearly a week. As to the extra expense thus unreasonably entailed upon us I say nothing.

Yours faithfully,

Carlton Club, Sept. 25. DOUGLAS STRAIGHT.

“ Steamship Tanjore, Venice, Sept. 19, 1882.

“ My Lord,—We, the undersigned passengers by the Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamer Tanjore, which arrived at Brindisi with the Indian mails on the morning of Saturday last, the 16th, desire to call your Lordship's attention to the uncalled for and arbitrary action of the Italian authorities in refusing to allow us to land there and compelling us to proceed to Venice, there to remain in quarantine until this morning. Several of our number happened to be taking advantage of a three months' return ticket to run home, and to these every day was precious. Still, of course, if there had been any good reason for subjecting us to quarantine, this circumstance would not have afforded any the more ground for complaint, but when we have stated one or two facts we think your Lordship will feel that the detention and delay inflicted upon us was both unnecessary and vexatious.

“ We left Bombay on Tuesday, Aug. 29, in the steamer Mirzapore, from which we changed on Tuesday, the 12th of September, at Port Said, into the Tanjore. With the exception of two ladies taken on board at Suez and one gentleman at Ismailia, there was no addition to our number. At Bombay we believe there had not been any cholera for some time and from the beginning to the end of our voyage both on the Mirzapore and the Tanjore not a single case of illness of any kind or description occurred. When we arrived at Brindisi we were a clear 17 days from Bombay and 10 from Aden, and had been passed by the sanitary officer at Suez as having a clean bill of health. What then was the excuse of the Italian authorities for refusing to allow us to go ashore there to continue our journey with the mails by train, and for causing us the grave inconvenience and delay of three days' quarantine? Simply that we had come from an Egyptian port, at which we had never landed, and with which we had held no communication of any sort or kind. As your lordship will perceive from the signatures or kind. As your lordship will perceive from the signatures subscribed below we were few in number, and the surgeons of the Mirzapore and Tanjore vouched that we were all in perfect health, and had been so from the time of our leaving Bombay. It therefore does seem to us that we have a substantial grievance to complain of, and that in the interest of other Indian passengers who are following us by succeeding mails we should bring it under your lordship's notice. We say nothing about the ridiculous proceedings of the Brindisi officials in requiring us to march singly past their doctor for inspection, the ludicrous spectacle of our medical officer's report being held for perusal from our ship's gangway for fear of infection at the end of a pair of tongs, the wanton delay to the mails by taking them to an isolated place at the entrance to the harbour for fumigation, and last, but not least, the subjecting the Admiral's despatches, brought by us from Ismailia, to the same absurd process. Nor need we dilate on the feelings of exasperation with which, in perfect health and strength, we found ourselves kept prisoners for 24 hours in the harbour of Venice, and a second time called upon to undergo a medical inspection—this despite every step having been taken by Captain Briscoe, of the Tanjore, to get this ship thoroughly fumigated, and to have all the sanitary regulations fully complied with.

“ What we do hope is, that by bringing these matters to your lordship's attention, passengers by the future mail steamers from India to Brindisi, under circumstances similar to ours, may be spared the gratuitous delay and irritating inconvenience to which we have been put.

“ We think it right to add that we have forwarded a copy of this letter to The Times newspaper and to the directors of the Peninsular and Oriental Company. Apologizing to your lordship for troubling you at such length, we beg to remain,

The following Mail Voyages

After Tanjore there followed the voyages of P&O Surat arriving at Brindisi on 23rd September and P&O Mongolia on 29th September. From Surat's passengers there is yet another detailed complaint against the Italian authorities⁸ and from the Mongolia we have the letter to Belgium (fig. 5) which like the foregoing card is cut twice in a diagonal line by a knife for disinfection.

By mid-October the Italians realised that the alarming news of cholera east of Suez in August were grossly exaggerated. The quarantine was moderated but not lifted like in other Mediterranean countries and the Italians kept on disinfecting mail.

On 17th October P&O Tanjore arrived at Brindisi with the Indian mails. From this voyage we have a letter addressed to Vermont in USA (fig. 6) cut with one long knife-slash to assist fumigation.

The Indian 1½a UPU card (fig. 7) was landed at Brindisi on 9th December by Hydaspes. It has one 22 mm long chisel-slit indicating that the card was fumigated. The card is addressed to Switzerland.

On 16th December the Tanjore landed another batch of mail at Brindisi including the Indian 1a postal stationery cover (fig. 8) uprated to 3as and addressed to the US. The letter has two long and uneven knife-slashes for disinfection.

On p. 25 are listed the disinfected P&O covers known to me from the period. The table includes two knife-slashed covers from Australia presented by Denis Vandervelde in 2003:

One is a registered letter to Vienna, posted in Melbourne on 11th October and landed at Brindisi on 21st November.⁹ The letter was taken by P&O Rohilla from Melbourne 12th October, P&O Siam from Colombo 1st November.

The other letter is addressed to Mainz, mailed in Sydney on 7th November and offloaded at Brindisi on 16th December. This letter was carried by P&O Ancona from Melbourne 9th November, P&O Khedive from Colombo 29th November.

Conclusion: The Mails

The Brindisi quarantine comprises 17 voyages during a period of some four months. It is an episode that has not been defined as a disinfection period before. The perforated covers seem to indicate that:

1. The prevailing method of cutting mail at Brindisi would be knife-slashing rather than slitting by chisel, and
2. letters and cards were slit alike.¹⁰
3. Further, it is evident that mail to England or France was not slit. So far known, the destination countries are USA, Germany, Austria, Belgium, Switzerland. These countries re-appear during the 1883/84 disinfection; that is, mail was disinfected as determined by destination. The British and French postal administrations were happy with a perfunctory disinfection leaving no visible traces on the covers.

¹⁰ During the epidemics in the second half of the 19th century it was not uncommon for cards to be cut or pierced for disinfection although the perforation of a card would definitely be senseless from a modern rationale.

One may ask why the Italians kept on fumigating mail after mid-October. Neither Suez nor Aden were troubled by epidemics. Apparently, the disinfection seems to have been triggered by instant reports about scattered cases of cholera in the Arabian Peninsula: On 16th November, THE TIMES reported:¹¹ “BRINDISI, Nov. 15. Steamers from Egypt on arriving here are subjected to 24 hours” quarantine, on account of the cholera lately prevalent at Mecca.” A week later, P&O Poonah arrived with the P&O mails at Brindisi. Some of these were slit.

Unlike the card to Belgium (fig. 1) from the same voyage, this letter to the UK was not slit. Covers were treated individually as determined by country of destination. The UK mails were received as closed mails in tarred mailbags at Brindisi and forwarded to England ‘in quarantine’.

In December there were new reports about cholera among Muslim groups on the road between Mecca and Medina and the Italians were terrified of infection. The newspaper DIRITTO writes:¹² “that Europe could never permit the quarantine precautions to be abolished [...] and without strict supervision cholera or plague might reach Suez from Mecca or Jeddah.” All of which coincides with the disinfection of the mails landed at Brindisi on 9th and 16th December.¹³

Eventually, in January 1883 the quarantine was raised. On 13th January THE TIMES reports¹⁴ that “the Italian Government has removed the quarantine imposed on arrivals from Egypt.”

11 The Times, 16.11.1882, p. 6.

12 Reported in The Times, 19.12.1882, p. 3.

13 It is significant that the Postmaster General in London re-opened the contractual route across Egypt already in early-December. Apparently, he was impatient with the long-standing quarantine in Italy. Nor were the Italians popular with homeward bound travellers. Those who had a chance to avoid an Italian landing place, they sought alternative ports, like Sir Garnet Wolseley, who was ordered home from the Egyptian campaign in mid-October: “He will [...] embark on the 21st on board Her Majesty’s dispatch-vessel Iris, which will proceed to Trieste instead of Brindisi in consequence of the quarantine regulations of the latter port.” (The Times, 16.10.1882, p. 6.)

The Impact on the Sea Post Office

The table on p. 28 illustrates how the eastbound sea-sorting was organised from September onwards. Both the ingoing and outgoing mail was carried through the Suez Canal until December. The table combines two sets of dates:

1. The data of steamer movements.
2. The dates of the Sea PO date-stamps which indicate the start-sorting date of the mails.

On the top are mail dispatch dates from London and, in red, the Sea PO date-stamps.

Mails transshipped at Port Said or Suez were sorted from Suez. These are the London mails of 15.09., 29.09., 27.10., 10.11., and 8.12.

Mails taken by the one steamer all through from Brindisi to Bombay were sorted from Alexandria. These are the London mails of 22.09., 6.10., 20.10., 3.11., 1.12., and 15.12.

Exceptions from the above are:

1. the London mails of 13th October transshipped at Port Said but sorted from Alexandria,
2. the London mails of 24th November that were carried overland because of the wreck of Malwa at Suez.

It is not clear why the P&O steamers from Brindisi called at Alexandria before traversing the Chanel. The westbound steamers did not. Due to the abnormal situation in Italy, the steamers may have been carrying additional mails (other than the P&O mails) from Brindisi for onward despatch from Alexandria by other shipping companies. Also, there was a recycling of tarred mail bags. Empty tarred mail bags that were returned from Europe to be re-filled with new mail batches for Brindisi, could have been discharged at Alexandria.

Normal procedure with overland transit and sorting between Bombay and Suez was resumed with the Bombay mails of 24th November (Set E) and the London mails of 22nd December (Set A).

Half a year later, when Egypt was raged by a serious outbreak of cholera and the need of mail disinfection was deemed much stronger than in 1882, the P&O mails were diverted to the bigger quarantine station on the island of Poveglia in the Venetian laguna.¹⁵ While Brindisi with its inadequate and antiquated facilities for mail fumigation was closed for incoming mail from Egypt.

The outbreaks of cholera in Aden in the early 1880s mark the beginning of the 5th pandemic period, 1881–1896.¹⁶

The Two Postal Conventions Between Ottoman Turkey and Persia of 1884 and 1892 and the 1905 Amendment A Neglected Matter

by Björn Sohrne (FRPSL)

Copyright © 2023

For about two years the author has been looking for information about the early postal route(s) at the Black Sea between Ottoman Turkey and Persia via – among other publications – MEPB. Tobias Zywiets so kindly encouraged me with his ideas and knowledge. Further, I like to thank Dr. Mehmet Çetin¹ who has been instrumentally helpful with of his contacts in locating the two final, accepted handwritten preparations of the Treaties of 1884 and 1892 between Ottoman Turkey and Persia at the National Archives in Istanbul.

The historic route – via Bayazid, near the Persian border – is part of the ancient Silk Road that is dwindling away across Caucasus, Central Asia to China. As from the middle of the 19th century trade increased in the region, foreign merchants settled in Trebizond, Erzerum, Poti and Tiflis as well as in Tabriz in Persia. Trade was undertaken with Persia, the Baku area, Turkestan, Bukhara and Khiva, Central Asia, to Sinkiang and China for centuries. Volatile areas, what is called “The Great Game” was in full swing between Russia and Britain regarding influence in the semi-independent Sinkiang and Tibet, both quite close to British-India which for the British was the Crown Jewel in the Empire and thus, in their view, had to be protected from Russian expansionism at all costs! Thus, the trade route was situated in an important part of the cross-roads between Europe and Central Asia and the East.

Dr. Mehmet Çetin writes:²

Although the changes in the trade routes due to the geographical explorations caused great damage to the caravan trade passing over Iran and Syria, the Ottoman foreign trade continued to take place on these axes until the effects of Industrial Revolutions showed up. Another area of great importance in the foreign trade of the Ottoman Empire was the Black Sea trade, which was held under its monopoly until 1774. Thus the Black Sea trade emerged from a regional market and started to occupy an important place in intercontinental trade. An important feature of this trade was the connection of the Silk Road with a secondary line extending to Anatolia via Tabriz–Erzeroum–Trebizond route. This line was one of the most important routes of transit trade between the Ottoman Empire and Iran.

In Turkey and adjacent areas, it was the Tatars who were responsible for organising the delivery of post between the various towns in Turkey-in-Asia and to Persia via Bayazid, the nearest town at the Turkish side of the border between the two Empires. We also know that the Turkish postal service started earlier than the one in Persia.

Consular mail was sent from Constantinople via Trebizond already from at least early 1800 to Persia by private arrangements and later by the Turkish post and/or foreign agents up to the border at Bayazid. Tatars would arrive from Tabriz (Persia) via Khoi with mail bags, and return with mail bags. This included consular mail from Turkey, France, etc. Parcels sent by the trading companies had their own private arrangements with the Tatars.

During my research I happened to come across a few times mentions that postal treaties between the two empires had been discussed during the 19th century. For example when Gustav Riederer,³ the Austrian postal administrator arrived in Teheran in 1875 to reorganise the medieval type of postal services to a modern system, based on European principles, he realised that international postal services had to be introduced at the soonest to avoid the expensive and limited services given by the Russian consular postal services at Tabriz functioning since the 1860s on a route via Tiflis to Trebizond, Constantinople, and Odessa. It was quite expensive and serviced only certain traders and important and privileged subjects favoured by Russia.

An article in a Georgian newspaper writes in 1873:⁴

After the Poti–Tiflis Railway opened, courier traffic from Tavriz to Erzerum and Trebizond almost completely ceased and the field was left to Russian postal agents. Take the Russian consul in Tavriz, for example. The merchants entrust their letters and gold to the consulate and the consul sends them to Dzhulfa where they enter the Russian postal system. Until last year, merchants had to pay 3 krans (90 kopecks) per lot to send a letter, and 1 kran (30 kopecks) upon receipt of a letter. Now they pay 45 kopecks per lot to send a letter and 30 kopecks to receive one. It costs 15 kopecks to receive one issue of a newspaper – a terrible price.

But obstacles developed when a war between Turkey and Russia took place between 1878 and 1880 which hampered the development of postal services and a postal treaty between Turkey and Persia. Not until a peace agreement had been concluded with the new borders worked out, could a postal treaty be discussed again. International postal services for Persia in particular had suffered.

Fig. 1:

After the Turko-Russian War of 1877/78, the regions of Adjara (incl. Batum), Ardahan, and Kars were occupied by Russia. The peace treaty of San Stefano (2, in blue) was revised by the Conference of Berlin: Adjara and Kars remained with Russia, only a small band of land (Bayezid, Kirkelisse, Horasan) was returned to Turkey (3, in red). The green line represents the position of the peace treaty of Adrianople, 1829.⁵

Rate: Stamps are missing (but 2 piastres was the normal rate). The normal handling was in closed bags, as there are only five covers recorded (all from 1884–86) which can be attributed to the 1884 treaty as they all have a transit cancel of Bayazid. None of the covers have complete franking as all but one stamp have been torn off. All are in the direction of Persia.

It should be realised how rare proven mail via Bayazid from both before and after the 1884 and also the 1892 Treaty is. Most mail would pass in closed bags but even so there is a limited amount to Erzerum or the postal hub of Trebizond or vice versa to Khoy or Tabriz. From early 1870 most mail would be sent via the "Russian route", i.e. via Batum and Tiflis.

The mentioning of having a treaty discussed between Turkey and Persia however led me to search when it was finally concluded. A really interesting find of some postal covers in Iran in 2018 led me on the right track.

A correspondence of five covers from Turkey addressed to Tabriz in 1884 and 1885 featuring a transit mark of Bayazid came to light.⁶ All covers had the stamps torn off on all the five covers except on one where one of the two Turkish stamps was left intact while the other had also been torn off. I was exalted since this was only the second time in 40 years of collecting that I came across other items than some waybills, related to Bayazid. That was in March 1978 when I, as a novice as collector only for a month or so and living in Teheran then, bought a bundle of Persian internal-design types of waybills of a strange non-UPU design which evidently had come out clandestinely onto the market from the Persian postal administration.

As we know, normally parcel documents would be retained by the postal authorities. Such a small problem was, however, often solved in a friendly manner in Persia to the collectors' and dealers' delight! Anyhow, in that bundle of about 20 to 30 different waybills used in about 1911, there were 3 or 4 waybills with a blue oval type of Persian cancel that stated "BAYAZID" as receiving mark. I paid no intention to this bundle – my knowledge was minimal – with its rusted staples which I, together with some other philatelic stuff brought back to Sweden about 8 months later, just before the fall of the Shah regime. In Teheran at that time the overall knowledge of postal cancellations or anything related to postal history was rather limited to say the least. It was a virgin market in all sense. My own knowledge was – as stated – practically zero!

The years passed and not until about 2005 could we, collectors of Persian postal history including some knowledgeable Iranians, find out – what nobody then could believe – that Persia operated an Exchange Post Office in Turkey, in a foreign country. Ça n'est pas possible! Mon Dieu!

Back to recent times! I inquired at some Turkish well-known philatelists and I was informed that at least in the philatelic literature there is little of such treaty described!⁷ Tanrıku, 1984, reports the 1892 treaty in full and the 1905 amendment (this came only to light during my research this year). Turgut briefly refers to the 1892 treaty:

The postal relationship with Iran was always regulated by bilateral agreements. The agreement signed on 8 September 1890 (27 Ağustos 1306) introduced the practice of postage charges for transport up to a border location being paid at domestic national rates, and the remainder being paid by the recipient. Ottoman postal bags, accepting any kind of mail, would be handed over to Iranian Post tatars (messengers) at Bayezid and Hanekin. However there is evidence that this practice also existed in previous years.

However, neither Tanrıku or Turgut mention the 1884 treaty.

After Googling a lot and going through my archive of documentation that I had collected about 15 years ago after several visits to the Indian National Archives in New Delhi and Bombay, I stumbled upon a file, two pages, of the treaty of 1884, a copy of the printed treaty (see figs. 6–6a below). The copy had been given to the British Embassy that forwarded it to Whitehall in London. What a surprise and an interesting one indeed.⁸

6 Another interesting cover from Tabriz was said to be sent to Turkey as it had Turkish stamps. However, it turned out to be a manipulated cover originally sent from Turkey to Tabriz!

7 Turgut, 2018, on p. 505. Turgut mentions the 1905 amendment on p. 649.

8 The 1884 treaty only referred to the (new) Bayazid route, while the 1892 treaty specifically included also the Khanakin route. The former does not mention parcels (it does however mention groups).

Figs. 6–6a: The 1884 treaty – in its original French version – as found in the Indian National Archives (New Delhi and Bombay).

What is amazing is the fact that the bunch of stapled Persian waybills (barnameh) in yellow or blue colours:⁹ the 20–25 waybills contained only 4 or 5 from Bayazid. These represent Turkish parcels which were sent to Bayazid and their reload and re-documentation to Persian official waybills. In spite of the fact that more than 45 years have passed, only a very few more such waybills related to Bayazid have appeared.

Of great importance is the 1892 treaty as it includes the Mesopotamian route: Baghdad–Khanekin–Kermanshah–Teheran. It was a very important route for the traders not least. But here also there are very few letters that have been cancelled in Khanekin and Kermanshah. And of waybills there are only two known! This inspired me further. How could I locate the official original treaties of both 1884 and 1892? I had to find a suitable contact in Turkey. By Googling I eventually came across an interesting article written by Dr. Mehmet Cetin.¹⁰ His search in the Turkish National Archives was successful and handwritten copies of the 1884 treaty and the Implementation Regulations of the 1892 treaty were unearthed.

9 A variety of colours are used for the printing of Persian parcel documents, like blue, yellow, white, violet, orange, green etc. of which some are very rarely seen. However, the earliest of this type so far recorded seems to be from 1910 and for what purpose these different colours stand for is hitherto unknown!

All the barnamehs recorded, 5 via Bayazid and 2 via Kasre Shirin were all from 1910, i. e. used after the 1905 Amendment. It could be that only those after the Amendment looks similar to the parcel documents sent from the border exchange offices of Russia as per 1904 treaty. Maybe any earlier (but not yet discovered) parcel document via Bayazid as per 1892 Treaty looks different!

The Persian office was only able to exchange postal bags and parcels and had no other postal services as its office was in a foreign country. The few letters and parcels cancelled with transiting Khanekin (Khaneguine) proves that almost all mail was transiting in closed bags.

One (reverse) of three recorded Persian letters bearing the strike of Khaneguine (plus two waybills from 1910)

Waybill from the Bayazid Exchange Post Office.

This parcel was sent from Constantinople through the Ottoman postal service addressed – a must – to an agent at Bayazid. After the agent had fulfilled all requirements he organised the forwarding of the parcel to the city of Senneh (Kurdistan) arriving there on 27.02.1910 via Tabriz 3.02.1910 and Kazvin 13.02.1910.

Rate: 7 kr 10 ch. (original research).

There are a total of 8 waybills known related to both Bayazid (6) and Khanekin (2); all are from 1910/11 and follow the pattern of the 1902 special UPU Parcel Treaty between Persia and Russia.

The 1904 UPU Parcel Treaty allowed Persia to handle incoming parcels in a manner that was not normally used in other countries: Parcel documents from abroad had to be addressed to any of the officially appointed agents at the border points. The agent would first clear the parcel with the custom formalities for his Persian client by paying the duties. Thereafter the agent would arrange with the Persian postal authorities to send it to the addressee. New Persian parcel documents were then needed. All parcels had to be insured within Persia.

This waybill (barnameh) was sent from Kermanshah 30.07.1910 (1328 AH) to Baghdad, via Kasre Shirin (Ghasre-Chirine) 01.08.1910 to the Persian Exchange PO at Khanekin (Khaneguine) arriving on 5.08.1910 to be forwarded to H. Jehuda in Baghdad. On the document is stated in Persian manuscript: "the contents should not be charged any customs fee". Signed by the Director of the Customs.

The four postal stationery envelopes from Persia end of 1800s (figs. 14 to 17) are either sent via the Turkish route, i.e. via Bayazid as per manuscript in violet hand-stamp on the top left of the envelope or via Tiflis, or via Vienna, etc., i.e. the Russian route, as per manuscript on the top. However, of those postal stationery envelopes that have been seen (less than ten) almost all have been sent by the same sender, and even those envelopes which have "via Bayazid" as per manuscript routing instruction turn out (with one or two exceptions) to have a Russian Tiflis postmark on reverse! This proves that whatever is written in manuscript regarding the route on any mail from Persia can't be taken for granted. Only the transit postmarks can tell.

There's no proof that the cover took the route "via Bayazid" or "via Tiflis".

Route: Tabriz 12.04.1896 to Istanbul: "GALATA / ARRIVÉ / 23 / AVRIL / 1896". There's no proof that the cover took the route "via Bayazid" or "via Tiflis".

About the turn of the century there are a small number of mostly registered 8 ch, 16ch, or 1 kr Persian postal stationery envelopes (issue of 1895/6) with adhesives torn off, addressed to Constantinople. All received an arrival mark but only occasionally transit marks, then always "Tifliz", never "Bayazid"!

They have all gone through the post but those requested to be sent "VIA BAYAZID" can hardly be proven, unless there are no Bayazid transit marks or other proofs. Of about 10 items with manuscript "via Bayazid" are known with a Bayazid transit mark. On the contrary some had the Russian Tiflis mark!

Conclusion: If sent via Bayazid, it was in a 'closed bag' to Constantinople.

Less than 10 covers can be directly attributed to Bayazid and 5 covers to Khanekin.

Long ago I introduced the idea that regular parcel post service must have existed since there were both the Bayazid waybills and also reference in the official letter of 1906 of the Belgian postmaster in Persia about changes to the limits of weight and size for parcels between the two empires. Thanks to the little info from Persian official chronicles Tobias had the ability to locate the actual 1905 amendment to the 1892 treaty.

In the meantime I was eagerly searching for info related to the Bayazid postal route to Persia, when it started and about its competitor, the Russian “via Poti/Batum and Tiflis to Tabriz”. I was in contact with Tobias who was of great help with his astounding knowledge of Turkish-related postal history among others. Tobias has now kindly made available his translations of these treaties of 1884, 1892, and the 1905 amendment to the 1892 treaty, the latter two he was able to locate.¹⁴

We know from trade reports that the Ottoman government neglected the road to Bayazid and to the border of Persia. The merchants complained and as a result more and more it was Russia that took over the caravan trade after the inauguration of train service from the Black Sea to Tiflis and its extension later to Baku in about 1884.¹⁵ That service was very well maintained, and it is probably accurate to state that the Turkish “via Bayazid” route could never retain its importance or keep up with the Russian service. Before World War I the route closed completely.

Dr. Mehmet Çetin writes on the decline of the general trade route:¹⁶

The main issues affecting the Iranian transit trade through the Trebizond–Erzeroum route in the 1890s were ongoing transportation problems, periodical epidemic problems and political instabilities. Although the share of the Ottoman route in the transit trade varied from time to time, high transportation costs, the cholera diseases that reached Trebizond through Bengal, Afghanistan or Balochistan and Russia or Iran, strict quarantine measures implemented due to this disease and even the interruption of the repair of Trebizond–Erzeroum road due to cholera had adversely affected the land and sea transportation, and ultimately the trade of Iran. The restrictions caused by the quarantine measures disappeared towards the mid-1890s, but there occurred a general distrust in the trade routes between Erzeroum and Van due to looting of some caravans. [...] As a result, while the Trebizond–Tabriz route, which reached the highest level in terms of the volume of the transit trade, constituted approximately 40% of Iran’s total trade in the middle of the 19th century, it fell below 10% by 1900, and continued to exist without any leap until the WWI.

Acknowledgements

Finally, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to both Dr. Mehmet Çetin as well as Tobias Zywiets, both have played a very important role in overcoming the obstacles of finding and translating the originals of both the written and the printed versions of the two Treaties of 1884 and 1892, as well as the 1905 Amendment concerning parcel post. Without their efforts in solving the matter it is anybody’s guess when this matter might finally have been solved to the enjoyment of the philatelic world! Thus, these are results, in short, about the first postal treaties between the Ottoman Empire and Turkey and Persia, in the late 19th century:

- the discovery – in the philatelic world, at least – of the 1884 Postal Treaty;
- the discovery of the 1892 Postal Treaty which has hardly been mentioned before;
- finally, the discovery of the 1905 Amendment to the 1892 Postal Treaty, which deals with parcel post and location of the exchange post offices.

New Postmark Discoveries from the Cisir-i Mustafa Paşa– Dersa ‘adet (Svilengrad–İstanbul) Railway

by Willy Pijnenburg¹

Copyright © 2021

The town of Svilengrad, about 40 km west of Edirne (then Adrianople), before it became Bulgarian in 1912 was called Mustafa Paşa, Moustafa-Pacha, Moustapha Pacha, Mustafapaşa, Djisri-Moustapha-Pacha in Ottoman times, as well as Cisir-i Mustafa Paşa because of its old bridge.²

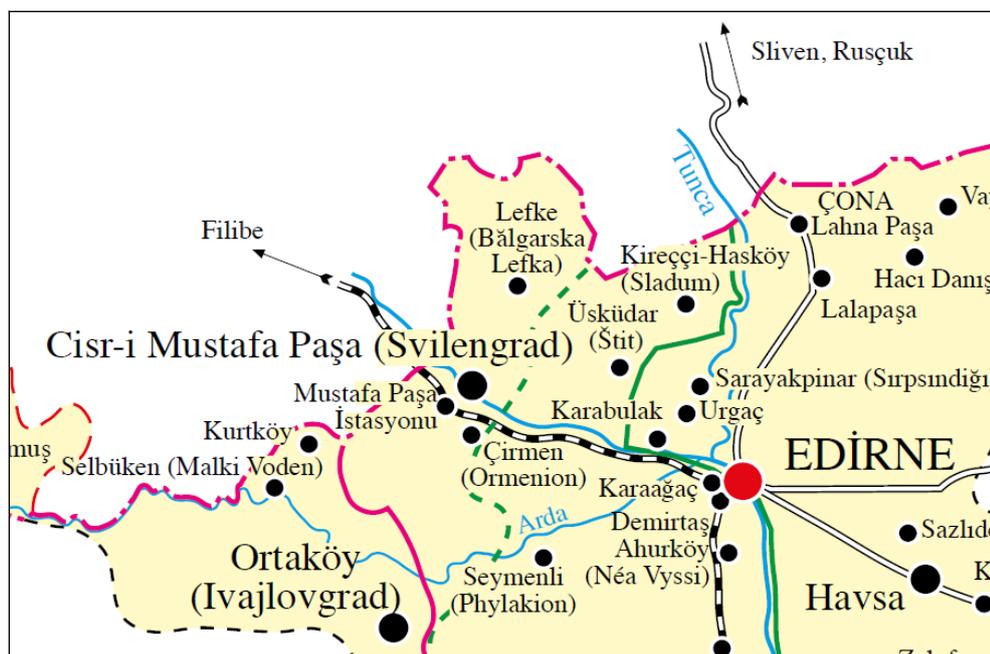

Fig. A1:
Detail from the map of Edirne Sandjak
by Dr. Birken.³

There is different information about the number of postmarks associated with this town, ranging from 30 to 35. These can be apportioned into three groups:

1. Simply Moustafa Pacha for the post office in the town
2. Referring to a railway station built by the Compagnie des Chemins de Fer Orientaux on the Vienna–İstanbul line in 1874:⁴ Moustafa Pacha (Gare) or Mustafa Paşa İstasyonu. Apparently, a post office was opened in the station some time after the opening of the railway line, however postmarks from the years 1874–1880 are not known.
3. Djisir-i Moustafa Pacha-Constantinople, Cons/ple and the like (Turkish: Mustafapaşa-Dersa ‘adet Seyyar Merkezi), belonging to a travelling post office (TPO, bureau ambulante) put into service on the route to Constantinople. The oldest postmarks date from the 1890s.

In the relevant postmark catalogues, the cancels are usually listed under the letter C. Only A&P thought it right to list the postmarks of Moustafa Pacha under the letter M, but those featuring “Cisir-i” under the letter C. Each to their own... they must have had their reasons.

The Railway Postmarks

But in this article we are only interested in the railway postmarks. A new finding prompted me to take a closer look at these. The catalogues give different information, so I have tried to draw up a complete picture of all the postmarks on the basis of this data. The aim is to include postmarks that are (so far) not documented, but which must exist.

There are at least two ways to get a complete picture. Both are obvious:

- if there are numbers 1, 2 and 4 found in cancels, there should also exist a 3.
- if there is a certain postmark for the direction up (outward), there must also be one for the direction down (return). For clarity, I call the route Moustafa Pacha–İstanbul the outward route, İstanbul–Moustafa Pacha the return route.

According to Birken,⁵ there are 15 cancels in the direction to Istanbul and 18 in the return direction. At first glance, this is a little strange, as one would expect the same number of postmarks to have been in use in both directions. There are four types for both directions:

1. a double-circle postmark with date (type A),
2. a negative double-circle postmark (type B), and
3. a single-circle postmark with date-bridge and French text at the bottom or top (type C).
4. a fourth type will be introduced at the end of this article.

Type A

Type A (double-circle postmark) has the inscription “Mustafa Paşa–Dersa‘adet seyyar merkezi / BUR. AMB.MOUST.PACHA·CONSPLE.” Bayındır shows only one illustration (Bay 13, fig. 1), Ağaoğulları & Papuççuoğlu show four (A&P 501–504).

Distinguishing features are the letters “A” to “D” at the bottom centre of the inner circle. This feature was obviously overlooked by Bayındır, because it is omitted in his illustrations. Birken notes: “Possibly always with a letter”. He is probably right and this reduces the number of type A from five to four variants. The time of use given in the catalogues is 1892–1899/1900.

The same postmarks were used on the route from İstanbul, but now of course with the text: “Dersa‘adet – Mustafa Paşa seyyar merkezi” (Bay 167). The illustration shown by Bayındır, however, has the letters in the inner circle again omitted, and thus fails in this respect. On the other hand, A&P have another variant with the same text but without a line between “Dersa‘adet” and “Mustafa Paşa” (fig. 2).

So that makes four on the way out, but five back. I show one example of each, as all the others are the same, only the letter at the bottom centre of the inner circle changes (fig. 3).

Fig. 3.

Type B

Type B is a negative (intaglio) double-circle postmark with the Turkish transcription as above for type A, but the French text reads: “BUR.AMB.MOUSTAFA PACHA·CONSTANTINOPLÉ” (Bay 22, A&P 505). It should be noted here that Bayındır only registers the number VII (fig. 5), and A&P show the number IV (fig. 4).

It seems obvious that there must have been numbers I, II, III, and – at least – also V and VI. So there are two, but theoretically seven variants of this type. Birken notes: “Nos. I–VIII existing”. However, this remark is only found for the postmark VII (Bay 170, fig. 6) in the return direction. A&P give 1914 as the date of use, and no. IV is also only used on the outward journey.

Fig. 4.

Fig. 5.

Fig. 6.

Birken features two other negative postmarks, both for the return journey:

- one features the inscription “CONSTANTINOPLÉ·MOUSTAFA PACHA* BUREAUX *”, i.e. “BUREAUX” instead of “BUR.AMB” (Bay 169, fig. 7);
- the other supposedly reads “DERSAADET–MUSTAFA PAŞA SEYYAR MERKEZI IV”,⁶ so could be the counterpart to the outward smark IV. Birken adds here: “Seen on stamp of 1914”, the same year as the counterpart.

For the sake of clarity, I give here the complete series of used or possible type B postmarks:

| Postmark | Down/Outward | Up/Return |
|----------|------------------|------------------|
| B 1 | not known | not known |
| B 2 | not known | not known |
| B 3 | not known | not known |
| B 4 | Fig. 4 | reported |
| B 5 | not known | not known |
| B 6 | not known | not known |
| B 7 | Fig. 5 | Fig. 6 |
| B 8 | not known | not known |
| B 9 | not known | Fig. 7 |

Fig. 7.

⁶ Birken only presents a placeholder.

Type C

Type C, a circular postmark with date-bridge and segments (arches) at the top and bottom, has a variant with text at the top: “Deraliye–Mustafa Paşa” and at the bottom: “BUR. AMBUL./CONS/PLE M. PACHA” (in two lines). The date on the postmark is “25 5 901” (A&P 502, fig. 8). The period of use of this cancel is stated as 1901–1912. There is still no known counterpart for the outward journey.

There is also a series of eight postmarks (Bay 14–21),⁷ with fairly uniform with Turkish text at the top “Mustafa Paşa–İstanbul”, and French text at the bottom: “MOUSTAFA·PACHA·STAMBOUL”. They are numbered 1 to 8, of these A&P show only nos. 1 and 4 (A&P 506–507).⁸ There are, of course, also eight postmarks for the return journey, i.e. “İstanbul–Mustafa Paşa” and “STAMBOUL·MOUSTAFA·PACHA” (1 to 8, Bay 330–337).⁹

The use of the last two types is, of course, a little questionable. A&P state that these were in use from 1914 to 1926, but even in 1914 the town had already been Bulgarian for two years. Apparently the cancels remained in use after the transfer of sovereignty, as the concession for the railway line still remained with the “Compagnie”. The railway’s operation was only transferred to Turkey, i.e. to Türkiye Cumhuriyeti Devlet Demiryollari (TCDD), on 1st January 1937 in the course of the ongoing railway nationalisation.

For the year 1914 and for several years afterwards one could image unsettled circumstances. One cover shown by A&P still has Ottoman stamps (MiNr. 234 of 1914, A&P 507), the other cover already has stamps of the Republic (MiNr. 850 of 1926, A&P 506).

Obviously the postmarks are very rare, because A&P rate them as “RR”. The matter remains a little complicated, as Bayındır notes these stamps with “PTT”, thus indicating that they are only known from the P.T.T. archives.

Nuhoğlu & Mert (N&M) give a period of use from 9th May 1914 to 26th February 1930. However, this can be understood from the Turkish vantage and apparently the Bulgarian authorities must have agreed to continue the operation with the same postmarks. It was obviously far more complicated: the railway line between Constantinople and Mustafa Paşa also passed through territories newly ceded to Greece.

I show one example each of type C for the outward and return journey, as they are all the same except for the numbers 1 to 8 (figs. 9 and 10):

Fig. 8.

Fig. 9.

Fig. 10.

This concludes the inventory based on already published information and catalogues.

⁷ Bayındır sorts these under C (Cisr-i Mustafa Paşa): vol. 1, p. 252.

⁸ A&P sort these under M (Mustafa Paşa Mevkifi): vol. 7, pp. 143–144.

New Discoveries

In my collection I came across two previously unknown or undocumented specimens:

- the counterpart of C1: “BUR.AMBUL/ [...] PACHA CONS/PLE” on MiNr. 88A (1901) (fig. 11).
- a double-circle cancel, with the French text at the top: “* MOUSTAFA PACHA CO[...]”, (remainder of the inscription missing). I read the date as “2 JUIN 1891”, but I am not sure of the year. I assign Type D for this cancel. The stamp is from 1890 (MiNr. 61A) and therefore gives a terminus post quem¹⁰ (fig. 12).

Fig. 11.

Fig. 12.

The number of railway postmarks to and from Mustafa Paşa must therefore be increased to 23 for the outward journey and, since there must exist their counterparts, there are now also 22 for the return journey (N.B.: Type A misses one counterpart).

Closing Remarks

So it turns out that there are 45 types in total:

- Type A: 9 (5 out and 4 back)
- Type B: 18 (9 out and 9 back)
- Type C: 16 (8 out and 8 back)
- Type D: 2 (1 out and 1 back)

Most of them are registered in Dr Birken's postmark catalogue, except for the (theoretical) four negative seals I–III and V–VI and the hypothetical no. VIII.

All illustrations (except figs. 10 and 11) are taken from the catalogues of Ağaoğulları & Papuçcuoğlu, Bayındır, and Birken.

An Interesting Prediction

by Folkert Bruining

Copyright © 2023

In the German philatelic magazine *TÜRKEI-SPIEGEL*¹ Willy Pijnenburg wrote an interesting article about the postmarks used by the ambulant post offices between Mustafa Pacha (now Svilengrad, Свиленград, in Bulgaria) and Constantinople in the period until the First Balkan War (1912).

On the basis of a few logical premises he argued that the number of types of the TPO marks ever used should be larger than the number actually recorded. In my opinion this is not only the case for the TPO marks of Mustafa Pacha–İstanbul but also for the postmarks of TPOs on other lines in Ottoman Europe.² To support his hypothesis Willy showed a ‘predicted’ newly found type “BUR. AMBUL/ [...] PACHA CONS/”³ not mentioned in the literature before.

A second, and totally unexpected surprise in the article was a really new type of TPO mark that was shown, “a double-circle cancel, with the French text at the top: “* MOUSTAFA PACHA CO[...]”, no further text, date 2 JUIN 1891. He introduced type D for this postmark, in the nomenclature of Coles & Walker this is type CF, in use (roughly) in the period 1877–1895. The usage of this very type on other lines in Ottoman Europe is unknown to me.

According to Willy’s ‘theory’ there should be also a pendant of this postmark for the direction from İstanbul to Mustafa Pacha. Again he was right – see what was found a short time ago:

AMBULANT” (according to Coles & Walker: type CF).

- 2 According to the “Nomenclature” of 1903 there were 5 more railway connections with TPOs, using marks with inscriptions given below (twice, i.e. in each direction), each inscription in different types (see MEPB 23): Salonica–Zubeftche (via Üsküb); Üsküb–Mitrovitza; Salonica–Monastir; Salonica–Dédé Agatch; Salonica–Constantinople/Stamboul (via Dédé Agatch and Kouléli-Bourgas); Dédé Agatch–Andrinople/Edirne (via Kouléli-Bourgas); Constantinople–Andrinople/Edirne (via Kouléli-Bourgas).
The TPO mark Demotica–Demir Tache (station of Andrinople/Edirne) is from 1914.
- 3 “BUR. AMBUL. / M. PACHA-CONS/PLE”, type C3 according to Coles & Walker.

Fig. 1: Stationery postcard sent from Constantinople to Baden in Austria, 21.05.1889, with TPO mark "CONS/PLE-MUSTAFA-PACHA / AMBULANT".

Encouraged by the findings shown above it is a worthwhile effort to browse through your collection for new TPO marks of Mustafa Pacha–Istanbul and vice versa. And, of course, those of other lines. A lot is still to be discovered and described.

Railway Mail Service in Ottoman Europe (IV) Some Interesting Additions

by Atadan Tunacı and Folkert Bruining

Copyright © 2023

In MEPB 22 to 24¹ we wrote about Railway Mail Services in Ottoman Europe. In MEPB 22 we described marks used by the railway companies. This description is far from complete: the estimation is that a few hundred marks were in use.

It is very likely that all the stations of the C.O., C.O.S.M. or J.S.C. had their own station marks. Sometimes a station used more than one type (rectangular, circular, bar, with/without additional text, irregular). Besides the administrative use of the marks by the companies, they are:

- frequently seen on bills of lading i.e. ‘lettres de voiture.’
- as a canceller on documents with fiscal/revenue stamps and on loose fiscal/revenue stamps;
- on unfranked covers, as a rule for internal communication between staff members of C.O. stations;²
- on stamped covers and (stationery) postcards and on loose postage stamps;
- on telegrammes.

The expectation is justified that more will be found the coming time, as we already stated before. In this article some additional marks.

Western Thrace

In Western Thrace the C.O. Railway runs from Edirne (Andrinople/Adrianople) to Dédé Agatch. Although Dédé Agatch is described already, a new subtype of the rectangular type is found.

Dédé Agatch C.O. and Kouléli-Bourgas C.O.

Besides the ‘general’ type, the C.O. (and C.O.S.M) used ‘special’ marks for several purposes. We have seen this already for Salonica (“BUREAU MARCHANDISES”),³ Sarambey (“TRANSIT”)⁴ or Constantinople (“BUREAU MARCHANDISES”, see below in fig. 10).

Newly found is the mark “BUREAU MARCHANDISES / DÉDÉAGHADJE / C.O.” (fig. 3). A ‘general’ rectangular type for Dédé Agatch has still to be discovered.

2 Hitzler, 2007, states: “The ‘CO’ used own Marks for mail purposes. These marks are mostly used for internal company services as correspondence between two stations of the ‘CO’” („Die ‘CO’ verwendete eigene Stempel zur Bearbeitung von Post. Diese Stempel wurden meist als Innendienststempel für die Korrespondenz zwischen 2 Bahnhöfen der CO verwendet.“).

Yet to be Discovered

Supposing the existence of any C.O. station mark, not yet described so far are those of:

- Ourli
- Soufli
- Bidigli
- Kadikeui

The first three stations are situated between Dédé Agatch and Edirne, the last between Edirne and Mustafa Pacha.

About the J.S.C. stations between Salonica and Dédé Agatch a lot is unknown and information hard to find.

⁶ Curious is the spelling “DÉDÉAGHADJE”.

Eastern Thrace

The C.O. Railway in Eastern Thrace runs from Constantinople to Ouzoun Keupru. According to Cervati⁸ 19 railway stations were situated along the line. Newly found is the C.O. mark of Makri Keui.

Makri Keui C.O.

Reading Birken⁹ sometimes we come across something not noticed before.¹⁰ Where others,¹¹ except for Turgut,¹² did not list it, Birken mentions “Makriköy mevkifi” or “Makriköy istasyonu” in the sandjak of Stamboul, along the line from Constantinople-Sirkedji through Thrace to Edirne. He gives no illustrations or further information. It is not quite clear to us what his source was. But the question whether the mail, offered at the station, was handled by the C.O. at Makri Keui station can positively be answered. An example was found.

Figs. 2 and 2a: Local used stationery 20 paras postcard.

The card was posted in Galata, 22.09.1884 (postmark “GALATA / PTE LOCALE”), probably to Ortakeui (a village on the Bosphorus, north-east of Galata, in the vilayet of Constantinople, today a quarter in İstanbul) but could not be delivered. The postman wrote down “Ouzoun-Keupru” as a destination and sent the card to Yeni-Djami (in Stamboul), and from there the card was sent (perhaps via Sirkedji station) to Makri Keui (circular station mark “MAKRI KEUI / C.O.”) on 4.10.1884, and probably hence forwarded by rail to Ouzoun-Keupru.

Armenian-American philatelist Armen Hovsepian kindly deciphered the address: “The first word after the fancy printed M is: metsabadiv, meaning the honourable (mets = big, badiv=honour). The 2nd hand written line is the name of person: Martiros (middle name not clear) Miatashchian.

The 3rd line is the address: Mere dahdesi¹³ No. 100.

The last word sounds like Ortagia,¹⁴ which should be the region or area.”

10 Partly due to the fact that some post offices mentioned in Birken are not included in the index.

13 Most likely djadessi (caddesi) = street.

14 Most likely Orta Keui.

Eastern Rumelia

In Eastern Rumelia the C.O. company was in operation until 1908.¹⁶ The main line ran from Edirne (Andrinople/Adrianople) over Mustafa Pacha to Bellova. From Tirnovo (Tirnova Seymenli) a branch line ran to Yamboli over Nova Zagora (Jeni Zagra/Yeni Zagra, 'new' Zagra).

Tirnovo Seymenli C.O.

One of the 'unknown' post offices we mentioned before¹⁷ is that of Tirnova Seymenli (Търново-Сейменъ, Turnovo Seymen, Tirnovo) in the Vilayet of Rumeli-i-Şarki, sandjak of Hassköy.¹⁸ It is situated along the railway from Edirne to Bellova¹⁹ and is a junction station for the railway connection from Tirnovo to Yamboli and Bourgas.

C.O. cancellations of Eastern Roumelia described by Thomas Hitzler are:²¹

- Sarambey (Sarambej)
- Tatar Pazardjik
- Tirново

Hitzler made some remarks about the station of Tirново. He quotes (with a question mark) Yakup Nakri who states that no C.O. station in Tirново is known. Further Hitzler states that only in 1909 a Bulgarian post office was established at the railway station.

The authors think there was a C.O. station, but it is very likely that in the Ottoman time (or even until 1908) there was no post office at the station. So we conclude cautiously that before 1908 mail offered at the station was handled by the C.O.

The Palekura Opium Plantation How Philately Educates

by Otto Graf (AIJP)

Copyright © 2023

After almost four years living in North Macedonia, I thought I knew the country reasonably well. But when this beautiful cover came into my collection, I had to do some research and was amazed at the interesting story that came to light.

The item is a railway mail cover from the Ottoman-Turkish postal service, which was delivered directly to the train at Gradsko station and then sent to Ludwigshafen am Rhein, Germany. The cover is correctly franked with 1 Piastre (Guruş) and bears the railway postmark “BUR. AMB. SALONIQUE ZIBEFTECH”. Unfortunately and unusually, in this strike the cliché for the year was not inserted in the canceller (which is usually the case) so we can only read “15 JAN”.

Fig. 1: Letter from J. Zeisset, Palekura, to the chemical factory Knoll & Co. in Ludwigshafen.

The recipient is “Chemische Fabrik Knoll & Co.” (chemical factory Knoll & Co.). Georg Wilhelm Albert Knoll (1858–1952) was a German chemist and entrepreneur. After completing his studies, he joined Wink & Co. in England in 1885, where in 1886 he invented a process for converting morphine into codeine by means of methylation. The cough-suppressing effect of codeine had been discovered around 1875, but it was only due to his new process that codeine could be produced more economically. This made cough syrup an affordable medicine.

Knoll returned to Germany in 1886 and joined Max Daege's small company, which Daege had taken over in Ludwigshafen am Rhein. There Knoll successfully produced morphine derivatives on a technical scale and patented the manufacturing processes for codeine and ethylmorphine in August 1886. On 23rd October 1886, Knoll founded the "Chemische Fabrik Knoll & Compagnie" together with his brother Hans Knoll and his brother-in-law Max Daege.

The sender of the letter is "Jakob Zeisset–Palekura, Station Gradsko, europ. Türkei" (Jakob Zeisset, Palekura, Gradsko station, European Turkey). Jakob Zeisset (born 1861 in Baden) was a Mennonite who emigrated to Turkey in 1885 and ran a 20 km² estate in what is now North Macedonia near Gradsko in the neighbourhood of Kavadarci. He grew wheat, maize, oats, rye, millet, potatoes, tobacco, rice, and sesame. He also kept cattle and supplied milk and butter to the vilayet capitals of Üsküb (Skopje) and Selanik (Thessaloniki), which could be reached by railway. He also traded in agricultural machinery.

Fig. 2: The letter was delivered directly to the railway post office: "BUR. AMB. SALONIQUE-ZIBEFTCHE / ۲ / JAN / 15".

However, the most interesting product was probably opium, which he cultivated on several hundred acres of land with several hundred workers and exported it all over the world. In this respect, a business contact with Knoll & Co. in Ludwigshafen, who had developed the new process for transforming opium, is obvious. The estate was destroyed and dissolved during the Balkan Wars and especially during the First World War.

Today the place is called Palikura (Паликура). Agricultural products, especially peaches, are sold in summer along the road in nearby Rosoman. And there is a modern cannabis plant. The tradition of cultivating medicinal plants has thus been preserved.

 Čiftlik = چفلك = country estate. The railway station is called “Viničani-Gradsko”.

The Oriental Travels of Julius Bolthausen – Part 4: Bisecting Austrian Levant Stamps in Caifa 1908

by Tobias Zywietz

Copyright © 2023

In the very first issue of MEPB¹ I presented the artistic picture postcards with motifs by German landscape painters Friedrich Perlberg and Carl Wuttke, which the Solingen travel agent Julius Bolthausen distributed. I had come across them in his travel brochure “Programm der Orientfahrten 1909.” The real reason why I bought the booklet at that time can be found on page 32: the illustration of a cover with a multitude of stamps of the Ottoman and foreign post offices in Jerusalem (fig. 2).

On his travels Bolthausen produced such covers regularly as souvenirs. In postal towns visited by his travel groups, one or more stamps were added and cancelled at the various post offices. There are therefore covers with all the stamps and postmarks from one place, and so-called ‘stage covers’ with stamps and postmarks from several places.

At once an old article I read years ago came to mind: in issue 54 of THE ISRAEL PHILATELIST (1976), such covers were presented by Anton Steichele and Hartwig Danesch. The article was not about Bolthausen but Austrian stamps bisected in Haifa (then Caifa) in the spring of 1908.

All reports on this matter can ultimately be traced back to two notices in a philatelic journal from 1908: DER DEUTSCHE PHILATELIST published the first notice in its May issue under the heading "Neues vom Postschalter" (News from the Post Office Counter), the second followed in the November issue under "Allerlei Nachrichten" (Miscellaneous News) (figs. 3 and 4).

However, Steichele does not quote from these original reports in 1976, but (to a large extent) from a section in Paul P. Lindenberg's Palestine series published in 1925 and 1926 in DIE POSTMARKE (Vienna). This was published as a special reprint booklet 1926. Practically all subsequent reports are based on this series. Shown are copies of "Couvert № 1" and "Couvert № 2." contributed by Danesch (fig. 2).

Fig. 2:

In 1976 Steichele and Danesch show a "Couvert № 1" with a bisected 10 centimes stamp cancelled "1.III.08" and a "Couvert № 2" with a bisected 20 paras stamp cancelled "11.IV.08".

Nr. 5, 1908 DER DEUTSCHE PHILATELIST 55

Neues vom Postschalter.

Argentinien 08 — 45. Nach einer uns von Herrn A. Hertwig-Buenos Aires eingesandten Uebersetzung der amtlichen Bekanntmachung des „General-Direktors der Posten und Telegraphen“ erscheinen je nach Fertigstellung durch die Münze weitere 17 Werte der neuen in voriger Nummer mit 2 Werten gemeldeten neuen Ausgabe. Ferner erscheinen Kartenbriefe zu 5 und Briefumschläge zu 15 c. Die einzelnen Werte sollen aber nur nach Aufbrauch der seitherigen Ausgabe benutzt werden.

Freimarken: 1/2 centavo hellviolett, 1/2 centavo silberblau, 2 centavo violettbraun, 3 orange, 4 hellblauviolett, 5 rot, 6 gelbgrün, 10 blaugrün, 12 gelb, 15 hellgrün, 20 himmelblau, 24 violettbraun, 30 weinrot, 40 schwarz, 1 Peso rosa, Untergrund türkisblau, 2 Pesos grün, 5 himmelblau, 5 hellbraun, 5 hellblauviolett, 10 blaui violett, 10 rot, 20 himmelblau, schwarz.

Briefumschlag: 15 centavos hellgrün, Kartenbrief: 5 centavos rot.

Brunei 07 — 20. Die hier seither verausgabten Marken mit dem Landschaftsbild in zweifarbigen Druck haben zum Teil eine Aenderung erfahren. So erscheinen nach „E. W. S. N.“ die Werte 1, 3 und 5 c. in anderen Farben.

Freimarken: 1 c. grün, 3 c. rot, 5 c. gelb u. schwarz.

Canada 08 — 47. Vermittels Zeitungsausschnittes macht uns Herr Meier-Montreal darauf aufmerksam, dass die Gedenkmarken zur Dreihundertjahrfeier von Quebec in den beiden amtlichen Sprachen des Landes, nämlich in Englisch und Französisch, erscheinen sollen.

Gibraltar 08 — 45. Herr Feltmann legt uns die 20 Shilling-Marke mit mehrfachem Wasserzeichen als neu erschienen vor, die in manchen Katalogen schon „im voraus“ aufgenommen sind. Das Bild der Marke ist unverändert.

Freimarken: 1 1/2 lila u. schwarz auf wz, Kreidep., mehrfarbiges wz.

Kreta (Oesterreichische Post) 07 — 114. Wie uns Herr Ledermann-Wien mitteilt, sind für Kreta eigene neue Marken in Vorbereitung. Es soll also von der wenig schönen Aufdruckerei abgesehen werden, was wir mit Freuden begrüssen.

Levante, Oesterreichische Post, 07 — 114. Nach einer uns von Herrn Bollengraben-Solingen gemachten Vorlage erschienen in Caifa in Syrien 2 Aushilfsmarken zu 10 paras bzw. 5 centimes, indem der Postmeister die 20-pa.- bzw. 10-c-

Marke in der Mitte senkrecht durchschneidet und die halben Marken zum halben Nennwert verbraucht.

Uns liegt ein Briefstück mit 10 pa. + halber 20 pa. vor (Kohl. Nr. 48 und 49), bestempelt „CAIFA — 11. IV. 08 — Oesterr. Post — b“ und ein solches mit einer halben 10-centimes-Marke (Kohl. Nr. 9, Kreta?) vor; letzteres trägt ausser dem Stempel „Caifa — 1. III. 08.“ Oesterreichische Post — a“ noch den Stempelabdruck „Jerusalem — 5. 3. 08 — Deutsche Post“. Eine amtliche Darstellung „des Hergangs bei Schaffung dieser 2 Notausgaben ist uns in Aussicht gestellt. Bis jetzt haben wir recht wenig Vertrauen in die Sache, denn zu 1: die 10-para-Marke beweist, dass solche vorhanden und halbe 20er nicht nötig waren und zu 2: wie kommen Kreta-Marken nach Syrien?

Levante, Oesterreichische Post. Was wir vorstehend von Kreta berichtet, trifft nach Meldung derselben Quelle auch hier zu.

Nicaragua 08 — 46. Aushilfsmarken in jeder Meldung! Herr Landahl legt uns 6 neue Aufdruckmarken vor, wovon 5 in den 10-c.-Wert und eine zu 35 c. umgewandelt sind. Benutzt sind von der laufenden Ausgabe sowohl der Londoner wie Neuyorker Druck.

Aushilfsfreimarken: 10 c. schwarz auf 2 c. karminrot, Neuyorker Druck), 3 c. violett (Aufdruck von unten nach oben, Neuyorker Druck), 10 c. schwarz auf 4 c. braunorange (Aufdruck von unten nach oben, Londoner Druck), 10 c. schwarz auf 20 c. weinrot, 10 c. blau auf 10 c. gelborange (Aufdruck von oben nach unten, Londoner Druck), 35 c. blau auf 6 c. schwarz (Aufdruck von unten nach oben, Neuyorker Druck).

Oesterreich 08 — 46. Die Seite 38 gemeldeten Zeitungsmarken, deren Bild wir heute nachtragen, lagen uns inzwischen erzählt vor. Nach eingezogenen Erkundigungen teilt uns Herr Ledermann-Wien mit, dass diese Marken nur im ganzen Bogen und ungezähnt amtlich ausgegeben werden. Da die Abnehmer dieser Marken die Zeitungsdrukereien sind, so ist es leicht erklärlich, dass diese die Marken zum bequemen Verbrauch selbst mit Zähnung versehen, zumal wohl jede derartige Druckerei gewiss mit einer „Perforier-Maschine“ ausgestattet sein wird.

Paraguay 08 — 46. Auch Paraguay macht in jeder Nummer mit Aushilfsmarken von sich reden. Die Neuheiten-Kaufstelle des Germania-Ringes legt uns vier verschiedene 5-c.-Marken vor, die durch Aufdruck von „Habilitado“ bzw. „Habilitado en 5 centavos“ in 4 Zeilen hergestellt sind. Benutzt sind Dienstmarken; bei der ersten hier aufgezählten Marke ist das Wort „Oficial“ durch einen Strich ungültig gemacht, bei den übrigen gehen 3 Striche auch durch die alte Wertangabe. Der Aufdruck ist schwarz.

Catálogo Gálvez de la Sellos de Correos y Telegrafos 1908/09; 6 Allgemeine Ausgabe und 11. von Spanien. Preis 3 pesetas (Postgeld 70 centimos).

Der uns vorliegende spanische „Standard“-Katalog ist in einer Stärke von etwa 900 Seiten erschienen und lehnt sich in der Anordnung an die bekannten Kataloge an. Das Buch ist dank des verwendeten dünnen Papiers recht handlich, doch stören die durchscheinenden Abbildungen die Leslichkeit. Auch die oft recht schlecht ausgedruckten Abbildungen wirken störend und gereichen dem Buch nicht, wie beabsichtigt, zur Zierde. Besonders ausführlich ist natürlich Spanien behandelt, worauf Spezialsammler dieses Landes besonders hingewiesen seien. Ebenso eingehend sind die Philippinen (14 Seiten), Cuba (10 Seiten), „Porto Rico“ (7 Seiten) Fernando Poo (7 Seiten) aufgezählt, aber auch die neueren kleinen, bei uns weniger beliebten Kolonien wie „Rio de Oro, Elobey usw. sind „genauestens“ wiedergegeben.

Die Preise erscheinen in Anbetracht des niedrigen Kursstandes der spanischen Währung wohl billig, doch ist uns nicht bekannt, welche Anforderungen man in Spanien im allgemeinen an die Erhaltung stellt.

Niederländischer Philatelisten-Bund. Am 26. Juni d. J. fand auf einer Zusammenkunft der vier bedeutendsten holländischen Philatelisten-Vereine die Gründung eines nationalen Philatelisten-Bundes statt. Die in „Gravenhage“ abgehaltene Versammlung stand unter der Leitung des Herrn P. J. van Harderwijk als Schiedsman; zum Bundesvorsitzenden wurde der Hauptmann C. Wafelbakker gewählt. Der Bundesbeitrag beträgt 20 cents fürs Jahr und Mitglied.

Die vor zwei Jahren von Deutschland aus erfolgte Anregung (war's nicht Herr Oth in Düsseldorf?) fiel schliesslich doch auf günstigen Boden und der Welt-Zusammenschluss ist um einen Schritt vorwärts gekommen.

Frankreich 1903 25 c. blau wurde uns von Herrn F. W. Ziegler in Grohn-Vegesack mit einem interessanten Plattenfehler vorgelegt. In dem Worte „REPUBLIQUE“ ist aus dem sonst immer sehr deutlichen ersten „U“ durch irgend einen Zufall oder Versehen ein ebenso deutliches „O“ geworden, so dass diese Marke die Inschrift „REPOLLIQUE“ trägt.

Vereinsgründung in Chemnitz. Wir erhalten soeben die erfreuliche Nachricht, dass sich in Chemnitz ein neuer Verein mit bereits 20 Mitgliedern gebildet hat. Wenn auch Chemnitz bereits im Vereinswesen veritten ist, so beleuchtet diese Gründung doch gewiss einen erfreulichen Schritt vorwärts in der Ausbreitung Allerlei Nachrichten.

Levante, Oesterreichische Post. In unserer Nr. 5 berichteten wir über die aushilfsweise Verwendung von halben 20-paras- und 10-centimes-Marken zum halben Nennwert. Hierzu erhalten wir von einem Leser folgende Auskunft des Postbeamten in Caifa:

Ein plötzlicher unerwartet grosser Absatz hatte Ende Februar l. J. den Vorrat des oesterr. Postamtes in Caifa an 5-centimes-Marken erschöpft. Herr Jul. B. (Führer einer Reiseesellschaft. Die Schriftleitung), der damals hier eintraf, benötigte 500 Stück 5-centimes-Werte, und sah sich das Postamt veranlasst, 10-centimes-Marken zu halbieren und die dadurch entstehenden 5-centimes-Werte, die die kleinsten Werte und somit auf andere Weise nicht zu ersetzen sind, Herrn B. natürlich nur gegen sofortige Verwendung auszuliefern. Ausser diesen Herrn B., der unbedingt 5-centimes-Werte verlangte, ausgefolgten halbierten Marken gelangten sonst keine zur Ausgabe, da das Postamt sich mit der 10-paras-Marke behelfen konnte (nach dem Postkurse ungefähr 5 Proz. mehr, was ja bloss bei einer grösseren Quantität etwas ausmacht). Gerade so verhielt es sich mit der halbierten 20-paras-Marke. Herr B. und seine Reisegefährten brachten damals den vorhandenen Vorrat an 10-paras-Marken auf und wurde ein Ersatz durch Halbierung der 20-paras-Marke geschaffen.

Mit Rücksicht auf das Dargelegte ist es begrifflich, dass die mir übersandten Karten mit den halbierten Marken nicht durch die Post befördert werden können; denn das k. k. österr. Postamt in Caifa kann diese halbierten Marken jetzt nicht als eine Frankatur betrachten. Wenn auch seinerzeit Herr B. solche halbierte Marken ausgefolgt worden sind, so hatten dieselben nur in der angegebenen Anzahl und nur zeitliche Geltung.

Dem Postamt von Caifa waren 3 Karten mit halben Marken zur Beförderung aus Solingen eingesandt; diese

Figs. 3 and 4: The two reports in Der Deutsche Philatelist, May 1908 (p. 55) and November 1908 (p. 117).

Here I can reprint the section from Lindenberg's article which reproduced the two 1908 notes almost verbatim:

There were no special stamps for the post offices of interest here. On the other hand, a number of 20 paras and 10 centimes stamps are said to have been used bisected in Haifa in February 1908. "Der Deutsche Philatelist" of 20th May 1908 says the following on page 55:

According to a submission made to us by a Mr. Bollengraben of Solingen, two temporary stamps of 10 paras and 5 centimes, respectively, appeared in Caifa in Syria, in that the postmaster cut the 20 paras and 10 centimes stamps vertically in the middle and used the so bisected stamps at half the nominal value.

We have a piece of mail with a 10 paras stamp and a bisected 20 paras stamp cancelled "Caifa - 11. IV. 08. - Oesterr. Post - b" and one piece with a bisected 10 centimes stamp, the latter bearing the postmark "Caifa - 1. III. 08. - Oesterreichische Post - a" as well as a cancel "Jerusalem - 5. 3. 08. - Deutsche Post". An official account of the creation process of these two emergency issues is in prospect. So far we have little confidence in the matter, because 1) the 10 paras stamp proves that such were available and bisecting 20 paras stamps were not necessary and 2) how did Cretan stamps get to Syria?

The same journal's issue 1 of volume 2 already contained the desired official account on page 117, but criticism must not pass by carelessly.

This account reads:

In our issue 5 we reported on the temporary use of bisected 20 paras and 10 centimes stamps at half face value. Via a reader we received the following information from the postal official in Caifa:

A sudden unexpectedly large sale had exhausted the supply of 5 centimes stamps at the Austrian post office in Caifa at the end of February this year. Mr. Jul. B. (leader of a travelling company. The editor), who arrived here at that time, needed 500 copies of 5 centimes stamps, and the post office saw itself obliged to bisect 10 centimes stamps and to hand over the resulting 5 centimes stamps (which are the lowest-value stamps and thus cannot be replaced in any other way) to Mr. B., but only for immediate use, of course. Apart from these bisected stamps handed over to Mr. B., who absolutely demanded 5 centimes values, no other stamps were issued, as the post office could make do with 10 paras stamps (according to the postal rate about 5 percent more expensive, which only makes a difference at larger quantities). The same happened with the bisected 20 paras stamps. Mr. B. and his travelling companions used up the existing stock of 10 paras stamps and a substitute was created by bisecting 20 paras stamps.

In view of the above, it is understandable that the cards sent to me with bisected stamps cannot be sent by post, because the Imperial and Royal Austrian Post Office in Caifa is now unable to consider these bisected stamps as valid franking. Even if such bisected stamps were issued to Mr. B. at the time, they were only valid in the number indicated and only for a limited period of time.

Three cards with bisected stamps were sent to the Caifa post office from Solingen in order to be mailed, but this was refused because the bisected stamps were no longer valid. A very pleasing fact.

It would be interesting for us to find out whether and why Caifa keeps stamps in the paras and centimes currency and whether it is possible to choose which currency to use. In some circumstances the designation of the centimes currency stamps as "Crete" stamps would no longer be valid.

Apart from these notes, I know of a piece of mail from a Berlin collection with the bisected 20 paras stamp, also with the postmark "Caifa" - 11. IV. 08. - Oesterr. Post - b", which, however, also contains parts of a Turkish postmark from Haifa (date cut off). Furthermore, the editors of "Die Postmarke" had a third piece of the stamp just described, cut in half and with the same postmark and date (fig. 19). In addition, I was able to see another specimen myself a short time ago, cancelled on the same day with the same postmark, as well as a piece with the 10 centimes stamp, bisected and postmarked "Caifa - 1. III. 08. - Oesterreichische Post - a". All these pieces show the typical characteristics of a being cancelled-to-order, so that, despite the reports cited above usage must be doubted until actual used letters are presented. After all, it is possible that the demand did exist, but that despite the prohibition mentioned in the reports, a large number of bisected and cancelled letters were produced after the event.

The bisected 10 centimes stamp bears the postmark "CAIFA / AUSTRIAN POST / a / 1. III. 08".

Steichele writes in 1976 (amongst other topics):

From what has been said, one could get the impression that at the time the Bolthausen travel group had a genuine need for stamps for their greeting card correspondence. However, this hardly seems to be the case, as so far only cut-out pieces with these bisects have been found. According to the items found, the bisects were used to create stage souvenir covers. These are postal stationery covers of the German Post imprinted 10 Paras on 5 Pfennig Germania (German Reich).

On each stage of the journey the travel group touched, Bolthausen added another stamp and had it cancelled. This resulted in quite colourful multi-office frankings, which were certainly quite popular as advertising purposes and also served as souvenirs for the participants of the journey. [...] How are such cut-outs to be evaluated? Since there is no postal need, rather it's a more or less commercial matter, these are just shenanigans without philatelic background and no more than just a clean impression of a postmark on a cut-out.

I expressly endorse the assessments of Lindenberg and Steichele.

It is noticeable that DER DEUTSCHE PHILATELIST relies on submissions from readers for both its reports. A "Mr. Bollengraben, Solingen" will probably never have existed: our Mr. Bolthausen rather tried to make his shenanigans known through press reports in order to better sell the envelopes and cut-outs, and perhaps in effect tried also to legitimise them.

² Lot 3154 of the 100th Regency Superior auction, unsold.

Whether the official report, which was again submitted by “a reader”, actually originates from the Caifa post office, i.e. from the then postmaster Robert Stütz, may even be true. One can assume that Bolthausen subsequently wanted to produce genuinely used pieces, sent such covers to Caifa and his request was then rejected.

The quoted number of 500 stamps seems very unrealistic. On page 20 of the brochure, the travel group is pictured on the Temple Mount in March 1908: it comprises of just 16 travellers. This is precisely the trip on which the first ‘Caifa Bisects’ were created. Other photographs (e.g. from 1907) show a maximum of two dozen travellers. Bolthausen offers a total of 12 trips to the Orient for 1909, but it is not certain whether all of them took place. So the alleged need for 500 stamps for postcards on one trip is rather improbable. According to the official statement, these were immediately affixed and cancelled. It seems to me that Postvorsteher (postmaster) Stütz wants to protect himself from any investigation and justify his irregular actions by exaggerating the number of stamps.

The travel party of spring 1908 as depicted in the Bolthausen brochure on page 20.

The fact that the incident was repeated six weeks later with 20 paras stamps and that Bolthausen suddenly had a great need for 10 centimes stamps also makes one suspicious. Caifa was a busy harbour town and therefore had a normal demand for stamps, which means that a correspondingly large stock of stamps must be assumed. And even if the 10 centimes stamps had actually run out on 1st March, there should have been enough time to procure sufficient new stamps from Constantinople or one of the surrounding post offices, e.g. Beirut and Jaffa.

In my research so far I have not been able to observe any genuinely used stamps on cover. However, if the travel party (however large) actually needed them, they should in theory exist.

Lindenberg writes in 1950:

They occur sometimes on postcards written by tourists, but most are offered on envelope with or without an address, [...]

which is repeated almost word for word by Hoexter and Lachman in 1958 with the addition:

[...] were used at Haifa in March 1908 in larger quantities.

Expertiser Arnold Goller (BPP, VÖB) states in 2015:

Especially on cover and also in combination with complete stamps, such covers occur more often and seem to have actually passed through the post.

However, expertiser Franz Hochleitner (VÖB) told me:

According to Austrian postal regulations, bisecting is not permitted, especially at this time. A bisect that had been used would certainly have been noticed and objected to during the re-soting of bags in Constantinople or Trieste. The postmaster in Caifa would certainly have been in big trouble. According to Austrian postal regulations, franking in specie is prescribed in case of a lack of stamps.

However, sometimes things happen in the Orient that would be unthinkable elsewhere. Father Schmitz wrote in 1913 about the fierce competition between the many post offices:

[...] one finds the greatest friendliness and constant accommodation at all post offices. Form for mail items and postal orders are often filled-in for the sender by the officials themselves, sometimes even the packaging itself is carried out in a friendly manner, etc. If one is not served well and in a friendly manner at one post office, then one needs only go to the other post office next door. For the same reason, the regulations on what is to be considered a printed matter and what is not, what length, width and height mail items may have, etc., are interpreted as generously as possible.

This competition also includes the generous handling of currencies. The juxtaposition of French centimes and Ottoman paras on Austrian stamps is due to the currency differential: especially in the case of bulk mailings, one could still get a few percent advantage here. Mr. Hochleutner writes:

Crete stamps were in stock at all Levant post offices (even as far as the Black Sea), but were only sold at the express request of postal customers.

The Ottoman postal service also made extensive use of such discounts: the so-called bey'ıye stamps were created in 1906.⁴ Schmitz describes it thus:

Writing [...] abroad through the Turkish post using the so-called Bey'ıye stamps, then the letter postage is even reduced to only 15 pfennigs, and the postage for other items is reduced in the same proportion, namely by 20 %. Of course, you then have to buy the stamps in bulk (for about 10 M.).

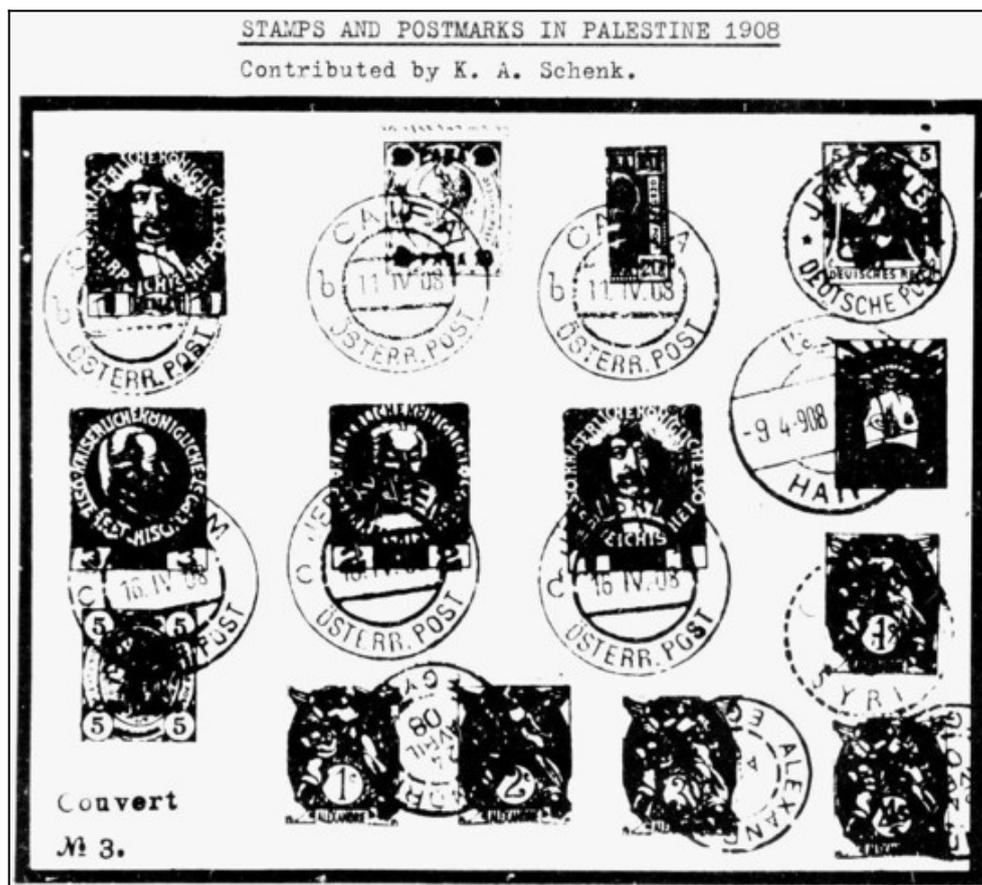

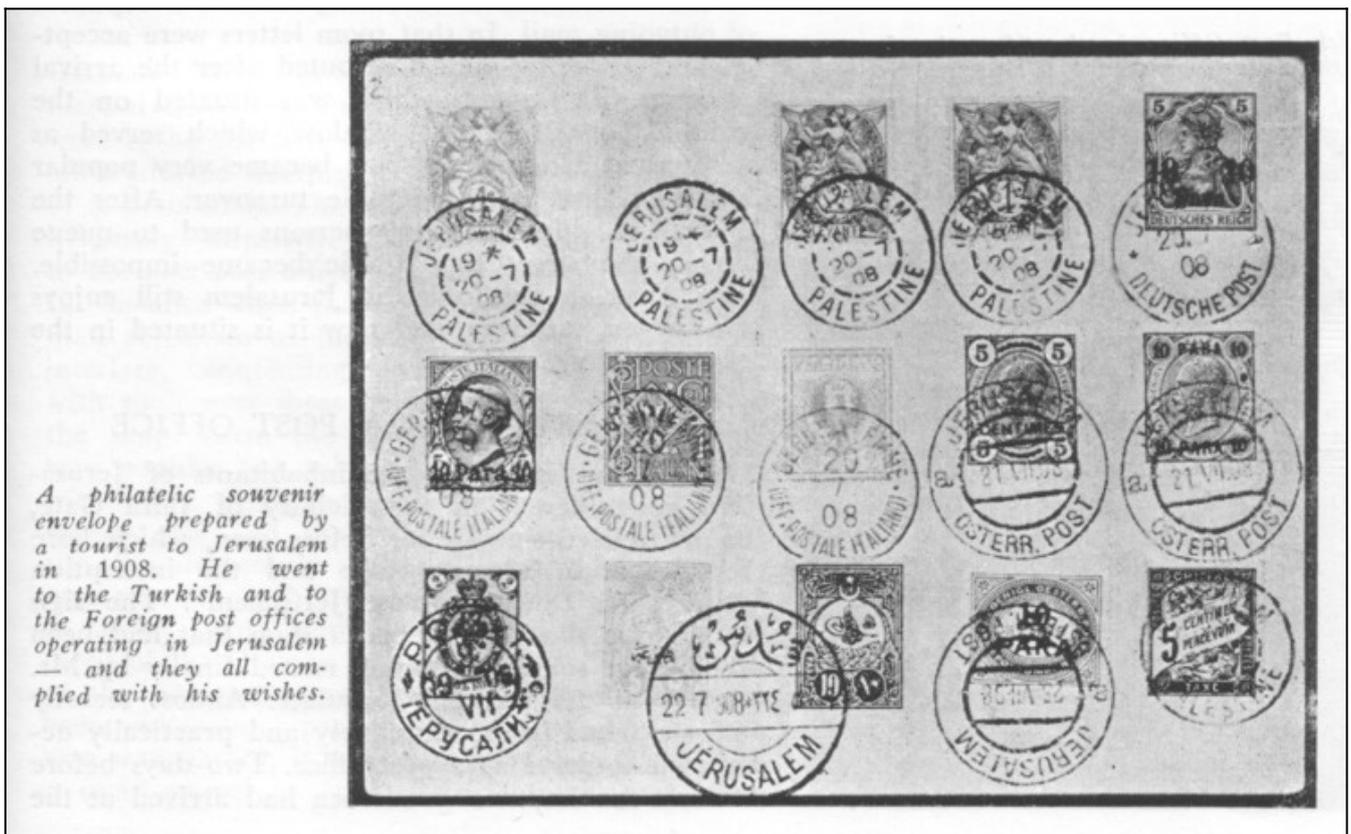

Fig. 11: A "Couvert № 3" as shown by K.A. Schenk in 1960. Caifa and other cities, postmark dates: 9.–24.04.1908. The bisect bears the postmark "CAIFA / ÖSTERR. POST / b / 11. IV. 08".

⁴ Bey'ıye, also behié = rebate, discount.

How was the incident reported or referred to in philatelic publications?

- 1925/1926: Paul P. Lindenberg describes the circumstances of the bisects in detail in DIE POSTMARKE.
- In 1950, however, this is only worth a small paragraph for Lindenberg writing in THE ISRAEL-PALESTINE PHILATELIST.
- Hoexter and Lachman describe the incident only briefly in THE HOLY LAND PHILATELIST in 1958.
- 1958 F. W. Pollack auctions a ‘stage cover’ without bisect and adds its illustration (purely illustrative) to an article by Father Schmitz in THE HOLY LAND PHILATELIST in 1960.
- 1960: The BAPIP BULLETIN shows and describes envelope № 3, submitted by K.A. Schenk, who probably owned all three envelopes.
- 1976: Steichele and Danesch quote the Lindenberg report in DER ISRAEL PHILATELIST and show envelopes № 1 and № 2.
- 1991: Steichele’s article was part of the English translation by Collins and Dickstein, much reduced and with different illustrations.
- 1999/2000: George H. Muentz describes the incident only briefly in the FFE JOURNAL.
- 2001: Gotfried Cohen describes the covers as “pure philatelic fabrication” in HOLY LAND POSTAL HISTORY.

However, initial enquiries at the relevant working group Arge Österreich were initially negative: they did not know about these bisects and had to entertain research themselves. The expertisers Arnold Goller (BPP, VÖB) and Franz Hochleitner (VÖB) then gave willingly brief information.

I haven't come across any other offers in recent years but you can't see and register everything. Do you know of any other pieces? Ulf Zahn sent me a cover from his collection:

The Dolmabahçe Imperial Palace Post Office Sarayı Hümayun – Palais Impérial

from the collections of Volker Fredebold

Copyright © 2023

I can here show the rare postmark of the Imperial Palace Post and Telegraph Office in the Dolmabahçe Palace (Palais du Dolma-Baghtché) on two items: a telegram of 1st February 1918, and a picture postcard to Vienna, dated 25th December 1914: Sarayı Hümayun = Palais Impérial.

On the address side city post transit postmark “Şehir – Galata” and İstanbul censor box cancellation of the early type.

سرای همایون / PALAIS IMPÉRIAL / 25 12-914-۳۳۰ ۱۱۰ ۱۲

Fig. 1: The postcard to Vienna,
Sarayı Hümayun = Palais Impérial, 25.12.1914.

The second item is a telegram (confirmation of receipt) received on 1st February 1918

The telegram (fig. 2) was sent from Drohobycz in Galicia addressed directly to Sultan Mehmet Reşat: Prince Oskar of Prussia thanking for the award of the Order of Ottomaniye with swords and diamonds. In this form, this form is a historically significant document of the rarest kind!

سرای همایون / PALAIS IMPÉRIAL / -1 2 9 8 ۳۳۴ ۲۰ -۱

According to Birken this mark is reported from 1908 to 1914. Birken¹ shows two types, but the other is probably one of the 'Coles/Walker phantoms.' There is a further circular cancellation, albeit with guttered arches at the top and bottom, as well as five negative cancellations.

The dates of use provide evidence of the palace post office for the period 1880 to 1918. However, Sultan Abdülhamid II resided in the Yıldız Palace from 1880 and it was not until 1909 that Sultan Mehmed V returned to the Dolmabahçe Palace. The palace post office moved with him, of course!

Telegram no. 5258 from Drohbycz (Drohobytsch/Drogobytsch, Galicia, a centre of oil production and therefore important to the war effort) comprises 45 words and was posted on 31st January 1918 at 14:30. It was sent via the Budapest route on 1st February 1918, arrived at 09:10 and was dispatched by telegraph operator Chevket at 09:15. The text reads:

Seiner Majestaet Dem Sultan Cons-ple

Erfahre soeben durch excellenz Zekki pascha dass euer majestaet dime gnade gehabt haben mir dhen osmanlie mit brillianten und schwertern zu verlejhen gestatten euer majestaet mir meinen untertaennigsten tiefgefuehlten dank für die so hohe auszeichnung auszusprechen

Oskar Prinz Von Preussen

To His Majesty The Sultan Cons-ple

I have just been informed by excellency Zekki pasha that your majesty has had the honour to award me the Osmaniye with brilliants and swords, please allow your majesty to express my deepest gratitude for this high distinction.

Oskar Prince of Prussia

The Order of Osmaniye was founded in 1861 by Sultan Abdülaziz as Nişan-ı Osmani in three classes, later extended to five classes. During the First World War, it was also awarded with swords (kılıç). The version with brilliants is probably the rarest variant of all!²

Oskar Karl Gustav Adolf Prince of Prussia (1888-1958) was the fifth son of Kaiser Wilhelm II. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel on 27th January 1915 and was commander of the 84th Landwehr Infantry Brigade from August 1918.

No special political or military occasion is known which led to the awarding of the order to the prince.

Fig. 4: The Dolmabahçe Palace on a (different) contemporary picture postcard.

The palace served as the residence of six sultans and one caliph:

1. Sultan Abdülmecid I – 7 June 1856–1861
2. Sultan Abdülaziz – 1861–1876
3. Sultan Murad V – 1876–1876
4. Sultan Abdülhamid II – 1876–1880 (then Yıldız Palace)
5. Sultan Mehmed V – 1909–1918
6. Sultan Mehmed VI – 1918–1922
7. Caliph Abdülmecid II – 1922

The court was moved from the old Topkapı Palace in 1856 and from then on was the residence of the Caliph Sultan until the end of the monarchy, apart from the years 1889–1909, when the Yıldız Palace took over this function. After the Sultan was deposed, the Dolmabahçe Palace served as Mustafa Kemal's seat of government until the capital was moved to Ankara, and it later became the president's residence in Istanbul.

Market Report: Palestine Post Office Postal Stationery Wrappers

by Dr. John K. Courtis FRPSL¹

Copyright © 2023

The Post Office Postal Stationery Wrappers of Palestine were issued in 1931, well before the United Nations partitioning between Palestine and Israel in 1948. Only two values were issued: 2 m blue green and 3 m yellow green, both depicting the same view of Rachel's tomb. Rachel's tomb is in the city of Bethlehem, just south of Jerusalem, along the road that connects Nablus and Hebron. It is where Jews, Muslims, and Christians believe the mother of Joseph and Benjamin and wife of Jacob was buried. It is a holy place to all three religions.

The 2 m was issued for use internal to Palestine and the 3 m for foreign use. There is a trilingual heading on the 2 m wrapper in English, Arabic and Hebrew, and a bilingual heading on the 3 m in English and French. Both wrappers are of the same size of about 125×300 mm. They were printed by Harrison & Sons Ltd., London, on a smooth and a coarse (rough) paper and supplied in bundles of ten in a packet band. The copies in the author's collection are all smooth paper. Internet copies cannot be inspected, so the identification of rough paper was necessarily ignored. The Kośniowski catalogue has no value on coarse paper for the 3 m, suggesting the use of coarse paper was limited.

Figs. 1 and 2: Post Office issues of Palestine.

Are these two basic issues of Palestine difficult to acquire? According to the author's database of 70,000 worldwide used copies of Post Office wrappers, for Palestine there are 31 copies of the 2 m and 27 copies of the 3 m. These have been hand-collected daily from the internet platform eBay over more than 18 years and represent an average listing rate of about one per seven months for the 2 m and one per eight months for the 3 m. Likely, more copies have appeared on other sites and from dealers' own stocks. A patient watching of listings would result in obtaining a copy of each of these two wrappers. While mint copies have not been recorded in the database, anecdotally, there have been copies listed during this period.

An analysis of these 58 wrappers reveals that for the 2 m blue-green all but two were mailed to local addresses in Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, Haifa, Herzlia, Qityat Haim, and Ramat-Gan. The two mailed overseas were to the USA and England. While the wrapper to the USA was uprated 5m + 2 m (shown in fig. 4), the one to England was not uprated and attracted no postal due markings. For the 3 m wrapper issued for overseas usage, only five of the 27 copies showed an address outside Palestine: one each to France, USA, Germany, Poland, and Canada. The other wrappers appear to have all been used internally, perhaps to pay for the second weight scale. Not all postmarks can be read, but of those that were deciphered, there were ten to Tel Aviv, eight to Haifa, and one to Jerusalem.

Uprated copies are more difficult to find. There are two recorded for the 2 m issue and three for the 3 m issue. A collector seeking a copy of an uprated wrapper of each issue would need considerable patience and a search beyond the auction platform eBay.

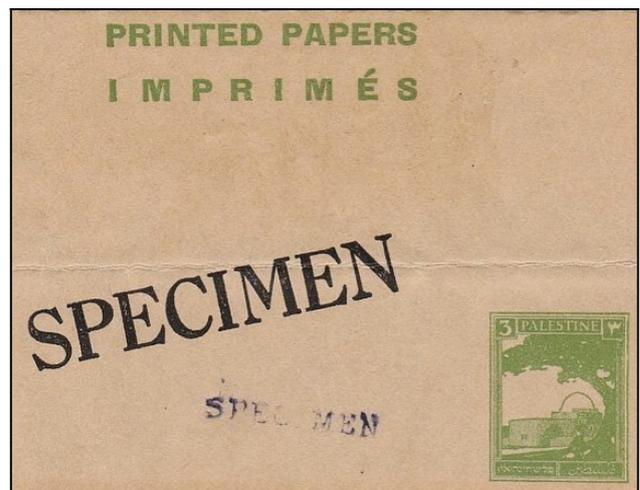

Figs. 3 and 4: Scarce uprated copies.

Sales were recorded for 19 of the 31 2 m listed for sale. This is a clearance rate of a little over 60% which seems low considering the low frequency rate of listing the 2 m over the 18+ years of date-gathering. The average realised price was US-$ 7.86 for these 19 sales, and the average number of bidders per transaction was 2.57. It is hard to say why so many did not sell at the end of the listing period. Five wrappers showed clear postmarking from the Philatelic Exhibition in 1946 which suggests these were hand-backs and not postally used. There are collectors with an aversion to obvious philatelic material, but no record was kept of wrappers that did not sell, so whether this was a factor is speculative. On the other hand, there were 13 written in Hebrew or Arabic for local addresses and perhaps some collectors preferred to acquire a copy without these alphabets. Apart from the two wrappers hand-addressed to Florida, USA and Sussex, England, all other wrappers were addressed with a pre-printed label.

Regarding the 3 m issue, there were 25 sales of the 26 listed, which is a clearance rate of almost 100%. The average realisation was US-$ 10.36 and the average number of bidders was 2.28, marginally less than for the 2 m listings.

Over four printings, there were 117,200 copies printed of the 2 m. The 31 recorded in the database represents a survival rate of about one per 3,800 printed. Even if we double the number of extant copies to allow for collectors' own holdings and other sources, the survival rate is still approximately one per 2,000 printed. There were 73,000 copies of the 3 m produced over three printings, representing a survival rate of one per 2,800; even doubling the extant quantities the survival rate is about one per 1,800 copies. Extant quantities are evasive and based on survival rates they are not common.

Specimen overprints for UPU purposes were also printed reading upwards from left to right. There have been five sales of Specimen overprinted 2 m and six sales of the 3 m. In chronological order of sales, it is note-worthy that there is very little consistency in realisations. For the 2 m sales and number of bidders were: 40-1, 74.95-1, 64.08-1, 26-4 and 37-4. These are, in theory, all unused and identical copies. However, storage has affected condition and although they are unused, creases, tears and storage fade marks can be found. The range is US-$ 26 (four bidders) to US-$ 74.95 (a sole bidder) which is a spread that more likely reflect the vagaries of collector behaviour at different points in time rather than any supply and demand norms. The six sales of the 3 m issue were 58.99-2, 74.95-1, 64.08-1, 9.99-1, 26-4 and 37-4. The price variability speaks for itself. Bidder numbers for both values average about 2.00. This is some evidence that the collector pool for the wrappers of Palestine is small.

Figs. 5 and 6: Specimen overprints.

Collecting the Uncommon

There are two wrappers which conceivably can be included here: a wrapper for a newspaper, and the uncommon destination Poland. The wrapper in fig. 7 shows a two-line red hand-stamp that is faint, but reads “REGISTERED at the / General Post Office Jerusalem”;² its discovery in the database is somewhat serendipitous. The subjective choice of the wrapper to Poland shows the sender details in manuscript along the left-hand side, and is addressed to “Puck/Pomorze.”

² Under Palestine regulations introduced in 1919, newspapers were afforded privileges and special postage rates if they registered (for an annual fee) with the General Post Office in Jerusalem and complied with certain regulations (closely matched with British practice). Cf. MEPB, no. 1, 2015, pp. 71–72. The inland newspaper rate was raised from 1m to 2m on 1.01.1926; cf. MEPB, no. 4, p. 82 (editor).

Figs. 7 and 8:

Uncommon usage with newspaper registration cachet and uncommon destination to Poland.

The collector of Palestine can reasonably expect to obtain mint and used copies of the 2 m and 3 m Post Office postal stationery wrapper issues. The specimen overprints are harder to find and are likely to be more expensive. Uprated wrappers exist but only five examples have been recorded in 18+ years. Wrappers with auxiliary markings, postage due, censorship and any other distinguishing feature, have not been recorded in the database.

Balkanflug Walter Mittelholzer's Balkan Flight of 1934

by Schalk W. de Klerk

Copyright © 2023

Having been delayed by two days, Swiss aviator Walter Mittelholzer and two passengers flew from Zürich to İstanbul and back in one day: on the 28th June 1934. On the flight, he carried mailbags containing 4,422 letters, each imprinted with a special cachet which read "SWISSAIR / Balkanflug / 28.VI.34".

Using the same plane he flew from Zurich to Tunis and back in one day a year earlier, a Lockheed 9B Orion (this time with registration CH-167) he set off from Dübendorf, near Zurich, at 01:32; landed at Naples shortly before sunrise (at 04:39); departed Naples at 05:43; landed in Athens a mere 3 hours later (at 08:46); and in Istanbul at 11:18. At 11:30, he had lunch on the shores of the deep-blue Sea of Marmora (Sea of Marmara), surrounded by the near Eastern glamour of the town of İstanbul (historically known as Constantinople).

The flight back to Zurich, by way of Belgrade, started when Mittelholzer departed from İstanbul at 15:40. He landed in Belgrade at 16.45, departing again at 17.29.

Fig. 1: Mail item carried to Naples, Athens, İstanbul, and finally dropped off in Belgrade.

Due to a severe thunderstorm, Mittelholzer had to make an emergency landing in Pfullendorf, near Ravensburg in the a beautifully landscaped region in Oberschwaben in southern Germany) at 21.10, ending up in a ditch and incurring minor damage to the plane.

As a result, the mail was transported from there to Zurich by rail, each returning item receiving a special boxed cachet in red, which proclaimed “Abflug wegen ungünstiger Witterung verschoben” (departure delayed due to unfavourable weather).

On the 29th June 1934, at around noon, spare parts arrived from Switzerland; and with the help of the friendly locals, the necessary repairs were made, which allowed him to take-off at 18:00. After making a few honorary rounds to thank the locals for their assistance and to say goodbye, Mittelholzer landed at Dübendorf at 18:30.

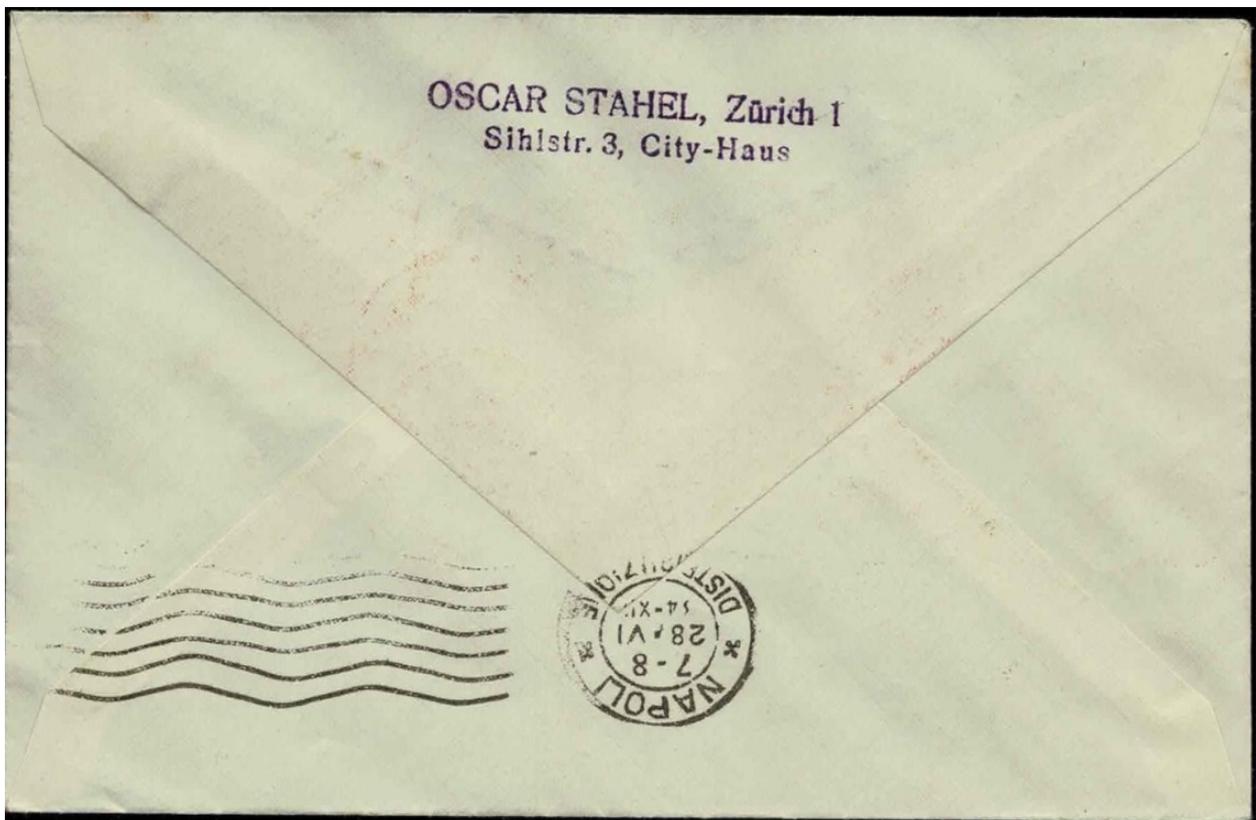

Fig. 2: The Lockheed being repaired at Pfullendorf after the emergency landing.¹

The entire journey of 2,800 miles (4,506 km) took exactly 15 flying hours at an average flying speed of 187 mph (301 km/h). On this journey, Mittelholzer took 182 photos over 5 rolls of film, each with up to 44 images. In aviation history, the flight is known as the Balkanflug.

The following letter was addressed to, and dropped off in Naples. It received a “Napoli Ferrovia (Posta Aerea)” arrival date stamp on the front, and a “Napoli Distribuzione” processing date-stamp on the back. As the item was not carried all the way to İstanbul and back to Zurich, it does not have the usual red boxed cachet.

Here is a registered letter carried on a flight to Zurich that departed İstanbul on the 11th June 1935; almost a year after Mittelholzer’s epic flight (fig. 4):

Signed photograph of Swiss pioneer aviator, writer and photographer Walter Mittelholzer (1894–1937). He was director of Ad Astra Aero, direct precursor to Swissair. He died on a climbing trip in the Austrian Alps in 1937.

And below is a letter carried by Mittelholzer on his 1934 Balkanflug. It has three red departure date stamps: two that read “SWISSAIR / Balkanflug / 26.VI.34”, and one that reads “SWISSAIR / Balkanflug / 28.VI.34” as well as an “ISTANBUL 30 / 28-6-1934” and “ZÜRICH LUFTPOST / VIII / 29.VI.34·14” arrival date stamps.

Two red hand-stamps on the cover explain what happened with this flight. One, over three lines in the top left corner below the blue “Mit Luftpost / Par avion / Par aeroplano” label in three languages, reads “Am 28. Juni 1934 auf dem Luftweg befördert: Zürich – Neapel – Athen – Istanbul – Belgrad bis Pfullendorf (Notlandung)”, which, translated, means ‘Transported by air on the 28th June 1934: Zurich – Naples – Athens – Istanbul – Belgrade to Pfullendorf (emergency landing).’

The second, hand stamped in a boxed cachet in the bottom right-hand corner of the envelope, reads “Abflug wegen ungünstiger Witterung verschoben”, which, translated, means ‘departure delayed because of unfavourable weather.’

Due to the emergency landing at Pfullendorf, the mail was only date-stamped upon arrival in Zurich the next day – as reflected by the “ZÜRICH LUFTPOST” date-stamp of 29th June.

The author introduces the subject by a short history of Iraq–Kuwait relations, starting in Ottoman times and the claims of Iraq ever since: a dateline of relevant event starts in 1961 with Kuwait’s independence which was immediately challenged.

Kuwait-Iraq modern relations have always been marked with political sensitivity. The tension could be traced back to the beginning of the twentieth century. It passed through many stages; the announcement of the Anglo-Kuwait treaty of protection, the Anglo-Ottoman treaty in 1913, the Emir of Kuwait Sheikh Ahmad Jaber Al-Sabah's demands to demarcate the borders with Iraq in 1923, the Iraqi Prime Minister Nuri Al-Said's acknowledgment of the borders demarcation between his country and Kuwait in 1932, the Iraqi Prime Minister Tawfiq Al-Suwaidi's demands to the annexation of Kuwait, Iraq's acknowledgment of its maritime borders with Kuwait, (the Coucheron-Aamot agreement) in 1959, the Iraqi president Abdulkarim Qassem's¹ regression on this country's previous treaties with Kuwait and his demands of annexation, the Iraqi attack on the Kuwait border station at Samitah in 1973. This tension has culminated in 1990, when Iraq invaded Kuwait and occupied the country.²

The first part looks at the regular postal relations with Iraq by dissecting a selection of covers and their markings. Until the withdrawal of British troops in October 1961 a British Field Post office operated in the city with date-stamps FPO 941, 1939, and 1040. General Qasim’s threat of annexation didn’t affect postal relations, however Kuwait introduced a censorship regime until Qasim’s assassination in the “Ramadan Revolution” of 1963. In 1973 Iraq again threatened to occupy Umm Qasr to build a deep-water port and in March 1973 Iraqi troops briefly occupied the border post of Al-Samitah. There were further skirmishes incidents during the 1980s. In 1988 a postal war erupted, but not with Iraq, with Iran: covers with undesirable motifs and topics were returned with hand-stamps “Undeliverable contrary to Art. No. 9 – Intl. Postal Convention”.

The second part covers the actual occupation starting on 2nd August 1990. Other countries quickly reacted and mail intended for Kuwait was returned to sender marked with a plethora of handstamps. The author also covers propaganda labels “Free Kuwait” and military mail documenting the build-up of Allied forces in 1990/91.

1 ‘Abd al-Karīm Qāsim (1914–1963).

2 Quoted from the introduction, p. 10.

The actual mail service of the Iraqi Post during the occupation is described, although not to the extent one would have expected. Inward and outward mail smuggled to and from Kuwait is given some prominence and even after Iraq was defeated (covered in the third part), regular postal connections were no re-established until April 1991, so such forwarding routes by private intermediaries continued for some time. From 27th April 1991 “postage paid” marking were used as all pre-occupation stamps had been demonetised, although use of the last stamp series “Lanner Falcon” is known. Other emergency measures like registration labels are common in these early months.

The closing chapters deal with P.O.W. issues, stamps commemorating the occupation, UNIKOM, the Red Crescent, and there’s a list of references acting as bibliography.

The book is largely based on the author’s award-winning philatelic exhibit, first presented at Taipei in 2008. The book has won awards at Ankara, Chicago, Sharjah and Bangkok exhibitions.

Field Post Offices (FPOs) for British forces in Kuwait

Field Post Offices (FPOs) for British forces in Kuwait were operated on July 1991. The following is an account given by a Royal Navy serviceman who participated in Operation Vantage, describing how he recalls the way in which the FPO system operated there.

“Once or twice a week approximately, mail from the troops was handed into Headquarters Administration (HQ Admin) for those units deployed ashore. There were no field post offices as such, only temporary messengers set up by relevant Admin. Personnel who worked for troops post were members of the units deployed ashore in the desert. Mail was collected and distributed by whatever means were available, including Navy helicopters”. (Source: Leigh Easton, personal communication, 22 August 2020).

Alshakar Type KAC 01. Cover bears a very interesting “MECHANICALLY EXAMINED” board cachet, which is well unrecorded.

Iran to Kuwait and back to Iran - “Undeliverable” (1990)

Express cover from Iran cancelled Tehran 26 7 1991 addressed to Kuwait, returned to sender by Kuwait postal authorities for bearing offensive and local stamps promoting the massacre of Iranian pilgrims in Mecca with a board bilingual cachet indicating the cover to be UNDELIVERABLE / CONTRARY TO ARTICLE NO. 9 INT’L POSTAL CONVENTION (on proper application of this cachet, as Article 9 is primarily concerned with the question of security rather than legitimacy). Note the grammatical errors in Arabic text; this cachet has never been reported before.

Mail to Occupied Kuwait - Returned to Sender

Express, special delivery airmail cover, from Berlin, Germany, addressed to Kuwait, franked with a single 3 M DDR stamp, and cancelled Berlin, 26. 8. 90. The cover was returned to sender with a printed adhesive label that reads: “Cover an destination... no postal service traffic at the time (shown). Label is dated 10 X 1990. DDR is short form for the Deutsche Demokratische Republik, which stood for the German provinces occupied by the USSR subsequent to World War II. For English speakers, it was known as the German Democratic Republic. “DDR” is east Germany.”

PART II - WAR: IRAQI OCCUPATION OF KUWAIT

Iraqi Takeover of Kuwait Postal Service (1990)

Two covers sent from occupied Kuwait to Egypt (date: 150 Fils, cancelled 14 OCTOBER 1990 and Denmark (date: 150 Fils, cancelled 19 OCTOBER 1990) respectively. Both covers post with REPUBLIC OF IRAQI / KUWAIT POST OFFICE Arabic handstamp; administrative stamp, not meant for postal use, unrecorded. Note that Kuwait’s letter rate to:

Cover: Although independently sent during occupation, it is widely held that covers similar to these never saw actual postal service, and that they were subsequently made by some postal employees using tags cancelled found after taking over the post subsequent to the liberation of Kuwait - notwithstanding, these covers represent an interesting aspect of Kuwait modern postal history.

Post Liberation “Postage Paid” Handstamp - Alshakar Type KAC 02 (1991)

Cover sent from Kuwait (no date) to UK, handstamped POSTAGE PAID KUWAIT Alshakar Type KAC 02; rate 150 Fils, non-Arab countries rate.

PART III IRAQI OCCUPATION OF KUWAIT

Problematic Administration of Mail - Label Shortage*

Due to the damage inflicted on the postal sector, many post offices were not fully operational in the early days of the take over of postal services after liberation, and were thus short of a number of postal devices (stamps, cancellers, labels, etc.). During the first three months subsequent to putting Kuwait stamps for sale, registered letters were dispatched without affixing registration labels on them. In addition to cancellation date, these letters could be identified from the registration number written in manuscript and its register file. This registered airmail cover sent from Kuwait cancelled SAHAT 19 JAN 1991 to Washington, USA (registration rate: 350 Fils) is an example of this practice.

The Validity of Saudi-Arabian Stamps (Martin Lovegrove)

The catalogue status of current Saudi stamps may be uncertain. As I understand it, stamps cannot be purchased at post offices but are available only on a subscription basis. They are not valid for registered mail although can be used on normal mail but will not receive a postmark cancelling the stamps.

If you put them on registered mail you will still have to pay the normal registered postage rate at the post office. If that is the case, I cannot see why they deserve catalogue status. I would be grateful for any corrections and updates to my description of current postal affairs. Below is what an unregistered cover looks like on arrival – lots of stamps and no postmarks!

Readers may be interested in the numbers of stamps printed: in 1984 it was usually 800,000 sets, the 2022 World Post Day issue had only 5,000.

Fig. 1:

Cover with three different sets of stamps (from 2004 and 2008), sent from Dhahran to Martin in Britain.

Editor: Is any MEPB reader familiar with the current state of stamp sales in Saudi-Arabia? What are catalogues supposed to do? The stamps seem to be valid for postage of (at least some) items... I heard a similar story about Austria, restricting stamps to ordinary (unregistered) non-priority letters² with stamps being not regularly available at post offices. Here in Germany there are so-called 'philatelic blocks' with stamps valid for all postage but only sold by the philatelic office...

The Arabian Philatelic Association International

The original Arabian Philatelic Association (APA) was established in 1968 in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, by a group of Aramco employees particularly interested in Saudi Arabian philately. The APA had over 300 members and subscribers worldwide during most of its existence. The journal "APA Random Notes," the "Reference Manual of Saudi Arabian Forgeries," auctions and new issue service contributed to the large increase in the popularity of Saudi Arabian philately in the 1970s and 1980s. However, interest declined in the 1990s and an initial attempt to start up a conventional Saudi stamp society in the USA failed in the late 1990s. It was realised that an internet-based society would have a better prospect of success and the new Arabian Philatelic Association International (APAI) was founded. The APAI's publication "Random Notes" is scheduled for three issues per year.

Société Britannique de Secours aux Blessés Militaires (British Red Cross) in Smyrna in 1878 (Martin Rhein)

Martin Rhein of Arge Ungarn (Hungary Study Group) asks:

A few weeks ago a French collector friend sent me the attached cover as it is franked with an Austrian stamp. I have all the answers for the Austrian part of the question: The letter is franked with 10 Soldi but not enough, as Canada joined the GPU/UPU only a few weeks later on 1st July 1878. The postage should have been at least 10+13 Soldi if the letter was carried via Hamburg, or 10+15 Soldi if it was carried via Great Britain. In the upper left corner of the stamp there is indeed a "25". In the middle I can see a handwritten and crossed out 8, which would correspond to the "Weiterfranko" = foreign postage of 8 kr for shipping via Germany. The stamp next to the "T" is the "PIROSCAFI POSTALI ITALIANI" of Palermo for sea letters.

But now the historical question: Are there any sources about the "Société britannique de secours aux blessés militaires / İngiliz askeri mahrucin i'ane cemaati"³ because I have not found anything corresponding. If this company had been recognised by the authorities, it might have been able to claim exemption from domestic charges. This would explain the 10 kr again... Have you perhaps heard anything about this organisation?

*Editor: The Russo-Turkish War ended in March 1878, perhaps they were (still) active in Smyrna?*⁴

2 Cf. <https://www.post.at/p/c/adressieren#275725304>: "You can use valid stamps issued by Austria Post to frank your ECO letter mail items." (translated) ECO = economy = non-priority.

3 İngiliz = English; askeri = soldiers; mahrucin = wounded; i'ane = support; cemaati = society.

4 Cf. The Eastern crisis (1875-1878). 6.04.1998. In: Online: International Committee of the Red Cross. Online: <https://www.icrc.org/en/doc/resources/documents/misc/57jvnm.htm> (acc. 13.08.2023).

In English the society is called the “British National Society for Aid to the Sick and Wounded in War” and was renamed the “British Red Cross Society” in 1905. This was one of the predecessor organisations as the International Red Cross was founded in 1919. The society founded by Henri Dunant in 1863 was called “Comité international de Secours aux Blessés”, and only from 1870 was “Comité international de la Croix-Rouge” used.

Red Cross cover from Smyrna by Austrian Post via Britain to Canada, June 1878.

The question remains what status the British association had in the Ottoman Empire. However, this is actually not relevant here, as the Austrian Post would certainly not have observed any postage privileges granted by the Ottoman government. It would be rather speculative that the British society operating in Turkey had any status with the Austrian or Canadian authorities.

Can any reader provide information on the operation of the British Red Cross at that time, or offer similar covers?

MEPB 10: Philatelic Literature: Holy Land Postal History digitised

(Digitisation of Philatelic Knowledge: “Holy Land Postal History” (1979–2017, Mark Sommer, p. 65)

Tobias Zywietz writes:

HOLY LAND POSTAL HISTORY, the journal of the Society of the Postal History of Eretz-Israel (which dissolved itself several years ago) has been digitised by the Israel Philatelic Federation recently. The IFP has made it available free for download on its website:

http://israelphilately.org.il/info_e.asp?item=32

There were 83 issues (numbered 1 to 133) published between 1979 and 2017. For most of its existence, double-numbers were issued, hence the divergence in the numbering. I have now archived the entire series as searchable PDFs,⁵ having been already in possession of all the printed volumes. HLPH no. 101 contains a sort of index, though sadly almost unusable in bibliographic terms.

MEPB 24: Dubai 1968 Butterflies: New Discoveries (Ralf Kollmann, pp. 148–149)

Ralf Kollmann writes:

In MEPB 24 I presented an (as I thought) uncatalogued version of the 1968 Butterflies issue of Dubai (5.02.1968, MiNr. 295–302, SG 277–284): all eight stamps in numbered blocks (miniature sheets). According to David Greyfield these are definitely fakes.

David Greyfield writes:

Ralf Kollmann has fallen victim to a gang of counterfeiters from the Baltic States. This set of block was never officially issued. About 10 years ago, such forged sets of blocks from all the sheikhdoms, Yemen and also “State of Oman” were offered and sold on eBay. All are fakes.

I have documented some of what I detected on Ebay and can show a few examples:

Figs. 1–4: Fake sets of blocks offered on Ebay.

Ralf Kollmann replied:

I have compared the Fujeira blocks with normal 10 Rials blocks and they all look genuine to me. Just like the other deluxe blocks listed (also in Michel). I don't understand why only the deluxe blocks should be forged. Others look similar (also the control numbers). If they really are forgeries, I wonder why only these and not the stamps too? From their appearance and printing, surely they should all be forgeries? Perhaps there should be something about this in the official announcements?

RFI: 1948 POW Mail with Censor "Iraqi General Command" (Peter Gassmann)

Peter Gassmann writes:

Marc Parren has suggested that I contact you. Attached (figs. 1 and 2) is an envelope with an interesting mark on the back, which I have not yet been able to identify. Do you happen to have any idea where this mark could have come from? According to Marc, the censor stamp on the front is from Israel. Marc suspects that the envelope dates from the 1948 war.

Editor: I initially read the censor mark as "القيادة العربية / الرقابة" = Arab General Command / Censorship, but Bernd-Dieter Buscke identified it as "القيادة العراقية / الرقابة" = Iraqi General Command / Censorship and sent me two rare covers with the strike on the front side (see figs. 3 and 4).

Avo Kaplanian shows two covers with this censor mark in his article in 2020,⁶ but without details.

Bernd-Dieter Buscke writes:

This is an Iraqi negative military censor mark from the area of Tulkarem/Nablus/Jenin in the north of the so-called West Bank of Palestine, which was occupied by Iraq from 1948 to 3rd April 1949 in the course of the armed conflicts between Israel and its Arab neighbours. In the Alexander Collection by Zvi Alexander, the censorship mark is translated as “alqiada aliraqi alkatat” = Iraqi H.Q. Censorship. I have this censorship cancellation on covers from Tulkarem, Nablus and Jenin. It is particularly rare on the front (figs. 3 and 4).

Figs. 3 and 4: The POW cover is also illustrated in The Holy Land Philatelist, no.50/51, on p.1094.

RFI: Egyptian-style ‘Interpostal’ Seal for Tarsous (Adana) “POSTE IMÉRIALE OTTOMANES / TARSOUS” (Omar Wassef)

Omar Wassef writes:

I found the attached picture of an Ottoman local stamp on an Egypt Interpostal auction list at Vance Auctions. It looks very much in appearance like an Egyptian Interpostal of types 4 or 5, which I collect and feature on a website I own: www.interpostalseals.com.

If you know the type, history, and/or grouping of the this type of stamp would you please share this knowledge with me?

The reason for my interest relates to the lack of official details about the history of the Egyptian Interpostal Seals, including the printing companies commissioned to print them. All documentation was lost in a fire of the Egyptian Postal Administration in the late 1800's. And it looks like these Ottoman ones may have been printed by the same shop. Any information would be of help.

I would appreciate any input from you or your subscribers on this subject.

Editor: Has any reader seen such seals and can report on their history, other cities, etc?

Digital Resources at the Istituto di Studi Storici Postali “Aldo Cecchi”

The FEPA Newsletter of 13.11.2023 reports:

In recent months, the site of the Istituto di Studi Storici Postali “Aldo Cecchi” in Prato has been further implemented with documentation on the Italian postal administration from 1861 onwards. Almost 6,000 files (images or pdf documents totalling over 60 GB) are freely downloadable. Users can obtain, for example, old official or specialised magazines referring to the postal sector without moving from their desks or paying anything. They must reach the address <https://www.issp.po.it/> and select the ‘Fonti e Risorse’ section.⁷ Here, they can browse the repertoires of the Institute’s library and newspaper library and the documents and printed publications of the Italian postal administration.

“By examining the material arranged and classified by ISSP Board member Giorgio Chianetta and ISSP member Beniamino Bordoni, one can find a wealth of information”, confirms ISSP director Bruno Crevato-Selvaggi. It ranges from the organisation of personnel to the movement of the offices, from technological insights into radio-telegraphic transmissions to postal buildings and news about the post employees’ after-work activities — one part of the archive concerns vintage philatelic magazines. Everyone will indeed find ample material for their research.

⁷ The selection and links to the resources only work with the Italian version (editor).

A 1920s Turkish Stamp Album: “پول البومی” (pūl albūmi) (Tobias Zywietz)

Tobias Zywietz writes:

I was made aware of a Turkish stamp album recently: “پول البومی” (pūl albūmi). There are no stamps inserted on the pages, it is still empty! The title page shows Atatürk on a 25 kuruş stamp, the front cover shows a Persian stamp and an Austrian military postage stamp referring to the wartime “Kaiser-Karl-Hilfsfonds (Kaiser Karl Relief Fund, 1916–18). The decor is in the Art Nouveau style and it still uses Arabic characters, therefore it must be dated to the (latter) 1920s? The price of the album is printed on the back cover: 25 kuruş. Is this rare and valuable? Can it be dated more precisely? Were there earlier and later editions? Can someone decipher the text?⁸

L'Orient Philatélique Digitised (Tobias Zywietz)

Tobias Zywietz writes:

L'ORIENT PHILATÉLIQUE (LOP), the journal of the Philatelic Society of Egypt (Société Philatélique d'Égypte)⁹ has been digitised by the society and the PDFs were made available free for download on a Facebook group created by the current Editor-in-Chief Amr El-Etreby:

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/470248583088974/>

There are currently 154 editions available numbered 1 (July 1929) to 154 (December 2021). I have now archived the entire series as searchable PDFs.¹⁰

The Philatelic Society of Egypt writes on p. 26 of LOP 154:

The members of the Philatelic Society of Egypt, PSE, have for some time noticed that Arabic texts whether on covers, postcards, documents ... etc. are being erroneously translated into English in catalogs, magazines, websites and even private collections, with serious consequences to the interpretation of the item in question.

The PSE has a group of members who are fluent in both Arabic and English languages and are gladly willing to help not only with any translation required, but also with the interpretation of other aspects relating to social, historical and geographical circumstances of the time, such as familial salutations, bureaucratic jargon, handwritten annotations and talismanic markings.

This service is available to anyone, just send to this email a clear scan of the item; front and back of a cover, postcard, content of a letter or document ... etc. and we shall be happy to oblige as soon as possible. Provisionally, this service is free of charge for single items.

Dissolution of the Oriental Philatelic Association London (OPAL)

Tobias Zywietz writes:

As already reported in MEPB 24, OPAL issued its last edition of the OPAL JOURNAL this summer and has now been wound-up. I'd like to briefly chart its last years and record some key documents.

Under Bob Bradford's editorship, there were fairly regular issues of the OPAL JOURNAL: January 2019 (240), August 2019 (241), February 2020 (242). After the death of Bob in May 2020, OPAL was looking for a new editor with secretary Philip Longbottom stepping in for journal no. 243 (October 2020). The society had 132 members at the time. A new permanent editor was indeed found: Tim Huxley took over at the beginning of 2021. Despite all the good wishes upon his appointment, the next journal did not appear until February 2022 (244) and after another year-long gap, there came the very last journal, no. 245 of August 2023.

The members of OPAL decided at its AGM in June 2023 to dissolve the association. In 2022 there were 107 members left; despite this substantial number of worldwide members, the editor found it impossible to solicit enough original articles to continue the journal.

In OPAL NEWSLETTER no. 128 (April 2023), OPAL members first were told about the officers' plans for closing the society:

The AGM will be asked to vote on a proposal to wind up OPAL. We are now not providing a meaningful service to members with the only surviving service being a journal published sporadically. Members appear to show little appetite to contribute material for the journal. The packet and auctions ceased some time ago and our library has been sold off.

The relevant clause in our constitution is Article 16 reproduced below:-

16. In the event of OPAL being wound up, the existing paid-up membership shall, at the AGM (with the quorum rule suspended) appoint two members to dispose of the Society's assets at the best possible price and pay off all outstanding debts. A financial statement shall then be prepared and forwarded together with an equal share of the total funds remaining, to all fully paid-up members of more than one full year's standing.'

We, of course, have no present physical assets to dispose of and we have no net debt. Our Constitution indicates that our remaining financial funds should be returned to members. The above clause 16 is in agreement with Inland Revenue guidelines for dissolution of clubs (BIM 24110) and should have no tax implications.

However, we would prefer OPAL's funds to be used to continue the aims of promoting philately and would like the funds to be eventually donated to the Royal Philatelic Society London, a registered UK charity. For this to happen all members would need to individually donate their portion of funds to the charity. We are investigating how this can be done without incurring a tax charge, without overworking our Honourable Treasurer sorting out tax implications and without having to go through distributing funds to over a hundred members.

The 73rd Annual General Meeting was held at Stanley Gibbons, 399 Strand, London, on 18th July 2023. Three members were present, 44 members voted by proxy. The minutes were published in OPAL NEWSLETTER no. 129 (August 2023). I will quote only portions from these:

5. Election / re-election of Officers.

No further nominations for the Association's officers had been received since the proposals were listed in Newsletter 128. However, M Basaran resigned as President 3 days before the meeting. The election of officers as shown below was unanimously agreed. The Officers for 2023/24 are as follows:

President: Vacant, Philip Longbottom acting; Vice President: Philip Longbottom; Secretary: Philip Longbottom; Treasurer: Bash Orhan; Membership Secretary: Bash Orhan; Auctioneer: vacant; Journal Editor: Tim Huxley; Webmaster: Martin Lovegrove; Publicity Officer: Philip Newby; R Stuchell will continue as OPAL's North American Representative.

6.1 Proposal to Wind up OPAL.

The combined voting of those members present and of the proxies received was:

|-----------------------------|-----------|
| For the proposal | 35 |
| Against the proposal | 9 |
| Abstentions | 2 |

The Proposal was therefore carried.

6.2 Proposal to Donate any remaining OPAL funds to the Royal Philatelic Society London, a registered UK charity.

Our present constitution states that any remaining OPAL funds should be returned to members but doing that with many overseas members is a considerable logistics challenge given that it can only be done by sending out cheques drawn on a UK bank. The pragmatic alternative is to donate any remaining funds to a similar minded (to OPAL) association or society. The Royal Philatelic Society London is such a like minded society and has the additional (tax) benefit of being a registered UK charity.

However, OPAL for tax purposes is an unincorporated mutual association – that is no tax liabilities are incurred provided all its financial activities are exclusively for the mutual benefit of members only and no non-OPAL persons gain any benefit. OPAL's Treasurer, Bash Orhan, a retired tax accountant, explained that clearance will be needed from the Inland Revenue before any funds are disbursed to third parties. Otherwise, the Revenue may wish to investigate previous tax years for which we are confident we have no present liabilities. He has sent a letter to the Revenue explaining our procedures and intentions and he is awaiting a reply, which may take a considerable time.

The combined voting for the Proposal to donate any remaining funds to the Royal of those members present and of the proxies received of was:

|-----------------------------|-----------|
| For the proposal | 35 |
| Against the proposal | 10 |
| Abstentions | 1 |

The proposal was therefore carried.

However, until we hear from the Inland Revenue, OPAL will carry on functioning as far as we are able.

The final act was an e-mail of 11th September 2023 sent to members by the Secretary:

Following the motions carried at the last OPAL AGM on 18th July in London, our Treasurer, Bash Orhan, asked for and received the necessary clearances from the Inland Revenue to dissolve and wind up our Association. Following the motions carried at the AGM, all remaining monies, amounting to £11,192.48, were donated to The Royal Philatelic Society London, a registered charity, and all OPAL's bank accounts have been closed down.

OPAL as an Association now no longer exists. However the old OPAL website will remain available until the end of 2024.

The FEPA NEWSLETTER of 4th September 2023 contained this 'obituary':

It was only a couple of weeks ago that we heard the bad news: the August 2023 number of the OPAL magazine was meant to be the last. A little later, the news got worse: not just the magazine, but the society itself was about to close. So, we asked Mehmet Basaran, President of OPAL for the last fifteen years, to drive us through the days of this historic philatelic organisation.

The inaugural meeting of the Oriental Philatelic Association of London was held at the premises of Harmers, the London auction house, on 8 November 1949. Some twenty-five people were present, mostly collectors of Egypt and the Sudan, but gradually others interested in neighbouring countries spread the geographic focus until the Society became established in its present form, covering the territory of the Ottoman Empire in its heyday, and forming a crescent of states around the Eastern Mediterranean from Libya to the former Yugoslavia.

From time to time over the past fifty years, there has been fierce debate about the Society's title. This arises from the word "Oriental" which has changed its meaning over the years from "East of the Mediterranean" (Concise Oxford Dictionary) to its modern meaning which takes in the whole sweep of Asia south and east of the Himalayas. As a result, the society had people applying to become members from Japan and S.E. Asia. However, the latest consensus was that the acronym "OPAL" was how the Society was best known, and so that is how it will stay.

Like most societies, OPAL has had its ups and downs: the late 70s was a low point with a membership of less than 100. In 1999, the Association's members gave a display before the members of the Royal Philatelic Society London to mark their 50th anniversary at which time the membership stood at 275. Following the display, after a meeting of members at the London 1980 exhibition proved a turning point, and under the guidance of Keith Tranmer, backed by Bill Robertson, Bash Orhan, Otto Hornung and Mehmet Basaran the society returned to its former vigour. The latest definition of OPAL's aims was set out at this time and for the first time a proper constitution was adopted (recently revised to keep pace with modern practice).

Because of its wide geographic spread, the Society has always seemed fairly rootless. In the early days, regular meetings were held in Caxton Hall, London, (which is probably why that city features in the Society's name) but later there was only one regular meeting – the Annual General Meeting – held in the late spring, usually in London. In recent years locally organised meetings have been held in the UK and USA. The main unifying thread in the Society was the Journal – which went from strength to strength under the editorship of Jeff Ertughrul, who received many awards for the standard which he set.

Many of the Society's members, past and present, have distinguished themselves in the world of philately, particularly in the wide range of published works by people such as Coles & Walker; Tranmer; Birken, Bayindir; Phipps, and Basaran. Others, such as the late Otto Hornung, Michael Fulford, Christopher Cruttwell and more recently Mehmet Basaran have distinguished themselves as prominent philatelists earning several awards including Grand Prix, National Grand Prix and Large Gold at National and International stamp exhibitions worldwide.

At the last AGM, the members voted to wind up the society with immediate effect.

Ankara 2023 National and International Stamp Exhibition – Results

Editor: In August, FEPA announced a stamp exhibition to be held within weeks. Very unusual, as such events are organised (and advertised) sometimes years in advance. I quote from the FEPA website:¹¹

The Turkish Philatelic Federation is organising the International Stamp Exhibition Ankara'23, on the occasion of the 100th Anniversary of the Foundation of the Republic of Turkey. The Turkish Postal Administration is the main sponsor of the event. Ankara'23 will be held at Ulucanlar Prison Museum & Cultural Centre, in Ankara, under FEPA Recognition.

The national part of the Exhibition is expected to cover 500 frames, between 20 and 30 October 2023. During the last four days, 27–30 October, another 250–300 frames will be added for international participation. The international part of the exhibition will include the countries that separated from the Ottoman Empire or the countries that had postal organisations within the Ottoman Empire during that period. The exhibits' themes must be associated with the Ottoman Empire, the Turkish War of Independence, the Republic of Turkey, Levant posts, military postal services in World War I, wars before or after WWI in the region (Balkan and independent wars and so on), maritime, air and train posts of those states, which separated from the Ottoman Empire, and specific to this region and period.

I did eventually receive an invitation from the organisers, but very late in the day. Upon enquiry with my home federation BDPH, the event was unknown, no national commissioner was appointed. In the end I decided not to enter MEPB in the literature section.

The exhibition's catalogue can be downloaded from the TFDT website, as are the results (palmarès).¹² I shall document the results on the following pages.

The 'Archive Section' provides usually reprints of long-lost or forgotten journal articles, booklets or books, only with sparse annotations, or legal texts. These are primarily intended for documentary purposes in the digital age.

This twenty-fifth instalment features three articles documenting important non-UPU postal conventions between the Ottoman Empire and Persia affecting the regular mail as well as introducing a parcel service.

The two postal conventions of 1884, 1892, and the 1905 amendment are transcribed and translated.

The Postal Convention of 1884 Between the Ottoman Empire and Persia compiled and translated by Tobias Zywietz

Copyright © 2023

The Postal Convention of 1884 between the Ottoman Empire and Persia is widely unknown amongst philatelists and I and Björn Sohrne are not aware of any mention in philatelic literature. Not even Tanrıkut mentions this treaty.

Through Dr. Mehmet Çetin, Björn has gained access to the original hand-written treaty from the National Archives in Istanbul,¹ which I have now transcribed and translated.²

First comes the English translation, then the transcription of the original French text, the German translation, and in conclusion scans of the original document, which includes also the text in Ottoman-Turkish.

1. English Translation

Postal Convention between the Ottoman Empire and Persia.

Between His Excellency Mr. Izzet Effendi, Director General of the Post and Telegraph Department of the Ottoman Empire, and His Excellency Marshal Mohsin Khan, Ambassador of Persia, Minister of State and Member of the Council of Ministers, duly authorised by their respective Governments, it has been agreed and determined as follows:

Article I.

A direct postal service shall be established between Turkey and Persia via the Bayazid–Khoi route.

Article II.

The exchange of postal bags shall take place at the Ottoman office of Bayazid, the Persian courier having to go as far as the latter locality.

The mail shall be escorted by zaptiés, both on the outward journey and on the return journey, to the frontier.

Article III.

The expenses incurred in the maintenance of the courier up to the respective frontiers shall be borne by each of the contracting states for the part which concerns them.

Article IV.

The Postal Convention of 1892 between the Ottoman Empire and Persia not widely known amongst philatelists, however Asaf Tanrıkut has published the transcription in his work.¹ Through Dr. Mehmet Çetin, Björn has gained access to the original hand-written treaty from the National Archives in Istanbul.²

The text translated³ and transcribed here follows the printed version published in 1892 by Tipographie & Lithographie Osmanié in Constantinople that I found online.⁴ First comes the English translation, then the transcription of the original French text, the German translation, the transcribed Ottoman-Turkish text (from Tanrıkut) and in conclusion scans of the original document, which includes also the text in Ottoman-Turkish and the three forms.⁵

Article 3.

The exchange of postal bags and other objects shall take place at the Ottoman office of Bayazid and at that of Khanaqin, the Persian mails having to go to these localities.

The couriers will be escorted by zaptiés to and from the border.

In the event of the establishment of other routes, the two administrations shall fix the points of exchange by prior agreement.

Article 4.

The movement of mails on the routes of exchange provided for in Article 2 shall be regulated by common agreement between the two administrations; the exchanges shall take place at least once a week.

Article 5.

The postal correspondence and other objects referred to in Art. 1 above are:

1. The postal articles provided for by the Universal Postal Convention, that is to say, letters, postcards, printed matter, business papers, samples of goods, etc.
2. Envelopes containing securities;
3. Consignments of specie in groups;
4. Valuable objects, such as jewellery and other precious objects;
5. Freight items with or without declaration of value.

Article 6.

For the postal and other objects mentioned in Art. 5 above under № 1 are adopted the stipulations of the relevant international conventions and arrangements, as well as the detailed regulations and additional acts relating thereto.

Article 7.

Envelopes containing securities, groups of specie, valuables and freight items (Art. 5 Nos 2, 3, 4, and 5) are subject to the domestic postage in force in the postal service of each country. They shall be franked only up to the respective frontiers. This franking is compulsory. The postage for the country of destination will be collected from the addressee.

Article 8.

The sender of an envelope containing securities, groups of specie, a valuable object, or a freight item may request, either at the time of deposit or within a period of one year, and subject to the prior payment of a fee of 40 paras or 7 shahis, that he be given notice of the delivery to the addressee.

This fee shall be forfeited to the Administration which collected it.

Article 9

Envelopes containing securities, specie in groups, valuables and freight items which are not deliverable and are returned to the office of origin shall be charged a new tax by that office, which shall be retained in full.

However, if the reconsignment takes place as a result of misdirection due to an error attributable to the postal service, the said articles shall not be subject to a new tax.

Article 10.

No postal charges other than those provided for in Articles 7, 8 and 9 may be levied on envelopes containing securities, specie in groups, valuables and freight items.

The right is reserved, however, for the postal administrations of the two countries to charge packing fees for the packing of groups and valuables at the sending office.

Article 11.

The metric system is, to the exclusion of all others, adopted in postal relations between the two countries.

Article 12.

It is prohibited to send groups, valuables and freight items containing letters or notes that are correspondence in nature.

Also excluded from transport are consignments containing objects the admission of which is forbidden by the laws and regulations of the two countries, those containing inflammable or explosive materials, corrosive liquids, as well as consignments which are likely to damage others.

The two administrations reserve the right to refuse consignments containing other liquids, fragile objects or live animals.

Article 13.

In case of loss, plundering or total damage of an envelope containing securities, a group, an object of value, or a freight item with a declaration of value, the sender or, failing this, or at his request, the addressee shall be entitled to compensation equal to the declared value.

However, in case of loss, spoliation or partial damage lower than the declared value, only the amount of the actual loss shall be reimbursed.

In case of total or partial loss, plundering or damage of an item of mail without declaration of value, the sender or, failing this, the consignee, at his request shall be entitled to an indemnity corresponding to the actual amount of the loss or damage, but this indemnity shall not exceed the amount of twenty gold piastres or one half of a gold toman per kilogramme of the lost or damaged part.

Article 14.

The administrations shall not be responsible and shall not be liable to pay any compensation for loss or damage in the following cases:

1. When the loss or damage is the result of war or insurrection in the interior, or of any other movement whose repression requires more force than the local authority would have at its disposal;
2. in the event of fire in the post office;
3. loss resulting from accidents due to natural hazard which it would be impossible to prevent;
4. when the loss or damage arises from the nature of the item or its contents, or is caused by the carelessness or negligence of the sender himself;
5. when, at the time of delivery of the consignment, the closure and packaging are externally intact and the weight corresponds to that recorded at the time of deposit;
6. when the consignee or his representative has, without observations or reservations, taken delivery of the consignment duly delivered;
7. when it concerns the damage of consignments containing liquids, fragile objects or live animals.

The administrations shall not assume any liability for indirect damage or unrealised profits.

Article 15.

Claims for compensation shall only be admitted within one year from the date of deposit of the item at the post office, after which the claimants shall not be entitled to any compensation.

The payment of compensation may not be delayed for more than one year from the date of the claim.

The obligation to pay the compensation shall be incumbent on the administration to which the despatch office belongs. Any recourse against the Administration in whose territory or service the loss, plundering or damage occurred shall be reserved to that Administration.

Article 16.

Until the contrary is proven, the administration which, having received the object without making observations in accordance with the Regulations provided for in Article 19, is not able to establish either its delivery to the consignee or, where appropriate, its subsequent transmission, shall be considered as solely responsible and therefore liable to pay the compensation.

Article 17.

Any declaration of value higher or lower than the actual value of the contents of valuables and freight items with a declaration of value is prohibited.

In case of fraudulent declaration the sender loses all right to compensation without prejudice to legal proceedings which may be provided for by the legislation of the country of origin.

Article 18.

All envelopes containing securities, specie in groups, valuables and freight items of which the addressee cannot be found or has not taken delivery, after prior notice, within a period of six months, shall be considered as rejects and returned to the office of origin.

Article 19.

The points of exchange, the order and method of transmission of envelopes with securities, specie in groups, valuables and freight items, their weight and dimensions, their maximum declared value, as well as all the service details, shall be determined by implementing regulations drawn up by mutual agreement between the postal administrations of the Contracting States.

Implementation Regulations to the Postal Convention concluded between Turkey and Persia at Constantinople on 27 August / 8 September 1890.

The undersigned administrations, having regard to Art. 19 of the Postal Convention concluded between Turkey and Persia on 27th August / 8th September 1890, have agreed on the following measures to ensure the implementation of said Convention.

Article 1.

Couriers. — The operation of couriers between the two countries shall be regulated as follows:

The Persian courier coming from Khoy shall arrive at Bayazid the day before the regular departure of the Courier from Bayazid for Trebizond–Constantinople, and shall leave Bayazid only the day after the regular arrival of the courier from Constantinople–Trebizond at Bayazid.

In the event of delays in the arrival of the latter mails at Bayazid, the departure of the Persian mails from Bayazid may be delayed for not more than 24 hours beyond the regular departure.

The Persian courier coming from Kermanshah must arrive in Khanaqin the day before the departure of the Khanaqin courier for Baghdad and it can only leave Khanaqin the day after the arrival in Khanaqin of the Baghdad courier.

The Ottoman Administration undertakes to regulate the course of the courier between Baghdad and Khanaqin, as far as possible, in such a way as to coincide with the Baghdad–Damascus and Baghdad–Diyarbakır–Samsun mails.

Article 2.

The exchange of letter post. — The exchange of the postal articles between the two countries provided for by the Universal Postal Convention, that is to say, letters, postcards, printed matter, business papers, samples of goods, either simple or registered, shall take place at Bayazid and Khanaqin in closed bags.

Closed bags containing these articles will be sent through these routes at least once a week:

The two administrations may at any time authorise other post offices to participate in the exchange of closed bags containing letter-post items.

The exchange of closed bags between the Ottoman and Persian offices, by way of Russia or by sea, through the intermediary of the English ships of the Baghdad–Bombay line, shall be regulated separately, by simple administrative correspondence.

Unless otherwise agreed between the two administrations, each office sending a closed bag shall use its own bags and the receiving offices shall be obliged to return with the nearest courier the empty bags in their closed bags and register these in the letter bill as registered mail.

All other details of the service concerning the closed bags and the postal items contained therein shall be regulated in accordance with the provisions of the General Convention of the Universal Postal Union and its detailed regulations.

Article 3.

Post offices admitted to the various services. — The contracting administrations shall communicate to each other the list of post offices in their countries which shall be admitted to the service of letters containing securities, specie in groups and valuables, as well as freight items.

It is understood that for items whose contents are subject to customs duty, the Administration of the destination country undertakes only to transport such items to the post office at the headquarters of a customs office nearest to the place of destination. The consignee, who will be informed, free of charge, of the arrival of his consignment by an official notice, will have to collect his consignment from the said office, either personally or through a duly authorised representative. The postage to be charged shall be calculated according to the internal tariff and on the basis of the distance between the frontier and the said post office.

It shall naturally be for the customs authority at the office of exchange at the frontier to decide which consignments shall be admitted for free entry into the destination country and which shall be subject to customs formalities at the post office mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

Article 4.

Packaging of envelopes containing securities. — Packages containing securities shall be wrapped in a waxed cloth or hide, either of one piece or entirely sewn inside, and this package shall be strongly bound by means of a single piece of string or cord.

The ends of the rope or string shall be passed through a tin capsule and shall be fixed therein by a wax seal (see attached figure). In addition, a sufficient number of wax seals shall be applied to the ends of the package and to the seams, if any, in such a way that the contents of the package cannot be tampered with without external and visible damage to the package or the seals.

Figs. 1–3: The 'tin capsule' as depicted in the hand-written copy of the treaty, and on p. 6 (French text) and p. 5 (Ottoman-Turkish text) of the printed treaty.

Article 5.

Packaging of specie in groups and valuables. — Coins and valuables shall be packed in bags, saddlebags, boxes or crates which shall not contain letters or other handwritten material having the character of correspondence. The bags or saddlebags shall be in one piece or entirely sewn together inside and in perfect condition, i.e. not torn or mended.

The mouths of the bags or sacks shall be closed by means of an intact cord or string (without splice or extension), the ends of which, after being passed through the throat of the bags or sacks and tied tightly, shall be held on a wooden tablet by one or two wax seals or, better still, shall be passed through a tin cap and fixed thereon by a fine wax seal.

The packaging of the bags or sacks shall be elongated in the form of an ear for the inscription of the address and other necessary postal indications.

Figs. 4–6: The 'bag or sack' as depicted in the hand-written copy of the treaty, and on p. 7 (French text) and p. 6 (Ottoman-Turkish text) of the printed treaty.

In the absence of seals, the ends of the rope or string may be inserted near the knot into a lead seal bearing the imprint of distinctive signs.

Boxes or crates shall be carefully closed or nailed and shall show no evidence of having been opened and re-closed or broken; they may also be wrapped in cloth, wax cloth or hide, either in one piece or sewn entirely inside.

For small fragile boxes or crates, wrapping in wax cloth or hide is mandatory.

Packages so made shall be tightly bound with a single piece of string, the ends of which shall be fixed either to a wooden label or in a tin capsule, by means of fine wax seals (see 2nd paragraph of this article) or which shall pass through a lead.

Equal wax seals shall, in addition, be applied in sufficient number to the ends and seams of the package, to the slits of the boxes or crates and to the nailheads of a sufficient number of the nails which close the crates.

In general, specie in groups and valuables must be so well packed that it is impossible to tamper with the contents of the consignments without leaving an apparent trace of tampering or without the packing and seals being externally and visibly damaged.

Article 6.

Packaging of freight items. — Freight items with declared value must be packed in the same way as valuables.

Simple freight consignments should be packed in bales, crates or parcels in a way that suits the duration of the transport and preserves the contents sufficiently.

The packaging must be such that it is impossible to tamper with the contents without leaving an apparent trace of tampering. Items shall be sealed by one or more seals, wax stamps or other means with the sender's special impression or mark.

Freight items shall not contain closed or open letters or handwritten notes having the character of correspondence. However, it shall be permissible to include in such consignments, as well as in valuables, invoices, notes or similar papers, listing their contents, the numbers, marks, prices and signs of the goods contained in the consignment.

Article 7.

Seals. — Initials, inscriptions, coats of arms, company names or names of establishments, impressed on wax seal or seals affixed to the items listed in Articles 4, 5 and 6 must be perfectly legible and distinct. Grid impressions and impressions made with coins are expressly excluded.

Article 8.

Official seals. — Each administration is free to apply to the said items one or more official seals or leads either by the despatch office or by the office of exchange, in order to protect these consignments against any violation of the contents.

Article 9.

Packaging of consignments. — The right is reserved to each Administration to require that the preparation of envelopes containing securities, specie in groups and valuables be done at the post office by a postal employee or by the sender in the presence of such employee.

Article 10.

Address. — Addresses must be written on the wrapping of the consignments themselves and must indicate the name of the addressee, his social position, his residence, the distributing post office, in such a way as to leave no doubt as to the person of the addressee.

Article 11.

Declaration of value. — The declaration of value on envelopes containing securities, on specie in groups, valuables and on freight items with declared value, must be expressed in the currency of the country of origin, and must be written on the address of the item in words and figures, without erasures or overwriting, even if approved.

On receipt of the consignment at the frontier office, that office shall convert the sum declared into the currency of its country the equivalent thereof, indicating by means of new figures, placed beside or below the figures representing the amount of the declaration.

For this purpose, a gold Toman (= ten Krans = two hundred Shahis) shall be calculated as equal to forty-five Piastres (one Piastre = forty Paras) and the Medjidié according to the legal rate.

Article 12.

Customs declaration. — Each envelope containing securities, each group of specie, each object of value, and each freight consignment shall be accompanied by two customs declarations similar or conforming to the attached Form A and which shall bear, next to the signature of the sender, in stamped ink, an imprint of his seal used for closing the consignment.

Article 13.

Maximum value and weight. — The maximum value of an envelope containing securities, specie in a group, an object of value and a freight item with declared value is set at one thousand gold Tomans or forty-five thousand Piastres.

The maximum weight of an envelope containing securities or a group of specie or an item of value is set at 5 kilogrammes and that of a freight item at 12 kilogrammes.

The following dimensions must not be exceeded:

1. For envelopes containing securities, specie in groups and valuables: 40 centimetres in length, 30 centimetres in width, and 20 centimetres in thickness.
2. For freight items: 70 centimetres in length, 55 centimetres in width, and 40 centimetres in thickness.

Article 14.

Weighing – Postmark. — Envelopes containing securities, specie in groups and objects of value, as well as freight items, shall be weighed at the time of despatch at the post office and their weight shall be marked on the item itself next to the address.

For freight items, the weight will be marked in kilogrammes and grammes, with fractions of 10 grams to be disregarded; for all other consignments mentioned above, the weight is recorded in kilogrammes and grammes, with only fractions of one gramme to be disregarded.

A legible imprint of the date stamp or the handwritten name of the office of despatch shall be shown on the packaging of consignments next to the address, as well as on the customs declarations.

Article 15.

Exchange of consignments other than letter post. — The exchange of envelopes with securities, specie in groups and valuables, as well as freight items, shall be carried out in the open at the post offices in Bayazid and Khanaqin, between the Ottoman employee and the Persian courier.

The Ottoman employee, after having ascertained that the consignments to be handed over to the Persian courier are completely intact, as to packaging and sealing, and that their weight is in conformity with that marked by the despatch office, shall translate, if necessary, the inscriptions on the items from Turkish into French.

If the weight of a consignment is found to be less than or greater than that marked by the despatch office or if the despatch office has omitted to mark the weight of the consignment altogether, but the packaging, sealing and all wrapping of the consignment are intact and there is no suspicion that the consignment has been damaged, the Ottoman employee shall write the weight found below the weight indicated by the despatch office or in its place, as follows:

and this weight will be the basis for all subsequent checks.

The Ottoman employee shall then enter each consignment to Persia on a letter bill similar to form B attached hereto, which shall be made out in triplicate.

The Ottoman employee will hand over to the Persian courier each consignment separately, i.e. one by one, according to the entries which have already been made on the letter bill and on its duplicates, one of which will remain in the hands of the employee handing over and the other two in the hands of the receiving employee once all three have been signed by the above two employees.

It shall be the duty of the Persian courier to examine with meticulous attention the consignments handed over to him and to ensure in the presence of the Ottoman employee that the seals, the closures and all the packaging of the consignments are perfectly orderly and exclude any suspicion of improper opening and that the weight of the consignments conform to that marked on the consignments themselves and in the letter bills.

If the Persian courier finds differences in weight without the general packaging of the consignment leaving something to be desired, he will, in agreement with the Ottoman employee, enter the weight found on the consignment and correct the entries relating to the weight in the three letter bills.

The observations of the Persian courier on the shortcomings in the orderly packaging of the consignments shall be entered in the "observations" column of the three letter bills and acknowledged by the signature of the Ottoman employee. However, if the defects in the packaging of the consignments are such as to give rise to the suspicion of improper opening, the Persian employee shall have the right to refuse to accept the said item. For each similar case, the entry on the letter bills shall be cancelled and an explanatory remark shall be entered on the said sheets and signed by the two above-mentioned employees.

The customs declarations shall be handed over together with the letter bill to the Persian courier and the imprint of the sender's seal on the declaration shall provide the Persian courier with the means of checking that the seals on the consignment itself are those applied by the sender.

The same procedure shall be followed, mutatis mutandis, with regard to the exchange of consignments from Persia to Turkey.

Article 16.

Absence of customs declarations. — If a consignment arrives at the frontier office without any customs declaration, this post office shall apply to the consignment, before handing it over to the official from the other country, official seals in sufficient number to protect the contents against any damage and shall add to it an official declaration in accordance with the attached Form C.

Article 17.

Notice of receipt. — Notices of receipt accompanying an envelope containing securities, specie in a group, a valuable object or a freight item shall be marked on the letter bill in the column provided for and shall be returned, after being signed by the addressees or by their proxies, directly to the post office of origin in a registered envelope.

Article 18.

Accounting. — A current account shall be kept between the administrations only for envelopes containing securities, for specie in groups and objects of value and for freight items which have been refused by the addressees and which, for this reason as for others, have been returned to the sending post, being charged, in addition to the postage for despatch from the frontier to the destination, and the return postage.

The settlement of accounts will take place every six months on the basis of the entries on the letter bill in the “droits à bonifier” (refundable charges) column.

This same column shall also include the costs incurred for repackaging or for the completion of customs formalities for each consignment, which shall be charged to the sender or the consignee, as the case may be.

Convention Postale entre la Turquie et la Perse.

L'Administration des postes et télégraphes Ottomans et l'Administration des postes persanes étant invitées à s'entendre au sujet d'une nouvelle convention postale, les soussignés dûment autorisés par leurs Gouvernements respectifs ont conclu la convention suivante:

Article 1^{er}

Entre l'Administration des postes et télégraphes ottomans et l'Administration des postes persanes, il sera établi un échange direct périodique et régulier de correspondances postales et autres objets originaires des deux pays représentés par ces deux administrations ou provenant des pays qui se servent ou qui seront disposés à se servir de l'intermédiaire des deux pays contractants pour l'acheminement de leurs envois.

Article 2.

Cet échange sera effectué par les voies de Bayazid– Khoï et de Hanékine–Kirmanshah.

Les deux Administrations pourront, en tout temps, lorsqu'elles en reconnaîtront l'opportunité, augmenter les moyens d'échange et modifier les formalités de service.

L'échange des valises postales et des autres objets aura lieu au bureau ottoman de Bayazid et à celui de Hanékine, les courriers persans devant se rendre jusqu'à ces localités.

Les courriers seront escortés par des zaptiés tant à l'aller qu'au retour, jusqu'à la frontière.

En cas d'établissement d'autres voies, les deux Administrations fixeront les points d'échange par une entente préalable.

Article 4.

La marche des courriers sur les voies d'échange prévues par l'Art. 2 sera réglée d'un commun accord entre les deux Administrations; les échanges auront lieu au moins une fois par semaine.

Article 5.

Les correspondances postales et autres objets visés à l'Art. 1^{er} ci-dessus sont:

- 1° Les articles de poste prévus par la Convention postale universelle, soit lettres, cartes postales, imprimés, papiers d'affaires, échantillons de marchandises, etc.
- 2° Les plis contenant des papiers-valeurs;
- 3° Les envois de numéraire en groups;
- 4° Les objets de valeur, tels que bijoux et autres objets précieux;
- 5° Les envois de messageries avec ou sans déclaration de valeur.

Article 6.

Pour les objets de poste et autres mentionnés à l'Art. 5 ci-dessus sous le N° 1° sont adoptées les stipulations des conventions et arrangements internationaux [s']y relatifs, ainsi que des règlements de détail et des actes additionnels qui s'y rapportent.

Article 7.

Les plis contenant des papiers-valeurs, les groups, les objets de valeur et les envois de messageries (Art. 5 N°s 2° 3° 4° 5°) sont soumis aux taxes internes en vigueur dans le service de chaque pays. Ils ne seront affranchis que jusqu'aux frontières respectives. Cet affranchissement est obligatoire. La taxe afférente au pays destinataire sera perçue du destinataire.

Article 8.

L'expéditeur d'un pli contenant des papiers-valeurs, d'un group, d'un objet de valeur, ou d'un envoi de messageries peut demander, soit au moment du dépôt, soit dans un délai d'un an, et moyennant l'acquiescement préalable d'un droit de quarante paras ou sept shahis qu'il lui soit donné avis de la remise au destinataire.

Ce droit reste acquis à l'Administration qui l'a perçu.

Article 9

Les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, les groups, les objets de valeur et les envois de messageries tombés en rebut et renvoyés au bureau d'origine sont frappés par ce bureau d'une nouvelle taxe qui lui reste acquise en entier.

Toutefois si la réexpédition a lieu par suite de fausse direction provenant d'une erreur imputable au service, les dits objets ne seront pas frappés d'une nouvelle taxe.

Article 10.

Les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, les groups, les objets de valeur et les envois de messageries ne peuvent être frappés d'aucun droit postal autre que ceux prévus par les Articles 7, 8 et 9.

Est réservé toutefois aux Administrations postales des deux pays, le droit de percevoir des frais d'emballage pour le confectionnement au bureau expéditeur des groups et des envois d'objets de valeur.

Article 11.

Le système métrique est, à l'exclusion de tout autre, adopté dans les rapports postaux entre les deux pays.

Article 12.

Il est interdit d'expédier des groups, des objets de valeur et des objets de messageries contenant des lettres ou des notes ayant le caractère de correspondance.

Sont également exclus du transport les envois contenant des objets dont l'admission est défendue par les lois et règlements des deux pays, ceux contenant des matières inflammables ou explosives, des liquides corrosifs, de même que les envois qui sont de nature à endommager les autres.

Les deux Administrations se réservent le droit de refuser des envois contenant d'autres liquides, des objets fragiles, ou des animaux vivants.

Article 13.

En cas de perte, de spoliation ou d'avarie totale d'un pli contenant des papiers-valeur, d'un group, d'un objet de valeur, ou d'un objet de messageries avec déclaration de valeur, l'expéditeur ou à défaut, ou sur sa demande, le destinataire a droit à une indemnité égale à la valeur déclarée.

Toutefois en cas de perte, de spoliation ou d'avarie partielle inférieure à la valeur déclarée, il n'est remboursé que le montant de la perte réelle.

En cas de perte, de spoliation ou d'avarie, totale ou partielle, d'un objet de messageries sans déclaration de valeur, l'expéditeur ou à défaut, ou sur sa demande, le destinataire a droit à une indemnité correspondante au montant réel de la perte ou de l'avarie, sans toutefois que cette indemnité puisse dépasser le montant de vingt piastres or ou un demi-toman or par kilogramme de la partie perdue ou avariée.

Article 14.

Les Administrations ne sont pas responsables et ne seront tenues de payer aucune indemnité pour pertes ou dégâts dans les cas suivants:

- 1° Lorsque la perte ou l'avarie résultera d'événements de guerre ou d'insurrection à l'intérieur, ou de tout autre mouvement dont la repression exige plus de force que l'autorité locale n'en disposerait;
- 2° Dans le cas d'incendie de l'office postal;
- 3° La perte résultant d'accidents dûs à l'action des éléments et qu'il serait impossible de conjurer;
- 4° Lorsque la perte ou l'avarie proviendrait de la nature même de l'envoi, ou de son contenu, ou qu'elle serait causée par l'incurie ou la négligence de l'expéditeur même;
- 5° Lorsqu'au moment de la livraison des envois la fermeture et l'emballage sont extérieurement intacts et que le poids correspond à celui constaté au moment du dépôt;
- 6° Lorsque le destinataire ou son représentant aura, sans observations, ni réserves, pris livraison de l'envoi régulièrement délivré ;
- 7° Lorsqu'il s'agit de l'avarie des envois contenant des liquides, des objets fragiles ou des animaux vivants.

Les Administrations n'assument aucune responsabilité pour dommages indirects ou bénéfiques non réalisés.

Article 15.

Les réclamations pour indemnité ne sont admises que dans le délai d'un an à partir de la date du dépôt de l'objet à la poste, passé ce délai les réclamants n'ont droit à aucune indemnité.

Le paiement de l'indemnité ne peut être retardé au delà d'un an, à partir du jour de la date de la réclamation.

L'obligation de payer l'indemnité incombe à l'Administration dont relève le bureau expéditeur. Est réservé à cette Administration le recours éventuel contre l'Administration sur le territoire ou dans le service de laquelle la perte, la spoliation ou l'avarie a eu lieu.

Article 16.

Jusqu'à preuve du contraire est considérée comme seule responsable, et par conséquent tenue de payer l'indemnité, l'Administration qui, ayant reçu l'objet sans faire d'observations conformément au règlement d'exécution prévu par l'Article 19, ne peut établir ni la remise au destinataire, ni s'il y a lieu, sa transmission ultérieure.

Article 17.

Toute déclaration de valeur supérieure ou inférieure à la valeur réelle du contenu des objets de valeur et des articles de messageries avec déclaration de valeur est interdite.

En cas de déclaration frauduleuse l'expéditeur perd tout droit à une indemnité sans préjudice des poursuites judiciaires que peut comporter la législation du pays d'origine.

Article 18.

Sont considérés comme rebuts et renvoyés au bureau d'origine tous les plis contenant des papiers-valeurs, les groups, les objets de valeur et les articles de messageries dont le destinataire est introuvable ou n'a pas pris livraison, après avis préalable, dans un délai de six mois.

Article 19.

Les points d'échange, l'ordre et le mode de transmission des plis avec papiers-valeur, groups, objets de valeur et articles de messageries, leur poids et leurs dimensions, leur maximum de valeur déclarée, ainsi que tous les détails du service, seront déterminés par un règlement d'exécution élaboré d'un commun accord par les soins des Administrations des postes des Etats contractants.

Article 20.

Il est convenu que la langue française sera employée dans tous les rapports entre les Administrations postales des deux pays contractants.

Article 21.

La législation intérieure des deux pays demeure applicable en tout ce qui n'est pas prévu par les stipulations contenues dans la présente convention.

Article 22.

La présente convention entrera en vigueur à partir du jour dont les administrations postales respectives conviendront et demeurera obligatoire aussi longtemps que l'une des parties contractantes n'en aura dénoncé la résiliation une année d'avance.

Les Administrations soussignées, vu l'Art. 19 de la Convention postale conclue entre la Turquie et la Perse le 27 Août / 8 Septembre 1890, ont arrêté d'un commun accord, les mesures suivantes pour assurer l'exécution de la dite Convention.

Article 1^{er}

Courriers.— La marche des courriers reliant les deux pays sera réglée comme suit:

Le Courrier Persan venant de Khoy doit arriver à Bayazid la veille du départ régulier du courrier de Bayazid pour Trébizonde–Constantinople et il ne partira de Bayazid que le lendemain de l'arrivée régulière du courrier de Constantinople–Trébizonde à Bayazid.

En cas de retards dans l'arrivée de ce dernier courrier à Bayazid, le départ du courrier Persan de Bayazid ne peut être retardé que 24 heures au plus au delà du départ régulier.

Le courrier Persan venant de Kirmanshah doit arriver à Hanékine la veille du départ du courrier de Hanékine pour Bagdad et il ne pourra repartir de Hanékine que le lendemain de l'arrivée à Hanékine du courrier de Bagdad.

L'Administration Ottomane s'engage à régler la marche du courrier entre Bagdad et Hanékine, tant que possible, de manière à ce qu'il y ait coïncidence avec les courriers Bagdad–Damas et Bagdad–Diarbékir–Samsoun.

Article 2.7

Echange de la poste aux lettres. — L'échange entre les deux pays, des articles de poste prévus par la Convention postale universelle, soit lettres, cartes-postales, imprimés, papiers d'affaires, échantillons de marchandises, soit simples, soit recommandés, aura lieu à Bayazid et à Hanékine en valises closes.

Seront expédiées par ces voies des valises closes contenant ces articles, au moins une fois par semaine:

séparément, par simple correspondance administrative.

Tous les autres détails du service concernant les valises closes et les articles de poste y contenus se règlent suivant les stipulations de la Convention Générale de l'Union Postale et de son Règlement de détail.

Article 3.

Bureaux de poste admis aux différents services. — Les Administrations contractantes se communiqueront réciproquement la liste des bureaux de poste de leur pays qui seront admis au service des plis contenant des papiers-valeur, des envois de numéraire en groups et des objets de valeur, ainsi que des envois de messagerie.

Il est bien entendu que pour les envois dont le contenu est soumis au droit douanier, l'Administration du pays destinataire ne s'engage qu'à transporter ces envois jusqu'au bureau de poste au siège d'un bureau douanier et le plus proche du lieu de destination. Le destinataire qui sera prévenu de l'arrivée de son envoi par un avis officiel et gratuit, aura à retirer son envoi du dit bureau, soit personnellement, soit par un fondé de pouvoirs dûment autorisé. La taxe à percevoir sera calculée d'après le tarif interne et sur la base de la distance entre la frontière et le dit bureau de poste.

Il appartiendra naturellement à l'autorité douanière au bureau d'échange à la frontière, de désigner lesquels des envois seront admis à la libre entrée au pays destinataire et lesquels seront à soumettre aux formalités douanières au bureau de poste mentionné dans l'alinéa précédent.

Article 4.

Conditionnement des plis contenant des papiers-valeur. — Les plis contenant des papiers-valeur doivent être enveloppés dans une toile cirée ou peau, soit d'une seule pièce, soit entièrement cousue en dedans, et ce paquet devra être fortement lié au moyen d'une corde ou ficelle d'un seul morceau.

Les bouts de la corde ou ficelle seront passés à travers une capsule en étain et y seront fixés par un cachet à la cire. (Voir la figure ci-jointe). En outre seront à appliquer sur les bouts de l'emballage et sur les coutures, s'il y en a, des cachets en nombre suffisant et de manière qu'il ne puisse être porté aucune atteinte au contenu du paquet sans endommager extérieurement et visiblement l'emballage ou les cachets.

Figs. 1–3: La "capsule en étain" qui figure dans la copie manuscrite du traité, et à la page 6 (texte français) et à la page 5 (texte ottoman-turc) du traité imprimé.

Article 5.

Conditionnement des envois de numéraire en groups et des objets de valeur. — Les monnaies ainsi que les objets de valeur seront renfermés dans des sacs, sacoches, boîtes ou caisses qui ne doivent pas contenir de lettres, ni d'autres pièces manuscrites ayant le caractère d'une correspondance. Les sacs ou sacoches seront d'une seule pièce ou entièrement cousus en dedans et parfaitement conditionnés, c'est-à-dire ni déchirés ni raccommodés.

L'issue des sacs ou sacoches sera fermée au moyen d'une corde ou ficelle intacte (sans épissure, ni allonge), dont les bouts après avoir été passés à travers la gorge des sacs ou sacoches et bien noués, seront maintenus sur une étiquette en bois par un ou deux cachets à la cire ou ce qui est mieux passeront à travers une capsule en étain et y seront fixés par un cachet en cire fine.

L'emballage des sacs ou sacoches sera allongé en forme d'une oreille destinée pour l'inscription de l'adresse et des autres indications postales nécessaires.

A défaut de cachets les bouts de la corde ou ficelle peuvent être introduits près du nœud dans un plomb portant l'empreinte de signes distinctifs.

Figs. 4–6: Le "sac ou sacoches" qui figure dans la copie manuscrite du traité, et à la p. 7 (texte français) et à la p. 6 (texte ottoman-turc) du traité imprimé.

Les boîtes ou caisses seront soigneusement fermées ou clouées et ne doivent présenter aucune trace d'issue refermée, ni de fracture; elles peuvent en outre être enveloppées d'une toile, toile cirée ou peau, soit d'une seule pièce, soit entièrement cousue en dedans.

Pour les petites boîtes ou caisses fragiles, l'emballage dans une toile cirée ou peau est obligatoire.

Les paquets ainsi confectionnés seront fortement liés au moyen d'une corde d'un seul morceau dont les bouts seront fixés soit sur une étiquette en bois, soit dans une capsule en étain, au moyen de cachets en cire fine (voir 2^{me} alinéa de cet article) ou qui passeront par un plomb.

Des cachets égaux seront, en outre, appliqués en nombre suffisant sur les bouts et les coutures de l'emballage, sur les fentes des boîtes ou caisses et sur les têtes d'un assez grand nombre des clous qui ferment les caisses.

En général, les groupes et les objets de valeur doivent être tellement emballés qu'il soit impossible de porter atteinte au contenu des envois sans laisser une trace apparente de violation ou sans que l'emballage et les cachets soient extérieurement et visiblement endommagés.

Article 6.

Conditionnement des envois de messagerie. — Les envois de messagerie avec valeur déclarée doivent être emballés à l'instar des objets de valeur.

Les envois de messagerie simples seront à renfermer en ballots, caisses ou colis, d'une manière qui réponde à la durée du transport et qui préserve suffisamment le contenu.

L'emballage doit être tel qu'il soit impossible de porter atteinte au contenu sans laisser une trace apparente de violation. Les envois seront scellés par un ou plusieurs plombs, cachets à la cire ou par un autre moyen avec empreinte ou marque spéciale de l'expéditeur.

Les envois de messagerie ne doivent pas contenir de lettres fermées ou ouvertes, ni de notes manuscrites ayant le caractère d'une correspondance. Toutefois il sera permis d'inclure dans ces envois, de même que dans les objets de valeur, des factures, notes ou papiers semblables, énumérant leur contenu, les numéros, marques, prix et signes des marchandises contenues dans l'envoi.

Article 7.

Cachets. — Les initiales, légendes, armoiries, raisons sociales ou noms d'établissement, empreints sur les cachets à la cire ou sur les plombs apposés aux envois énumérés aux Articles 4, 5 et 6 doivent être parfaitement lisibles et distincts. Les empreintes en grilles et celles faites avec des pièces de monnaie sont formellement exclues.

Article 8.

Cachets Officiels. — Il est loisible à chaque administration de faire appliquer aux dits envois un ou plusieurs plombs ou cachets officiels soit par le bureau expéditeur, soit par le bureau d'échange, dans le but de préserver ces envois contre une violation quelconque du contenu.

Article 9.

Confectionnement des envois. — Est réservé à chaque Administration le droit d'exiger que le confectionnement des plis contenant des papiers-valeur, des groups et des objets de valeur, soit fait au bureau de poste par un employé de la poste ou par l'expéditeur en présence de cet employé.

Article 10.

Adresse. — Les adresses doivent être inscrites sur remballage des envois mêmes et indiqueront le nom du destinataire, sa position sociale, sa demeure, le bureau de poste distributeur, de manière à ne laisser aucun doute sur la personne du destinataire.

Article 11.

Déclaration de la valeur. — La déclaration de la valeur sur les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, sur les groups, les objets de valeur et sur les envois de messagerie avec valeur déclarée, doit être exprimée dans la monnaie du pays d'origine, et être inscrite sur l'adresse de l'envoi en toutes lettres et en chiffres, sans ratures ni surcharge, mêmes approuvés.

A la réception des envois au bureau frontière, ce bureau opère la conversion de la somme déclarée en la monnaie de son pays, on indiquant par de nouveaux chiffres, placés à côté ou au-dessous des chiffres représentatifs du montant de la déclaration, l'équivalent de celle-ci[.]

Pour ce but il sera calculé un Toman or (= dix Krans = deux cents Shahis) égal à quarante cinq Piastres (la piastre = quarante paras) et d'après le taux légal du Médjidié.

Article 12.

Déclaration en douane. — Chaque pli contenant des papiers-valeur, chaque group, chaque objet de valeur, et chaque envoi de messagerie doit être accompagné de deux déclarations en douane analogues ou conformes à la formule A ci-annexée et qui porteront à côté de la signature de l'expéditeur, en encre à tampon, une empreinte de son cachet employé pour la fermeture de l'envoi.

Valeur et Poids maxima. — La valeur maximum d'un pli contenant des papiers-valeur, d'un group, d'un objet de valeur et d'un envoi de messagerie avec valeur déclarée est fixée à mille Tomans or, ou quarante-cinq mille Piastres.

Le poids maximum d'un pli contenant des papiers-valeur ou d'un group ou d'un objet de valeur est fixé à 5 kilogrammes et celui d'un envoi de messagerie à 12 kilogrammes.

Les dimensions suivantes ne doivent pas être dépassées:

- 1° Pour les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, les groups et les objets de valeur, en longueur 40 centimètres, en largeur 30 centimètres, en épaisseur 20 centimètres.
- 2° Pour les objets de messagerie, en longueur 70 centimètres, en largeur 55 centimètres, en épaisseur 40 centimètres.

Article 14.

Pesage – Timbre. — Les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, les groups et les objets de valeur, ainsi que les envois de messagerie seront pesés au moment du dépôt à la poste et leur poids sera marqué sur l'envoi même à côté de l'adresse.

Pour les envois de messagerie le poids sera marqué en kilogrammes et grammes, les fractions de 10 grammes étant à négliger, pour tous les autres envois précités, le poids est constaté en kilogrammes et grammes, et ce ne sont que les fractions d'un gramme qui seront négligées.

Une empreinte lisible du timbre à date ou l'inscription à la main du nom du bureau expéditeur devra figurer sur l'emballage des envois à côté de l'adresse, ainsi que sur les déclarations en douane.

Article 15.

Echange des envois autres que la poste aux lettres. — L'échange des plis avec papiers-valeur, des groups et des objets de valeur, ainsi que des envois de messagerie, sera effectué à découvert aux bureaux de poste à Bayazid et à Hanékine, entre l'employé Ottoman et le courrier Persan.

L'employé Ottoman, après avoir constaté que les envois à remettre au courrier Persan sont tout-à-fait intacts, quant à l'emballage et à la fermeture, et que leur poids est conforme à celui marqué par le bureau expéditeur, traduira le cas échéant, les inscriptions sur les envois du turc en français.

En cas que le poids d'un envoi sera trouvé inférieur ou supérieur à celui marqué par le bureau expéditeur ou que celui-ci a tout-à-fait omis de marquer le poids de l'envoi, mais que l'emballage, la fermeture et tout le conditionnement de l'envoi sont intacts et qu'il n'existe pas de soupçon d'une atteinte portée à l'envoi, l'employé Ottoman inscrira, au-dessous du poids indiqué par le bureau expéditeur ou à sa place, le poids trouvé, comme suit :

« A Bayazid (Hanékine) kg gr. »

et ce sera ce poids qui servira de base pour tous les contrôles ultérieurs.

L'employé Ottoman inscrira ensuite chaque envoi à destination de la Perse dans une feuille d'envoi analogue à la formule B ci-annexée qui sera dressée en triple expédition.

L'employé Ottoman remettra au courrier Persan chaque envoi séparément, c'est-à-dire un à un, selon les inscriptions qui ont été déjà faites sur la feuille d'envoi et sur ses duplicata, dont l'une restera entre les mains de l'employé qui remet et les deux autres entre les mains de l'employé qui reçoit, après que tous les trois seront signées par les susdits deux employés.

Le courrier Persan aura le devoir d'examiner avec une attention minutieuse les objets à lui remis et de s'assurer en présence de l'employé Ottoman que les cachets, la fermeture et tout le conditionnement des envois sont parfaitement réguliers et excluent tout soupçon d'une ouverture abusive et que le poids des envois est conforme à celui marqué sur les envois et dans les feuilles d'envoi.

Si le courrier Persan constate des différences de poids sans que le conditionnement général de l'envoi laisse à désirer, il inscrira, d'accord avec l'employé ottoman, le poids trouvé sur l'envoi et rectifiera les inscriptions relatives au poids dans les trois feuilles d'envoi.

Les observations du courrier Persan sur les manques dans le bon conditionnement des envois seront inscrites dans la colonne «observations» des trois feuilles d'envoi et reconnus par la signature de l'employé ottoman. Mais si les défauts du conditionnement des envois sont de nature à admettre le soupçon d'une ouverture abusive, l'employé Persan aura le droit de refuser d'accepter le dit envoi. Pour chaque cas analogue, l'inscription des feuilles d'envoi sera annulée et une observation explicative sera inscrite sur les dites feuilles et signée par les deux employés précités.

Les déclarations en douane seront conjointement remises avec la feuille d'envoi au courrier Persan et l'empreinte du cachet de l'expéditeur, sur la déclaration, fournira au courrier Persan le moyen de contrôler que les cachets de l'envoi même soient ceux appliqués par l'expéditeur.

Le même procédé sera suivi, mutatis mutandis, à l'égard de l'échange des envois venant de la Perse et à destination de la Turquie.

Manque des déclarations en douane. — En cas qu'un envoi arriverait au bureau frontière, sans aucune déclaration en douane, ce bureau de poste devra appliquer à l'envoi, avant de le remettre à l'employé de l'autre pays, des cachets officiels en nombre suffisant pour protéger le contenu contre toute atteinte et il y ajoutera une déclaration officielle d'après la formule C ci-jointe.

Article 17.

Avis de réception. — Les avis de réception qui accompagneraient un pli contenant des papiers-valeur, un group, un objet de valeur ou un envoi de messagerie seront marqués dans la feuille d'envoi à la colonne prévue et ils seront renvoyés, après être signés par les destinataires ou par leurs fondés de pouvoirs, directement au bureau de poste d'origine sous enveloppe recommandée d'office.

Le règlement des comptes aura lieu tous les six mois, sur la base des inscriptions se trouvant sur la feuille d'envoi dans la colonne de «droits à bonifier».

Dans cette même colonne entreront également les frais occasionnés pour les réempaquetages ou pour l'accomplissement des formalités douanières de chaque envoi, et qui tomberont suivant le cas à la charge de l'expéditeur ou du destinataire.

Postabkommen zwischen der Türkei und Persien

Nachdem die Osmanische Post- und Telegraphenverwaltung und die Persische Postverwaltung aufgefordert waren, sich über einen neuen Postvertrag zu einigen, haben die von ihren jeweiligen Regierungen ordnungsgemäß ermächtigten Unterzeichneten den folgenden Vertrag geschlossen:

Artikel 1.

Zwischen der Osmanischen Post- und Telegraphenverwaltung und der Persischen Postverwaltung wird ein regelmäßiger und direkter Austausch von Postkorrespondenzen und anderen Gegenständen eingerichtet, die aus den beiden Ländern, die durch diese beiden Verwaltungen vertreten werden, stammen, oder aus den Ländern, die sich zur Beförderung ihrer Sendungen der Vermittlung der beiden vertragschließenden Länder bedienen oder bereit sein werden, sich ihrer zu bedienen.

Artikel 2.

Dieser Austausch wird über die Strecken Bayazid–Khoï und Hānaqīn–Kermanschah abgewickelt.

Die beiden Verwaltungen können jederzeit, wenn sie die Zweckmäßigkeit erkennen, die Mittel für den Austausch erhöhen und die Dienstformalitäten ändern.

Artikel 3.

Der Austausch von Postsäcken und anderen Gegenständen findet in den osmanischen Postämtern Bayazid und Hānaqīn statt, wobei die persischen Kuriere bis zu diesen Orten reisen müssen.

Die Kuriere werden sowohl auf dem Hin- als auch auf dem Rückweg bis zur Grenze von Zaptiés begleitet.

Falls andere Routen eingerichtet werden, werden die beiden Verwaltungen die Austauschpunkte durch eine vorherige Vereinbarung festlegen.

Artikel 4.

Der Kurierverkehr auf den in Art. 2 vorgesehenen Austauschwegen wird von den beiden Verwaltungen einvernehmlich geregelt; der Austausch findet mindestens einmal pro Woche statt.

Artikel 5.

Der Postverkehr und die anderen in Art. 1 oben sind:

1. Die im Weltpostvertrag vorgesehenen Poststücke, d.h. Briefe, Postkarten, Drucksachen, Geschäftspapiere, Warenmuster usw., die von der zuständigen Behörde genehmigt wurden.
2. Sendungen, die Wertpapiere enthalten;
3. Bargeldsendungen (Groups);
4. Wertgegenstände wie Schmuck und andere wertvolle Gegenstände;
5. Frachtsendungen mit oder ohne Wertangabe.

Artikel 6.

Für die in Art. 5 oben unter № 1 erwähnten Post- und sonstigen Gegenstände werden die Bestimmungen der diesbezüglichen internationalen Übereinkommen und Abmachungen sowie der Detailregelungen und Zusatzakte, die sich darauf beziehen, angenommen.

Artikel 7.

Briefe mit Wertpapieren, Bargeldsendungen (Groups), Wertgegenstände und Frachtsendungen (Art. 5, Ziffern 2, 3, 4 und 5) unterliegen den in der Postdienst jedes Landes geltenden Inlandsgebühren. Sie werden nur bis zu den jeweiligen Grenzen frankiert. Diese Frankierung ist obligatorisch. Die für das Empfängerland geltende Gebühr wird vom Empfänger erhoben.

Artikel 8.

Der Absender eines Briefes mit Wertpapieren, einer Bargeldsendung (Group), eines Wertgegenstandes oder einer Frachtsendung kann bei der Hinterlegung oder innerhalb eines Jahres nach vorheriger Entrichtung einer Gebühr von 40 Paras oder 7 Schahis verlangen, daß ihm die Übergabe an den Empfänger mitgeteilt wird.

Diese Gebühr verbleibt bei der Behörde, die sie erhoben hat.

Artikel 9

Umschläge mit Wertpapieren, Bargeldsendung (Group), Wertgegenständen und Frachtsendungen, die nicht zustellbar sind und an das Einlieferungsamt zurückgeschickt werden, werden von dieser Stelle mit einer neuen Gebühr belegt, die dieser in voller Höhe zusteht.

Erfolgt die Rücksendung jedoch aufgrund einer Fehlleitung, die auf einem der Dienststelle zuzurechnenden Fehler beruht, so werden die genannten Gegenstände nicht mit einer neuen Gebühr belegt.

Artikel 10.

Auf Umschlägen mit Wertpapieren, Bargeldsendungen (Groups), Wertgegenstände und Frachtsendungen darf keine andere Postgebühr erhoben werden als die in den Artikeln 7, 8 und 9 vorgesehenen.

Den Postverwaltungen der beiden Länder bleibt jedoch das Recht vorbehalten, Verpackungsgebühren für die Konfektionierung von Bargeldsendungen (Groups) und Wertsendungen im Einlieferungsamt zu erheben.

Artikel 11.

Das metrische System wird unter Ausschluß jedes anderen Systems im Postverkehr zwischen den beiden Ländern verwendet.

Artikel 12.

Es ist verboten, Bargeldsendungen (Groups), Wertgegenstände und Frachtgegenstände zu versenden, die Briefe oder Notizen enthalten, die Korrespondenzcharakter haben.

Ebenfalls von der Beförderung ausgeschlossen sind Sendungen mit Gegenständen, deren Zulassung nach den Gesetzen und Vorschriften der beiden Länder verboten ist, Sendungen mit brennbaren oder explosiven Stoffen, ätzenden Flüssigkeiten, sowie Sendungen, die geeignet sind, Andere zu verletzen.

Die beiden Verwaltungen behalten sich das Recht vor, Sendungen abzulehnen, die andere Flüssigkeiten, zerbrechliche Gegenstände oder lebende Tiere enthalten.

Artikel 13.

Bei Verlust, Plünderung oder Totalschaden eines Briefes mit Wertpapieren, einer Bargeldsendung (Group), eines Wertgegenstandes oder eines Frachtgegenstandes mit Wertangabe hat der Absender, oder, falls es keinen Absender gibt, auf dessen Verlangen der Empfänger Anspruch auf eine Entschädigung in Höhe des angegebenen Wertes.

Bei teilweisem Verlust, Plünderung oder Beschädigung, welche geringer ist als der angegebene Wert, wird jedoch nur der Betrag des tatsächlichen Verlustes erstattet.

Bei gänzlichem oder teilweisem Verlust, Plünderung oder Beschädigung eines Frachtgegenstandes ohne Wertangabe hat der Absender oder, falls ein solcher nicht vorhanden ist, der Empfänger, auf dessen Verlangen Anspruch auf eine Entschädigung, die dem tatsächlichen Betrag des Verlustes oder der Beschädigung entspricht, ohne daß diese Entschädigung jedoch den Betrag von zwanzig Goldpiaster oder einem halben Goldtoman pro Kilogramm der verlorenen oder beschädigten Sendung übersteigen darf.

Artikel 14.

Die Verwaltungen haften nicht, und sind nicht verpflichtet in den folgenden Fällen Entschädigungen für Verluste oder Schäden zu zahlen:

1. wenn der Verlust oder die Beschädigung auf Kriegsereignisse oder Aufstände im Inland oder auf jede andere Bewegung zurückzuführen ist, deren Unterdrückung mehr Gewalt erfordert, als die örtliche Behörde zur Verfügung hat;
2. im Falle eines Brandes im Postamt;
3. Verlust durch Unfälle, die auf die Elementareinwirkung zurückzuführen sind und die nicht verhindert werden können;
4. wenn der Verlust oder die Beschädigung durch die Natur der Sendung oder ihren Inhalt selbst oder durch die Unachtsamkeit oder Nachlässigkeit des Absenders selbst verursacht wird;
5. wenn bei der Zustellung der Sendungen der Verschuß und die Verpackung äußerlich unversehrt sind und das Gewicht dem zum Zeitpunkt der Aufgabe festgestellten Gewicht entspricht;
6. wenn der Empfänger oder sein Vertreter die ordnungsgemäß ausgelieferte Sendung ohne Reklamation oder Vorbehalte entgegengenommen hat;
7. wenn es sich um die Beschädigung von Sendungen handelt, die Flüssigkeiten, zerbrechliche Gegenstände oder lebende Tiere enthalten.

Die Verwaltungen übernehmen keine Haftung für Folgeschäden oder entgangene Gewinne.

Artikel 15.

Entschädigungsansprüche sind nur innerhalb eines Jahres ab dem Datum der Aufgabe der Sendung bei der Post zulässig; nach Ablauf dieser Frist haben die Anspruchsteller keinen Anspruch auf Entschädigung.

Die Zahlung der Entschädigung darf nicht über ein Jahr hinaus verzögert werden, gerechnet ab dem Tag, an dem die Reklamation eingereicht wurde.

Die Verpflichtung zur Zahlung der Entschädigung obliegt der Verwaltung, der die Einlieferungsstelle untersteht. Dieser Verwaltung bleibt ein etwaiger Rückgriff auf die Verwaltung vorbehalten, auf deren Gebiet oder in deren Dienst der Verlust, die Plünderung oder die Beschädigung eingetreten ist.

Artikel 16.

Bis zum Beweis des Gegenteils wird die Verwaltung als allein haftbar und daher zur Zahlung der Entschädigung verpflichtet angesehen, wenn sie den Gegenstand ohne Feststellungen nach der in Artikel 19 vorgesehenen Ausführungsordnung erhalten hat und weder die Übergabe an den Empfänger noch gegebenenfalls seine spätere Übermittlung feststellen kann.

Artikel 17.

Jede Angabe eines Wertes, der höher oder niedriger ist als der tatsächliche Wert des Inhalts von Wertgegenständen und Frachtsendungen mit Wertangabe, ist verboten.

Im Falle einer betrügerischen Angabe verliert der Absender jeden Anspruch auf Entschädigung, unbeschadet der strafrechtlichen Verfolgung, die das Recht des Ursprungslandes vorsehen kann.

Artikel 18.

Alle Briefe mit Wertpapieren, Bargeldsendungen, Wertgegenständen und Frachtsendungen, deren Empfänger nicht auffindbar ist oder die nach vorheriger Benachrichtigung nicht innerhalb von sechs Monaten abgeholt wurden, werden als unzustellbar betrachtet und an das Einlieferungspostamt zurückgesandt.

Artikel 19.

Die Auswechslungsstellen, die Reihenfolge und die Art der Übermittlung von Sendungen mit Wertpapieren, Bargeldsendungen, Wertgegenständen und Frachtsendungen, ihr Gewicht und ihre Abmessungen, ihr Höchstwert sowie alle Diensteinzelheiten werden durch Ausführungsbestimmungen geregelt, die von den Postverwaltungen der Vertragsstaaten im gegenseitigen Einvernehmen ausgearbeitet wird.

Artikel 20.

Es wird vereinbart, daß in allen Berichten zwischen den Postverwaltungen der beiden vertragschließenden Staaten die französische Sprache verwendet wird.

Artikel 21.

Die innere Gesetzgebung der beiden Länder bleibt in allem, was nicht durch die in diesem Abkommen enthaltenen Bestimmungen vorgesehen ist, anwendbar.

Artikel 22.

Das vorliegende Abkommen tritt an dem Tag in Kraft, den die jeweiligen Postverwaltungen vereinbaren, und bleibt so lange verbindlich, wie es nicht von einem der vertragschließenden Teile ein Jahr im Voraus gekündigt wird.

Ausführungsbestimmungen zum Postvertrag zwischen der Türkei und Persien abgeschlossen in Konstantinopel am 27. August / 8. September 1890

Die unterzeichneten Verwaltungen, gestützt auf Art. 19 des am 27. August / 8. September 1890 zwischen der Türkei und Persien abgeschlossenen Postvertrags, haben im gegenseitigen Einvernehmen die folgenden Bestimmungen beschlossen, um die Durchführung des genannten Vertrags zu gewährleisten.

Artikel 1.

Kuriere. — Der Kurierverkehr zwischen den beiden Ländern wird wie folgt geregelt:

Der persische Kurier aus Khoy muss in Bayazid am Vorabend der regulären Abfahrt des Kuriers von Bayazid nach Trapezunt–Konstantinopel ankommen und wird Bayazid erst am Tag nach der regulären Ankunft des Kuriers von Konstantinopel–Trapezunt in Bayazid verlassen.

Im Falle von Verzögerungen bei der Ankunft des letztgenannten Kuriers in Bayazid darf die Abfahrt des persischen Kuriers aus Bayazid nur bis zu 24 Stunden über die reguläre Abfahrt hinaus verzögert werden.

Der persische Kurier aus Kermanschah muss in Hānaqīn am Tag vor der Abfahrt des Kuriers aus Hānaqīn nach Bagdad eintreffen und darf erst am Tag nach der Ankunft der Post aus Bagdad in Hānaqīn wieder von Hānaqīn abfahren.

Die osmanische Verwaltung verpflichtet sich, den Kurierlauf zwischen Bagdad und Hānaqīn, soweit wie möglich, so zu regeln, daß er mit den Kurieren Bagdad–Damaskus und Bagdad–Diyarbakır–Samsun zusammenfällt.

Artikel 2.

Briefpostaustausch. — Der Austausch der im Weltpostvertrag vorgesehenen Poststücke zwischen den beiden Ländern, d. h. Briefe, Postkarten, Drucksachen, Geschäftspapiere, Warenmuster, entweder einfach oder eingeschrieben, findet in Bayazid und Hānaqīn in geschlossenen Postsäcken statt.

Geschlossene Postsäcke mit diesen Artikeln werden auf diesen Routen mindestens einmal pro Woche versandt:

Die beiden Verwaltungen können jederzeit noch weitere Postämter zur Teilnahme am Austausch von geschlossenen Postsäcken, die Briefpostsendungen enthalten, zulassen.

Der Austausch von geschlossenen Postsäcken zwischen den osmanischen und persischen Postämtern auf der russischen Route oder auf dem Seeweg durch die Vermittlung englischer Schiffe der Linie Bagdad–Bombay wird gesondert durch einfache Verwaltungskorrespondenz geregelt.

Die Bestimmungspostämter sind verpflichtet, die leeren Säcke in ihren geschlossenen Postsäcken und zwar mit dem nächstmöglichen Kurier, zurückzuschicken, diese auf der Überweisungsliste als eingeschriebene Sendung von Amts wegen zu vermerken.

Alle anderen Einzelheiten des Dienstes in Bezug auf geschlossenen Postsäcke und die darin enthaltenen Poststücke werden gemäß den Bestimmungen der Konvention des Weltpostvereins und seiner Detailbestimmungen geregelt.

Artikel 3.

Für die verschiedenen Dienste zugelassene Postämter. — Die vertragschließenden Verwaltungen teilen sich gegenseitig die Liste der Postämter ihres Landes mit, die zum Versand von Poststücken mit Wertpapieren, von Bargeldsendungen (Groups) und Wertgegenständen sowie von Frachtsendungen zugelassen werden.

Es versteht sich von selbst, daß sich die Verwaltung des Empfängerlandes bei Sendungen, deren Inhalt dem Zollrecht unterliegt, nur verpflichtet, diese Sendungen bis zu dem Postamt zu befördern, das am Sitz eines Zollamtes liegt, welches dem Bestimmungsort am nächsten ist. Der Empfänger, der von der Ankunft seiner Sendung durch eine kostenlose dienstliche Mitteilung benachrichtigt wird, muß die Sendung bei diesem Zollamt entweder persönlich oder durch einen ordnungsgemäß bevollmächtigten Vertreter abholen. Die zu erhebende Gebühr wird nach dem Inlandstarif und auf der Grundlage der Entfernung zwischen der Grenze und dem genannten Postamt berechnet.

Es obliegt natürlich der Zollbehörde am Grenzübergang zu bestimmen, welche Sendungen zur freien Einfuhr in das Empfängerland zugelassen und welche bei dem im vorstehenden Absatz genannten Postamt den Zollformalitäten unterzogen werden.

Artikel 4.

Verpackung von Sendungen mit Wertpapieren. — Umschläge, die Wertpapiere enthalten, müssen in Wachstuch oder Häute eingewickelt werden, entweder aus einem Stück oder vollständig eingenäht, und das Paket muß mit einem Seil oder einer Schnur aus einem Stück fest zusammengebunden werden.

Die Enden des Seils oder der Schnur werden durch eine Zinnplombe gezogen und mit einem Wachssiegel befestigt (siehe beigefügte Abbildung). Fig. 8: Formular "B" (Überweisungsliste), das der handschriftlichen Version des Vertrags beigefügt ist.

Der osmanische Angestellte übergibt dem persischen Kurier jede Sendung einzeln, d.h. eine nach der anderen, entsprechend den Eintragungen, die bereits auf der Überweisungsliste und seinen Duplikaten vorgenommen wurden, von denen eine in den Händen des übergabenden Angestellten und die beiden anderen in den Händen des empfangenden Angestellten verbleiben, nachdem alle drei von den beiden genannten Angestellten unterzeichnet worden sind.

Der persische Kurier hat die Pflicht, die ihm übergebenen Gegenstände sorgfältig zu untersuchen und sich in Gegenwart des osmanischen Angestellten zu vergewissern, daß die Stempel, die Verschlüsse und die gesamte Verpackung der Sendungen vollkommen ordnungsgemäß sind und jeden Verdacht einer missbräuchlichen Öffnung ausschließen, und daß das Gewicht der Sendungen mit dem auf den Sendungen und in den Überweisungslisten angegebenen Gewicht übereinstimmt.

Wenn der persische Kurier Gewichtsunterschiede feststellt, ohne daß die allgemeine Verpackung der Sendung zu wünschen übrig läßt, wird er im Einvernehmen mit dem osmanischen Angestellten das auf der Sendung vorgefundene Gewicht eintragen und die Eintragungen über das Gewicht in den drei Überweisungslisten berichtigen.

Die Feststellungen des persischen Kuriers über Mängel bei der ordnungsgemäßen Verpackung der Sendungen werden in die Spalte „observations“ der drei Überweisungslisten eingetragen und durch die Unterschrift des osmanischen Angestellten bestätigt. Wenn die Mängel in der Verpackung der Sendungen jedoch den Verdacht einer missbräuchlichen Öffnung zulassen, hat der persische Angestellte das Recht, die Annahme der Sendung zu verweigern. In jedem ähnlichen Fall wird die Eintragung auf den Überweisungslisten gelöscht und eine erläuternde Bemerkung auf den Listen eingetragen, die von den beiden oben genannten Angestellten unterschrieben wird.

Die Zollerklärungen werden zusammen mit der Überweisungsliste dem persischen Kurier übergeben, und der Abdruck des Absendersiegels auf der Erklärung gibt dem persischen Kurier die Möglichkeit, zu überprüfen, ob die Siegel auf der Sendung vom Absender selbst angebracht sind.

Dasselbe Verfahren wird mutatis mutandis in Bezug auf den Austausch von Sendungen aus Persien in die Türkei angewandt.

Artikel 16.

Fehlen von Zollerklärungen. — Wenn eine Sendung ohne Zollerklärung beim Grenzpostamt eintrifft, muss dieses Postamt die Sendung vor der Übergabe an den Angestellten des anderen Landes mit Amtssiegeln in ausreichender Zahl versehen, um den Inhalt gegen jede Beeinträchtigung zu schützen, und eine amtliche Erklärung nach dem beigefügten Formular C hinzufügen.

Artikel 17.

Rückschein. — Die Empfangsbestätigungen, die einem Umschlag mit Wertpapieren, einer Bargeldsendung, einem Wertgegenstand oder einer Frachtsendung beiliegen, werden auf der Überweisungsliste in der vorgesehenen Spalte gekennzeichnet und nach Unterzeichnung durch die Empfänger oder ihre Bevollmächtigten in einem eingeschriebenen Umschlag direkt an das Einlieferungspostamt zurückgesandt.

Artikel 18.

Die Buchführung. — Eine Verrechnungskonto wird zwischen den Verwaltungen nur für die Sendungen mit Wertpapieren, für Bargeldsendungen und Wertgegenstände und für Frachtsendungen geführt, die von den Empfängern zurückgewiesen und aus diesem oder anderen Gründen an die Einlieferungspostamt zurückgeschickt werden, wobei außer der Gebühr für die Absendung von der Grenze bis zum Bestimmungsort auch die Gebühren für die Rücksendung erhoben werden.

Die Abrechnung erfolgt alle sechs Monate auf der Grundlage der Eintragungen auf der Überweisungsliste in der Spalte „droits à bonifier“ (zu vergütende Gebühren).

In dieser Spalte werden auch die Kosten für Neuverpackungen oder für die Erfüllung der Zollformalitäten für jede Sendung aufgeführt, die je nach Fall zu Lasten des Absenders oder des Empfängers gehen.

Les réclamations pour indemnité ne sont admises que dans le délai d'un an à partir de la date du dépôt de l'objet à la poste, passé ce délai les réclamants n'ont droit à aucune indemnité.

Le paiement de l'indemnité ne peut être retardé au delà d'un an, à partir du jour de la date de la réclamation.

L'obligation de payer l'indemnité incombe à l'Administration dont relève le bureau expéditeur. Est réservé à cette Administration le recours éventuel contre l'Administration sur le territoire ou dans le service de laquelle la perte, la spoliation ou l'avarie a eu lieu.

Article 16.

Jusqu'à preuve du contraire est considérée comme seule responsable, et par conséquent tenue de payer l'indemnité, l'Administration qui, ayant reçu l'objet sans faire d'observations conformément au règlement d'exécution prévu par l'Article 19, ne peut établir ni la remise au destinataire, ni s'il y a lieu, sa transmission ultérieure.

Article 17.

Toute déclaration de valeur supérieure ou inférieure à la valeur réelle du contenu des objets de valeur et des articles de messageries avec déclaration de valeur est interdite.

— 10 —

En cas de déclaration frauduleuse l'expéditeur perd tout droit à une indemnité sans préjudice des poursuites judiciaires que peut comporter la législation du pays d'origine.

Article 18.

Sont considérés comme rebuts et renvoyés au bureau d'origine tous les plis contenant des papiers-valeurs, les groups, les objets de valeur et les articles de messageries dont le destinataire est introuvable ou n'a pas pris livraison, après avis préalable, dans un délai de six mois.

Article 19.

Les points d'échange, l'ordre et le mode de transmission des plis avec papiers-valeur, groups, objets de valeur et articles de messageries, leur poids et leurs dimensions, leur maximum de valeur déclarée, ainsi que tous les détails du service, seront déterminés par un règlement d'exécution élaboré d'un commun accord par les soins des Administrations des postes des États contractants.

Article 20.

Il est convenu que la langue française sera employée dans tous les rapports entre les Administrations postales des deux pays contractants.

— 11 —

Article 21.

La législation intérieure des deux pays demeure applicable en tout ce qui n'est pas prévu par les stipulations contenues dans la présente convention.

Article 22.

La présente convention entrera en vigueur à partir du jour dont les administrations postales respectives conviendront et demeurera obligatoire aussi longtemps que l'une des parties contractantes n'en aura dénoncé la résiliation une année d'avance.

RÈGLEMENT D'EXÉCUTION
DE LA
CONVENTION POSTALE
CONCLUE ENTRE LA TURQUIE ET LA PERSE
A CONSTANTINOPLE
LE 27 AOUT / 8 SEPTEMBRE 1890.

Les Administrations soussignées, vu l'Art. 19 de la Convention postale conclue entre la Turquie et la Perse le 27 Aout/8 Septembre 1890, ont arrêté d'un commun accord, les mesures suivantes pour assurer l'exécution de la dite Convention.

Article 1^{er}

Courriers.—La marche des courriers reliant les deux pays sera réglée comme suit:

Le Courrier Persan venant de Khoy doit arriver à Bayazid la veille du départ régulier du courrier de Bayazid pour Trébizonde-Constantinople et il ne partira de Bayazid que le lendemain de l'arrivée régulière du courrier de Constantinople-Trébizonde à Bayazid.

En cas de retards dans l'arrivée de ce dernier courrier à Bayazid, le départ du courrier Persan de Bayazid ne peut être retardé que 24 heures au plus au delà du départ régulier.

Le courrier Persan venant de Kirmanshah doit arriver à Hanékine la veille du départ du courrier de Hanékine pour Bagdad et il ne pourra repartir de Hanékine que le lendemain de l'arrivée à Hanékine du courrier de Bagdad.

L'Administration Ottomane s'engage à régler la marche du courrier entre Bagdad et Hanékine, tant que possible, de manière à ce qu'il y ait coïncidence avec les courriers Bagdad-Damas et Bagdad-Diarbékir-Samsoun.

Article 2.

Echange de la poste aux lettres.— L'échange entre les deux pays, des articles de poste prévus par la Convention postale universelle, soit lettres, cartes-postales, imprimés, papiers d'affaires, échantillons de marchandises, soit simples, soit recommandés, aura lieu à Bayazid et à Hanékine en valises closes.

Seront expédiées par ces voies des valises closes contenant ces articles, au moins une fois par semaine :

Les deux Administrations pourront en tout temps autoriser encore d'autres bureaux de poste à participer à l'échange des valises closes contenant les envois de la poste aux lettres.

L'échange des valises closes entre les bureaux Ottomans et Persans, par voie de Russie ou par voie de mer, par l'intermédiaire des bateaux Anglais de la ligne Bagdad-Bombay sera réglé séparément, par simple correspondance administrative.

Tous les autres détails du service concernant les valises closes et les articles de poste y contenus se règlent suivant les stipulations de la Convention Générale de l'Union Postale et de son Règlement de détail.

Article 3.

Bureaux de poste admis aux différents services.— Les Administrations contractantes se communiqueront réciproquement la liste des bureaux de poste de leur pays qui seront admis au service des plis contenant des papiers-valeur, des envois de numéraire en groups et des objets de valeur, ainsi que des envois de messagerie.

Il est bien entendu que pour les envois dont le contenu est soumis au droit douanier, l'Administration du pays destinataire ne s'engage qu'à transporter ces envois jusqu'au bureau de poste au siège d'un bureau douanier et le plus proche du lieu de destination. Le destinataire qui sera prévenu de l'arrivée de son envoi par un avis officiel et gratuit, aura à retirer son envoi du dit bureau, soit personnellement, soit par un fondé de pouvoirs dûment autorisé. La taxe à percevoir sera calculée d'après le tarif interne et sur la base de la distance entre la frontière et le dit bureau de poste.

Il appartiendra naturellement à l'autorité douanière au bureau d'échange à la frontière, de désigner lesquels des envois seront admis à la libre entrée au pays destinataire et lesquels seront à soumettre aux formalités douanières au bureau de poste mentionné dans l'alinéa précédent.

Article 4.

Conditionnement des plis contenant des papiers-valeur. — Les plis contenant des papiers-valeur doivent être enveloppés dans une toile cirée ou peau, soit d'une seule pièce, soit entièrement cousue en dedans, et ce paquet devra être fortement lié au moyen d'une corde ou ficelle d'un seul morceau.

Les bouts de la corde ou ficelle seront passés à travers une capsule en étain et y seront fixés par un cachet à la cire. (Voir la figure ci-jointe). En outre seront à appliquer sur les bouts de l'emballage et sur les coutures, s'il y en a, des cachets en nombre suffisant et de manière qu'il ne puisse être porté aucune atteinte au contenu du paquet sans endommager extérieurement et visiblement l'emballage ou les cachets.

Article 5.

Conditionnement des envois de numéraire en groups et des objets de valeur.— Les monnaies ainsi que les objets de valeur seront renfermés dans des sacs, sacoches, boîtes ou caisses qui ne doivent pas contenir des lettres, ni d'autres pièces manuscrites ayant le caractère d'une correspondance. Les sacs ou sacoches seront d'une seule pièce ou entièrement cousus en dedans et parfaitement conditionnés, c'est-à-dire ni déchirés ni raccommodés.

L'issue des sacs ou sacoches sera fermée au moyen d'une corde ou ficelle intacte (sans épissure, ni allonge), dont les bouts après avoir été passés à travers la gorge des sacs ou sacoches et bien noués, seront maintenus sur une étiquette en bois par un ou deux ca-chets à la cire ou ce qui est mieux passeront à travers une capsule en étain et y seront fixés par un cachet en cire fine.

L'emballage des sacs ou sacoches sera allongé en forme d'une oreille destinée pour l'inscription de l'adresse et des autres indications postales nécessaires.

A défaut de cachets les bouts de la corde ou ficelle peuvent être introduits près du nœud dans un plomb portant l'empreinte de signes distinctifs.

Les boîtes ou caisses seront soigneusement fermées ou clouées et ne doivent présenter aucune trace d'issue refermée, ni de fracture; elles peuvent en outre être enveloppées d'une toile, toile cirée ou peau, soit d'une seule pièce, soit entièrement cousue en dedans.

Pour les petites boîtes ou caisses fragiles, l'emballage dans une toile cirée ou peau est obligatoire.

Les paquets ainsi confectionnés seront fortement liés au moyen d'une corde d'un seul morceau dont les bouts seront fixés soit sur une étiquette en bois, soit dans une capsule en étain, au moyen de cachets en cire fine (voir 2^{me} alinéa de cet article) ou qui passeront par un plomb.

Des cachets égaux seront, en outre, appliqués en nombre suffisant sur les bouts et les coutures de l'emballage, sur les fentes des boîtes ou caisses et sur les têtes d'un assez grand nombre des clous qui ferment les caisses.

En général, les groups et les objets de valeur doivent être tellement emballés qu'il soit impossible de porter atteinte au contenu des envois sans laisser une trace apparente de violation ou sans que l'emballage et les cachets soient extérieurement et visiblement endommagés.

Article 6.

Conditionnement des envois de messagerie. — Les envois de messagerie avec valeur déclarée doivent être emballés à l'instar des objets de valeur.

Les envois de messagerie simples seront à renfermer en ballots, caisses ou colis, d'une manière qui réponde à la durée du transport et qui préserve suffisamment le contenu.

L'emballage doit être tel qu'il soit impossible de porter atteinte au contenu sans laisser une trace apparente de violation. Les envois seront scellés par un ou plusieurs plombs, cachets à la cire ou par un autre moyen avec empreinte ou marque spéciale de l'expéditeur.

Les envois de messagerie ne doivent pas contenir de lettres fermées ou ouvertes, ni de notes manuscrites ayant le caractère d'une correspondance. Toutefois il sera permis d'inclure dans ces envois, de même que dans les objets de valeur, des factures, notes ou papiers semblables, énumérant leur contenu, les numéros, marques, prix et signes des marchandises contenues dans l'envoi.

Article 7.

Cachets. — Les initiales, légendes, armoiries, raisons sociales ou noms d'établissement, empreints sur les cachets à la cire ou sur les plombs apposés aux envois énumérés aux Articles 4, 5 et 6 doivent être parfaitement lisibles et distincts. Les empreintes en grilles et celles faites avec des pièces de monnaie sont formellement exclues.

Article 8.

Cachets officiels. — Il est loisible à chaque administration de faire appliquer aux dits envois un ou plusieurs plombs ou cachets officiels soit par le bureau expéditeur, soit par le bureau d'échange, dans le but de préserver ces envois contre une violation quelconque du contenu.

— 10 —

Article 9.

Confectionnement des envois.— Est réservé à chaque Administration le droit d'exiger que le confectionnement des plis contenant des papiers-valeur, des groups et des objets de valeur, soit fait au bureau de poste par un employé de la poste ou par l'expéditeur en présence de cet employé.

Article 10.

Adresse.— Les adresses doivent être inscrites sur l'emballage des envois mêmes et indiqueront le nom du destinataire, sa position sociale, sa demeure, le bureau de poste distributeur, de manière à ne laisser aucun doute sur la personne du destinataire.

Article 11.

Déclaration de la valeur.— La déclaration de la valeur sur les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, sur les groups, les objets de valeur et sur les envois de messagerie avec valeur déclarée, doit être exprimée dans la monnaie du pays d'origine, et être inscrite sur l'adresse de l'envoi en toutes lettres et en chiffres, sans ratures ni surcharge, mêmes approuvés.

A la réception des envois au bureau frontière, ce bureau opère la conversion de la somme déclarée en la monnaie de son pays, en indiquant par de nouveaux

chiffres, placés à côté ou au-dessous des chiffres représentatifs du montant de la déclaration, l'équivalent de celle-ci

Pour ce but il sera calculé un Toman or (=dix Krans = deux cents Shahis) égal à quarante cinq Piastres (la piastre = quarante paras) et d'après le taux légal du Médjidié.

Article 12.

Déclaration en douane. — Chaque pli contenant des papiers-valeur, chaque group, chaque objet de valeur, et chaque envoi de messagerie doit être accompagné de deux déclarations en douane analogues ou conformes à la formule A ci-annexée et qui porteront à côté de la signature de l'expéditeur, en encre à tampon, une empreinte de son cachet employé pour la fermeture de l'envoi.

Article 13.

Valeur et Poids maxima. — La valeur maximum d'un pli contenant des papiers-valeur, d'un group, d'un objet de valeur et d'un envoi de messagerie avec valeur déclarée est fixée à mille Tomans or, ou quarante-cinq mille Piastres.

Le poids maximum d'un pli contenant des papiers-valeur ou d'un group ou d'un objet de valeur est fixé à 5 kilogrammes et celui d'un envoi de messagerie à 12 kilogrammes.

— 12 —

Les dimensions suivantes ne doivent pas être dépassées:

1° Pour les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, les groups et les objets de valeur, en longueur 40 centimètres, en largeur 30 centimètres, en épaisseur 20 centimètres.

2° Pour les objets de messagerie, en longueur 70 centimètres, en largeur 55 centimètres, en épaisseur 40 centimètres.

Article 14.

Pesage — Timbre. — Les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, les groups et les objets de valeur, ainsi que les envois de messagerie seront pesés au moment du dépôt à la poste et leur poids sera marqué sur l'envoi même à côté de l'adresse.

Pour les envois de messagerie le poids sera marqué en kilogrammes et grammes, les fractions de 10 grammes étant à négliger, pour tous les autres envois précités, le poids est constaté en kilogrammes et grammes, et ce ne sont que les fractions d'un gramme qui seront négligées.

Une empreinte lisible du timbre à date ou l'inscription à la main du nom du bureau expéditeur devra figurer sur l'emballage des envois à côté de l'adresse, ainsi que sur les déclarations en douane.

Article 15.

Echange des envois autres que la poste aux lettres. — L'échange des plis avec papiers-valeur, des groups et des objets de valeur, ainsi que des envois de messagerie, sera effectué à découvert aux bureaux de poste à Bayazid et à Hanékine, entre l'employé Ottoman et le courrier Persan.

L'employé Ottoman, après avoir constaté que les envois à remettre au courrier Persan sont tout-à-fait intacts, quant à l'emballage et à la fermeture, et que leur poids est conforme à celui marqué par le bureau expéditeur, traduira le cas échéant, les inscriptions sur les envois du turc en français.

En cas que le poids d'un envoi sera trouvé inférieur ou supérieur à celui marqué par le bureau expéditeur ou que celui-ci a tout-à-fait omis de marquer le poids de l'envoi, mais que l'emballage, la fermeture et tout le conditionnement de l'envoi sont intacts et qu'il n'existe pas de soupçon d'une atteinte portée à l'envoi, l'employé Ottoman inscrira, au-dessous du poids indiqué par le bureau expéditeur ou à sa place, le poids trouvé, comme suit :

« A Bayazid (Hanékine)..... kg..... gr. »
et ce sera ce poids qui servira de base pour tous les contrôles ultérieurs.

L'employé Ottoman inscrira ensuite chaque envoi à destination de la Perse dans une feuille d'envoi analogue à la formule B ci-annexée qui sera dressée en triple expédition.

L'employé Ottoman remettra au courrier Persan chaque envoi séparément, c'est-à-dire un à un, selon les inscriptions qui ont été déjà faites sur la feuille d'envoi et sur ses duplicata, dont l'une restera entre les mains de l'employé qui remet et les deux autres entre les mains de l'employé qui reçoit, après que tous les trois seront signées par les susdits deux employés.

Le courrier Persan aura le devoir d'examiner avec une attention minutieuse les objets à lui remis et de s'assurer en présence de l'employé Ottoman que les cachets, la fermeture et tout le conditionnement des envois sont parfaitement réguliers et excluent tout soupçon d'une ouverture abusive et que le poids des envois est conforme à celui marqué sur les envois et dans les feuilles d'envoi.

Si le courrier Persan constate des différences de poids sans que le conditionnement général de l'envoi laisse à désirer, il inscrira, d'accord avec l'employé ottoman, le poids trouvé sur l'envoi et rectifiera les inscriptions relatives au poids dans les trois feuilles d'envoi.

Les observations du courrier Persan sur les manques dans le bon conditionnement des envois seront inscrites dans la colonne «observations» des trois feuilles d'envoi et reconnus par la signature de l'employé ottoman. Mais si les défauts du conditionnement des envois sont de nature à admettre le soupçon d'une ouverture abusive, l'employé Persan aura le droit de refuser d'accepter le dit envoi. Pour chaque cas analogue, l'inscription des feuilles d'envoi sera annulée et une observation explicative sera inscrite sur les dites feuilles et signée par les deux employés précités.

Le même procédé sera suivi, mutatis mutandis, à l'égard de l'échange des envois venant de la Perse et à destination de la Turquie.

Article 16.

Manque des déclarations en douane.— En cas qu'un envoi arriverait au bureau frontière, sans aucune déclaration en douane, ce bureau de poste devra appliquer à l'envoi, avant de le remettre à l'employé de l'autre pays, des cachets officiels en nombre suffisant pour protéger le contenu contre toute atteinte et il y ajoutera une déclaration officielle d'après la formule C ci-jointe.

Article 17.

Avis de réception.— Les avis de réception qui accompagneraient un pli contenant des papiers-valeur, un group, un objet de valeur ou un envoi de messagerie seront marqués dans la feuille d'envoi à la colonne prévue et ils seront renvoyés, après être signés par les destinataires ou par leurs fondés de pouvoirs, directement au bureau de poste d'origine sous enveloppe recommandée d'office.

Article 18.

Comptabilité.— Un compte-courant sera tenu entre les administrations uniquement pour les plis contenant des papiers-valeur, pour les groups et les objets de valeur et pour les envois de messagerie qui auront été refusés par les destinataires et qui pour ce motif comme pour d'autres, auront été renvoyés à la poste expéditrice, en étant frappés outre de la taxe pour l'expédition de la frontière jusqu'à destination, des taxes pour le retour.

Le règlement des comptes aura lieu tous les six mois, sur la base des inscriptions se trouvant sur la feuille d'envoi dans la colonne de «droits à bonifier».

Il appartiendra naturellement à l'autorité douanière au bureau d'échange à la frontière de désigner lesquels des envois seront admis

Pour les envois de Messagerie le poids sera marqué en Kilogrammes et grammes, les fractions de 10 grammes étant à négliger; pour tous les autres envois précités le poids est constaté en Kilogrammes & grammes et ce ne sont que les fractions d'un gramme qui seront négligées.

Une empreinte lisible du timbre à date ou l'inscription à la main du nom du bureau expéditeur devra figurer sur l'emballage des envois à côté de l'adresse, ainsi que les déclarations en Douane.

Article 15.

Echange des envois autres que la poste aux lettres.

L'échange des plis avec papiers valeur, des groups et des objets de valeur, ainsi que des envois de Messagerie, sera effectué à découvert aux bureaux de poste à Baya-
-fid et à Hamakonie, entre l'employé

Ottoman et le courrier Persan.

L'employé Ottoman après avoir constaté que les envois à remettre au Courrier Persan sont tout à fait intacts quant à l'emballage et à la fermeture, et que leur poids est conforme à celui marqué par le bureau expéditeur, traduira le cas échéant, les inscriptions sur les envois du turc en français.

En cas que le poids d'un envoi sera trouvé inférieur ou supérieur à celui marqué par le bureau expéditeur ou que celui-ci a tout à fait omis de marquer le poids de l'envoi, mais que l'emballage, la fermeture et tout le conditionnement de l'envoi sont intacts et qu'il n'existe pas de soupçon d'une atteinte portée à l'envoi, l'employé Ottoman inscrira, au dessous du poids indiqué par le bureau expéditeur ou à sa place, le poids trouvé, comme suit: « Bayazid (Hanchine) Kg gr. » et ce sera ce poids qui servira de base pour tous les contrôles ultérieurs.

L'employé

L'employé Ottoman inscrira ensuite chaque envoi à destination de la Perse dans une feuille d'envoi analogue à la formule B ci annexée qui sera dressée en triple expédition.

L'employé Ottoman remettra au courrier Persan chaque envoi séparément, c'est à dire un à un, selon les inscriptions qui ont été déjà faites sur la feuille d'envoi et sur ses duplicata, dont l'une restera entre les mains de l'employé qui remet et les deux autres entre les mains de l'employé qui reçoit après que tous les trois seront signés par les susdits deux employés.

Le courrier persan aura le devoir d'examiner avec une attention minutieuse les objets à lui remis et de s'assurer en présence de l'employé Ottoman que les cachets, la fermeture, et tout le conditionnement des envois sont parfaitement réguliers et excluent tout soupçon d'une ouverture abusive et

et que le poids des envois est conforme à celui marqué sur les envois et dans les feuilles d'envoi.

Si le courrier persan constate des différences ^{de} du poids sans que le conditionnement général de l'envoi laisse à désirer, il inscrira d'accord avec l'employé Ottoman, le poids trouvé sur l'envoi et rectifiera les inscriptions relatives au poids dans les trois feuilles d'envoi.

Les observations du courrier persan sur les marques dans le bon conditionnement des envois seront inscrites dans la colonne "Observations" des trois feuilles d'envoi et reconnues par la signature de l'employé Ottoman. Mais si les défauts du conditionnement des envois sont de nature à admettre le soupçon d'une ouverture abusive, l'employé persan aura le droit de refuser d'accepter le dit' envoi. Pour chaque cas analogue l'inscription des feuilles d'envoi sera annulée et une observation explicative sera inscrite sur les dites feuilles et signée par les deux employés précités.

Les déclarations en douane seront conjointement remises avec la feuille d'envoi au Courrier persan et l'empreinte du cachet de l'expéditeur sur la déclaration fournira au Courrier persan le moyen de contrôler que les cachets de l'envoi même soient ceux appliqués par l'expéditeur.

Le même procédé sera suivi - Mutatis mutandis - à l'égard de l'échange des envois venant de la Perse et à destination de la Turquie.

The Postal Convention of 1892 between the Ottoman Empire and Persia is not widely known amongst philatelists: however Asaf Tanrikut has published not only the 1982 treaty and its implementation regulations, but also the text of an amendment made in 1905.

The text translated and transcribed here follows the printed version published in 1984 by Tanrikut.¹ First comes the English translation, then the German translation, then the Ottoman-Turkish text as transcribed by Tanrikut and in conclusion the two pages in Tanrikut scanned.

The Decree on the Amendment of the Decree concerning the Postal Agreement concluded in Dersaadet on 27 August 1306 and 8 September 1890 between the Ottoman State and the State of Iran

Minutes concerning the amendment of the Implementation Regulations of the Postal Convention agreed between Turkey and Persia, at Constantinople 27 August / 8 September 1890

It is stated in Article 19 of the postal treaty concluded between the Ottoman Empire and the Iranian Empire, and in accordance with this article, implementation regulations of the postal treaty was drawn up in the past: “The points of exchange, the order and method of transmission of envelopes with securities, specie in groups, valuables and freight items, their weight and dimensions, their maximum declared value, as well as all the service details, shall be determined by implementing regulations drawn up by mutual agreement between the postal administrations of the Contracting States.”

Since it has been necessary to modify some points of the agreement, it has been decided to take the following measures in order to further ensure the execution of the aforementioned agreement by the undersigned administrations.

Namely: It has been decided to increase the maximum weight of 12 kilogrammes, which was determined in Article 13 of the decree of execution as the maximum limit for the delivery of goods, to forty kilogrammes this time. Because the maximum weight of internal postal parcels is forty kilogrammes in accordance with the postal regulations of the Ottoman State and the Iranian postal administration has determined and restricted the maximum weight of messenger shipments within Iran as sixty kilogrammes, it is deemed appropriate that the weight of messenger shipments to be exchanged between the Ottoman State and Iran should be forty kilogrammes.

In the first paragraph of the third article of the treaty concluded between the State of Iran and the Ottoman State, it is stated that “as the exchange of postbags and other goods will take place at the Ottoman post offices of Bayazıd and Khankin, the Iranian Tatars will be obliged to come to these places.” the cost of transport from the border to the post offices of Bayazıd and Khankin will be borne entirely by the Iranian government in accordance with the provisions of the third article mentioned above. While the increase in the weight of postal parcels to forty kilogrammes will necessitate a further increase in the cost, so that either the cost of transport will be borne by the Iranian government or the exchange of posts will be conducted on Iranian soil.

The Minister of Posts of Iran has declared and stated that it would be convenient to transfer part of the aforementioned costs to the Iranian administration or to carry out the exchange transaction of one of the two routes on Iranian soil, and according to the investigations carried out, Kasr-i-Shirin is closest to the Iranian border between Kermanshah, and Khankin is the closest to the Iranian border. The Iranian post office of Kasr-i-Shirin is three and a half leagues, i.e. twenty-one kilometres, away from the border, while the distance from the post office of Khankin to the border is one and a half leagues, i.e. nine kilometres, and the closest Iranian post office to the border from Bayazıd is the post office of Kilise. Since the distance to the frontier is one and a half leagues, i.e. six kilometres, and the distance to the frontier from Bayazıd, the closest Iranian post office to the Ottoman State is twenty-six kilometres, the office of Khankin is closer to the frontier than the office of Kasr-i-Shirin.

As for the execution of exchange transactions on the territory of the Ottoman State and Iran, one-half of the transportation costs from the Iranian border to the post offices of Khankin and Bayazıd shall be paid to the Iranian administration, and one-half of the transportation costs shall be paid to the sultanate for the continuation of the exchange transactions.

It has been deemed more convenient and appropriate [for the exchange] to be carried out in the post offices of Hanekin and Bayazıd within the territory of the Ottoman Empire, and it has been decided to commence the transactions as of the first day of May next in accordance with the procedures and to send notifications to those who are required until the aforementioned date.

The Iranian Postal Administration will not send the mail bags belonging to the Ottoman Empire and all their transactions on behalf of the foreign post offices, which are temporarily allowed to carry out their business in the Ottoman Empire, but will send the shipment on behalf of the postal interest of the Sultanate. Even if the postal administration of the Ottoman State sends mail bags and other mail belonging to one of the ports in the South of Iranian territory on behalf of the Iranian postal services in the aforementioned ports, British India, which temporarily carries out business there, shall not send them on behalf of the postal services of that country.

Verordnung zur Änderung der Verordnung über das am 27. August 1306 und 8. September 1890 in Dersaadet zwischen dem Osmanischen Staat und dem Staat Iran geschlossene Postabkommen

Protokoll über die Änderung der Durchführungsbestimmungen des Postvertrags, vereinbart zwischen der Türkei und Persien in Konstantinopel am 27. August 1890 / 8. September 1890

In Artikel 19 des zwischen dem Osmanischen Staat und dem Iranischen Staat geschlossenen Postvertrags ist festgelegt, und in Übereinstimmung mit diesem Artikel wurde in der Vergangenheit Durchführungsbestimmungen des Postvertrags ausgearbeitet: „Die Auswechslungsstellen, die Reihenfolge und die Art der Übermittlung von Sendungen mit Wertpapieren, Bargeldsendungen, Wertgegenständen und Frachtsendungen, ihr Gewicht und ihre Abmessungen, ihr Höchstwert sowie alle Dienst Einzelheiten werden durch eine Durchführungsordnung bestimmt, die von den Postverwaltungen der Vertragsstaaten im gegenseitigen Einvernehmen ausgearbeitet wird.“

Und zwar: Es wurde beschlossen, das Höchstgewicht von 12 Kilogramm, das in Artikel 13 des Vollstreckungsdekrets als Höchstgrenze für die Zustellung von Waren festgelegt wurde, diesmal auf vierzig Kilogramm zu erhöhen. Da das Höchstgewicht von internen Postpaketen nach den Postvorschriften des Osmanischen Staates vierzig Kilogramm beträgt und die iranische Postverwaltung das Höchstgewicht von Frachtsendungen innerhalb des Irans auf sechzig Kilogramm festgelegt und beschränkt hat, wird es als angemessen erachtet, daß das Gewicht von Frachtsendungen, die zwischen dem Osmanischen Staat und dem Iran ausgetauscht werden sollen, vierzig Kilogramm betragen sollte.

Im ersten Absatz des dritten Artikels des zwischen dem Staat Iran und dem Osmanischen Staat geschlossenen Vertrages heißt es: „Da der Austausch von Postsäcken und anderen Gütern in den osmanischen Postämtern in Bayazid und Khankin erfolgen wird, die iranischen Tataren verpflichtet sein werden, zu diesen Orten zu kommen.“ Es werden die Kosten für den Transport von der Grenze zu den Postämtern in Bayazid und Khankin gemäß den Bestimmungen des oben genannten dritten Artikels vollständig von der iranischen Regierung getragen. Die Kosten für die Erhöhung des Gewichts der Postpakete auf vierzig Kilogramm werden von der iranischen Regierung übernommen. Da dies eine weitere Erhöhung des genannten Betrags zur Folge hätte, wäre auch eine der beiden Vorgehensweisen angemessen: entweder die Übertragung eines Teils der Kosten auf die iranische Verwaltung oder die Durchführung des Post austausches auf iranischem Boden.

Der iranische Minister für Post hat erklärt, daß es zweckmäßig wäre, einen Teil der genannten Kosten auf die iranische Verwaltung zu übertragen oder den Umtausch auf einer der beiden Strecken auf iranischem Boden vorzunehmen, und nach den durchgeführten Untersuchungen liegt Kasr-ı Şîrin der iranischen Grenze zwischen Kermanshah am nächsten, und Khankin liegt der iranischen Grenze am nächsten. Das iranische Postamt von Kasr-i-Shirin ist dreieinhalb Meilen, d. h. einundzwanzig Kilometer, von der Grenze entfernt, während die Entfernung zwischen dem Postamt von Khankin und der Grenze eineinhalb Meilen, d. h. neun Kilometer, beträgt, und das iranische Postamt, das der Grenze von Bayazid am nächsten liegt, ist das Postamt von Kilise. Da die Entfernung zur Grenze anderthalb Meilen, d. h. sechs Kilometer, beträgt und die Entfernung zur Grenze von Bayazid, dem osmanischen Staat am nächsten gelegenen iranischen Postamt, sechsundzwanzig Kilometer beträgt, liegt das Amt von Khankin näher an der Grenze als das Amt von Kasr-ı Şîrin.

Da es nicht anders möglich ist, den Austausch auf dem Gebiet Irans und des Osmanischen Staates durchzuführen, wird die Hälfte der Transportkosten von der iranischen Grenze zu den Zentren Khankin und Bayazid an die iranische Verwaltung gezahlt und die Hälfte der Transportkosten wird für die Dauer der Postaustausches an das Sultanat gezahlt.

Es wurde als bequemer und zweckmäßiger erachtet, die Geschäfte in den Postämtern von Hanekın und Bayazid auf dem Gebiet des Osmanischen Reiches abzuwickeln, und es wurde beschlossen, mit den Geschäften gemäß den Verfahren ab dem ersten Mai des nächsten Jahres zu beginnen und denjenigen, die dazu verpflichtet sind, bis zu dem genannten Datum Mitteilungen zuzusenden.

Die iranische Postverwaltung wird die zum Osmanischen Reich gehörenden Postsäcke und alle ihre Geschäfte nicht im Namen der ausländischen Postämter versenden, denen es vorübergehend gestattet ist, ihre Geschäfte im Osmanischen Reich vorzunehmen, sondern sie wird die Sendung im Namen der Postinteressen des Sultanats versenden. Auch wenn die Postverwaltung des Osmanischen Reiches Postsäcke und andere Sendungen, die zu einem der Häfen im Süden des iranischen Territoriums gehören, im Namen der iranischen Post in den genannten Häfen versendet, wird Britisch-Indien, das dort vorübergehend Geschäfte tätigt, diese nicht im Namen der Postdienste dieses Landes versenden.

Research into Ladino Correspondence

For an archival database, I'm looking for correspondence (letters and post cards) from/to the Ottoman Empire and the Balkans 1850–1913 (Serbia, Roumania, Bosnia, Bulgaria, Greece, Austria) written in a script that looks like Arabic or Hebrew but is actually the Jewish script "Soletreo". It encodes an old Spanish called Ladino (Judeo-Spanish) spoken by Sephardic Jews. Don't worry about a correct identification: I'll do that.

Wanted: Israel's Triangular Military Unit Handstamps

There are 3 styles of triangular Handstamps used on Military Mail in Israel. The first style lowest numbers were used from 1948 to about 1960. I am trying to collect all of these and am still missing a few numbers. The mid period ran from approximately 1960 to 1980.

I have almost a complete run of these numbers but am still looking for a few of them including 1014, 1021, 1032, 1035, 1043, 1048, 1049, 1060, 1091, 1094 and 1098 and a few others. The most recent zero series style started about 1980 and is still in use. Zero series numbers I am looking for include 01433, 01455, 01526, 01636, 01833 to 01860, 02129 and 03350.

I am trying to collect all the numbers and I estimate that there are over 5000 issued across the 3 styles. I am also looking for your lists of numbers to check against my database. All correspondence and offers to trade material welcome.

Postal History of Ottoman Iraq During the British Occupation 1914–1923 by Oral Avcı and Meryem Yetkin Nükte

Oral Avcı and Meryem Yetkin Nükte argue that it is possible to trace Iraq's appearance through the postal stamps. Through an exhaustive analysis of postal stamps and other rare historical documents in Avcı's personal collection, the authors unravel the processes whereby Iraq became an internationally recognized state after World War I.

The book tells the fascinating story of Iraq's emergence by focusing on the mysteries embedded in the postal stamps and other documents from the early 20th century. It offers a fresh perspective on Iraq's early 20th-century history by closely addressing such questions.

The Institute of Postal Historical Studies "Aldo Cecchi" Prato, Tuscany, Italy

When you study postal history, you investigate on organized communication, particularly focusing on material aspects. This is a new, productive approach connecting different subjects, such as social history and history of culture, epistolography, history of management and of entrepreneurship, paleography, diplomatics, economic history, historical geography, history of journalism and of commerce, collecting.

Since 1982, in Prato, Istituto di Studi Storici Postali "Aldo Cecchi" has been an international reference centre for those concerned. The Institute is aimed at building, improving and sharing knowledge of the postal-historical subjects through publications, courses, workshops, exhibitions, and other cultural events.

One of the highlights of the Institute is his role as a specialized library, collecting guidebooks and old postal maps as well as modern philatelic editions. The library includes more than 13,000 items (volumes and booklets). Over time, the library has become a proper documentation centre on organized postal communication. The library is divided into special sections: the periodicals section contains almost 2,000 titles. The special collection of commercial philatelic publications (auction catalogues, fixed-price offers, promotional material, traders' price lists) numbers 15,000 items.

Last but not least, the Institute also holds an archival fond which is extraordinarily important for the history of Italian postal communications: the archive of the "Direzione Superiore della Posta Militare" (High office for Military Mail), containing some 400,000 original documents about its activity during the 20th century.

As you may understand, books and publications on postal-historical topics are welcome and ready to be inserted in the always-growing catalogue which can be consulted online. You are therefore invited to send us your publications: they will be available to the international community of philatelists!

The GB Overprints Society

The GBOS promotes the collection and study of overprints on British stamps and postal stationery and their usage, from the first overprints for use outside the United Kingdom issued in Cyprus in 1880 right through the "British Levant" issues to the final use of overprints when the British postal agency at Muscat closed in 1966.

The GBOS range of interests also includes revenues and postal orders overprinted for use abroad as well as the British departmental overprints.

Collectors at all levels are always welcome, whether experienced researchers or beginners.

We have an informative and lavishly illustrated website and publish a quarterly journal "The Overprinter", available in paper form or electronically. We have also published books on overprinted British postal stationery for use in many countries, including the Middle East and the Gulf.

Dr. Andreas Birken †

Handbook of Turkish Philately – Part I: Ottoman Empire

Vol. 4: The Ottoman Postmarks

“Die Poststempel / The Postmarks” by the late Dr. Andreas Birken is a bilingual (German and English) catalogue of Ottoman postmarks, including both postal and censor markings.

In 1999 Turkey philatelists held their 4th World Meeting at London. The member societies OPAL, AROS, and TOPS (now ONEPS) launched the Ottoman Postmark Project to continue the work of pioneer philatelists like Orhan Brandt, Saik Ceylân, John H. Coles, Howard E. Walker, and Hilmi Bayındır, with the aim of producing a data-base collecting and comparing all available and new information.

In 2002 Dr. Andreas Birken took on the task of bringing the project to a form usable to all interested collectors. The result is a periodically updated eBook, consisting of PDF-files, one for each vilayet, over 2000 pages in total, presenting all the known postmarks.

After the death of Dr. Birken AROS is now able to offer the postmark catalogue of the Ottoman Empire in the latest available version of March 2019:

| Version | DVD-ROM or USB-Stick | Download |
|--------------------|----------------------|----------|
| Complete Catalogue | 52.00 € | 50.00 € |
| P&P (Germany) | 3.00 € | – |
| P&P (worldwide) | 5.00 € | – |

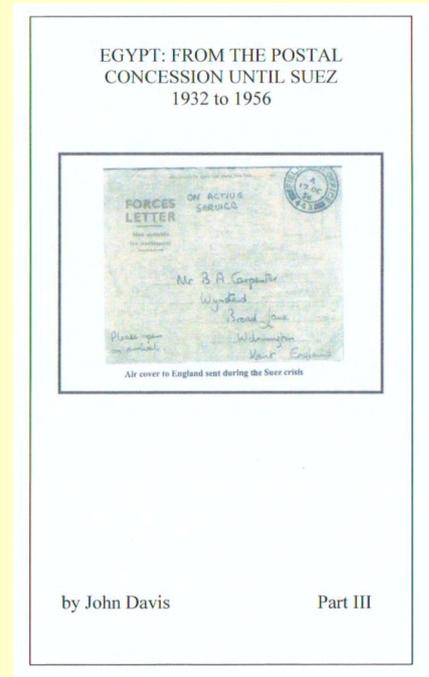

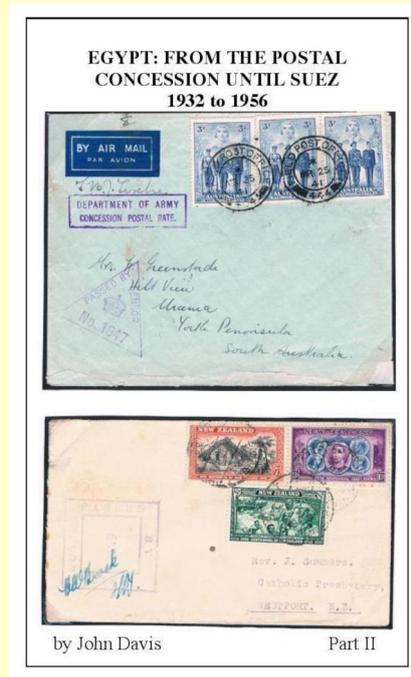

Owners of an earlier edition of the catalogue will be granted a discount: the price is then 10.00 € (plus p&p, if applicable). Please send me a photo of the DVD as proof.

Payment by SEPA transfer, PayPal, or Skrill.

Editorial

by Tobias Zywietz (mep-bulletin@zobbel.de) Publisher & Editor, The Middle East Philatelic Bulletin

A Personal Note

In early December I had a nasty accident, breaking my upper right arm. I was operated on a few days later and could leave hospital after for day... with a metal plate and lots of screws in my body. I am slowly recovering, it still hurts and I remain severely restricted in what my right arm can do. That's why MEPB 25 has been delayed until now.

In this Issue ...

As nobody reads these editorials, I will spare you more of my musings forthwith. Only a few key words: It is getting harder to gather interesting articles. So have to appeal for more people to come forward with their ideas. I will give all the assistance needed to create an article, but there needs to be a core idea and some material: stamps, covers, documents. Nothing comes from nothing...!

Contributions

I will consider any article of quality for potential inclusion: be it a large article with original research, a small piece looking at a particular aspect, a concise description of an interesting cover, or a long-forgotten piece of research rediscovered. It can be original writing, or material already published. I will help, advise, and guide. Translation into English can be arranged, and all steps and processes are closely coordinated with the author.

If you think you can contribute to the journal, please do not hesitate to contact me!

Articles should be submitted as plain text (TXT), rich text (RTF), LibreOffice/OpenOffice (ODT), MS Word (DOC, DOCX) or Adobe Acrobat (PDF). Images can be JPEG/JPG- or PNG-files in 300dpi (or higher) resolution. Rights to texts and images not belonging to the author should be cleared, or at least be flagged-up, so that I can deal with any such issues. If in doubt: just ask! I will strive to resolve any such occurring problems.

Acknowledgements

I'd like to thank all contributors and all those aiding and encouraging me in the creation of this journal. The list would be too long to print here, so I mention just one non-philatelist, who, as native speaker, helped me with proofreading and gave advice on style of writing, namely Colin Booth. Several organisations and persons gave me general permission to reprint articles from their journals and archives. One person I have especially to thank is Barry D. Hoffman, copyright owner of F. W. Pollack's THE HOLY LAND PHILATELIST. Many thanks to all!

Donations

I would like to thank all readers who have donated amounts following my appeal in the last edition. I will not mention any names here as some donors like to stay anonymous. The donations will be used primarily to maintain the website, e.g. increase storage capacity.

Please come forward with your articles, comments, research, or images!

The magazine is free. It is distributed by the publisher exclusively via digital download from his website. Each reader is permitted to print this magazine for his personal use.

Storage of individual articles and contributions or of the complete magazine on websites is prohibited. Exceptions are made after agreeing terms and conditions of such a use with the publisher.

Those interested in commercial re-use of individual contributions, are asked to contact the publisher and the authors. Non-commercial re-use, e.g. in journals of philatelic associations, will be granted upon request to the publisher and author, provided the source is properly acknowledged.

The publisher strives to take account of existing copyrights and restrictions of texts and images used, but in individual cases this cannot be guaranteed, as it is not always possible to ascertain the existence of such rights.

The publisher and editor of this magazine has absolutely no commercial interests as it is published solely for the purpose of philatelic research and education.

If a breach of copyright is detected, respective parties are asked to contact the publisher to resolve the matter amicably, e.g. by inserting correct copyright notices.

Dieses Auskunftsrecht kann insoweit beschränkt werden, als es voraussichtlich die Verwirklichung der Forschungs- oder Statistikzwecke unmöglich macht oder ernsthaft beeinträchtigt und die Beschränkung für die Erfüllung der Forschungs- oder Statistikzwecke notwendig ist.

2. Recht auf Berichtigung

Sie haben ein Recht auf Berichtigung und/oder Vervollständigung gegenüber dem Verantwortlichen, sofern die verarbeiteten personenbezogenen Daten, die Sie betreffen, unrichtig oder unvollständig sind. Der Verantwortliche hat die Berichtigung unverzüglich vorzunehmen.

Ihr Recht auf Berichtigung kann insoweit beschränkt werden, als es voraussichtlich die Verwirklichung der Forschungs- oder Statistikzwecke unmöglich macht oder ernsthaft beeinträchtigt und die Beschränkung für die Erfüllung der Forschungs- oder Statistikzwecke notwendig ist.

3. Recht auf Einschränkung der Verarbeitung

Unter den folgenden Voraussetzungen können Sie die Einschränkung der Verarbeitung der Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten verlangen:

- (1) wenn Sie die Richtigkeit der Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen für eine Dauer bestreiten, die es dem Verantwortlichen ermöglicht, die Richtigkeit der personenbezogenen Daten zu überprüfen;
- (2) die Verarbeitung unrechtmäßig ist und Sie die Löschung der personenbezogenen Daten ablehnen und stattdessen die Einschränkung der Nutzung der personenbezogenen Daten verlangen;
- (3) der Verantwortliche die personenbezogenen Daten für die Zwecke der Verarbeitung nicht länger benötigt, Sie diese jedoch zur Geltendmachung, Ausübung oder Verteidigung von Rechtsansprüchen benötigen, oder
- (4) wenn Sie Widerspruch gegen die Verarbeitung gemäß Art. 21 Abs. 1 DSGVO eingelegt haben und noch nicht feststeht, ob die berechtigten Gründe des Verantwortlichen gegenüber Ihren Gründen überwiegen. Wurde die Verarbeitung der Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten eingeschränkt, dürfen diese Daten – von ihrer Speicherung abgesehen – nur mit Ihrer Einwilligung oder zur Geltendmachung, Ausübung oder Verteidigung von Rechtsansprüchen oder zum Schutz der Rechte einer anderen natürlichen oder juristischen Person oder aus Gründen eines wichtigen öffentlichen Interesses der Union oder eines Mitgliedstaats verarbeitet werden.

Wurde die Einschränkung der Verarbeitung nach den o.g. Voraussetzungen eingeschränkt, werden Sie von dem Verantwortlichen unterrichtet bevor die Einschränkung aufgehoben wird.

Ihr Recht auf Einschränkung der Verarbeitung kann insoweit beschränkt werden, als es voraussichtlich die Verwirklichung der Forschungs- oder Statistikzwecke unmöglich macht oder ernsthaft beeinträchtigt und die Beschränkung für die Erfüllung der Forschungs- oder Statistikzwecke notwendig ist.

4. Recht auf Löschung

a) Löschungspflicht

Sie können von dem Verantwortlichen verlangen, dass die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten unverzüglich gelöscht werden, und der Verantwortliche ist verpflichtet, diese Daten unverzüglich zu löschen, sofern einer der folgenden Gründe zutrifft:

- (1) Die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten sind für die Zwecke, für die sie erhoben oder auf sonstige Weise verarbeitet wurden, nicht mehr notwendig.
- (2) Sie widerrufen Ihre Einwilligung, auf die sich die Verarbeitung gem. Art. 6 Abs. 1 lit. a oder Art. 9 Abs. 2 lit. a DSGVO stützte, und es fehlt an einer anderweitigen Rechtsgrundlage für die Verarbeitung.
- (3) Sie legen gem. Art. 21 Abs. 1 DSGVO Widerspruch gegen die Verarbeitung ein und es liegen keine vorrangigen berechtigten Gründe für die Verarbeitung vor, oder Sie legen gem. Art. 21 Abs. 2 DSGVO Widerspruch gegen die Verarbeitung ein.
- (4) Die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten wurden unrechtmäßig verarbeitet.
- (5) Die Löschung der Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten ist zur Erfüllung einer rechtlichen Verpflichtung nach dem Unionsrecht oder dem Recht der Mitgliedstaaten erforderlich, dem der Verantwortliche unterliegt.
- (6) Die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten wurden in Bezug auf angebotene Dienste der Informationsgesellschaft gemäß Art. 8 Abs. 1 DSGVO erhoben.

b) Information an Dritte

Hat der Verantwortliche die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten öffentlich gemacht und ist er gem. Art. 17 Abs. 1 DSGVO zu deren Löschung verpflichtet, so trifft er unter Berücksichtigung der verfügbaren Technologie und der Implementierungskosten angemessene Maßnahmen, auch technischer Art, um für die Datenverarbeitung Verantwortliche, die die personenbezogenen Daten verarbeiten, darüber zu informieren, dass Sie als betroffene Person von ihnen die Löschung aller Links zu diesen personenbezogenen Daten oder von Kopien oder Replikationen dieser personenbezogenen Daten verlangt haben.

c) Ausnahmen

Das Recht auf Löschung besteht nicht, soweit die Verarbeitung erforderlich ist

- (1) zur Ausübung des Rechts auf freie Meinungsäußerung und Information;
- (2) zur Erfüllung einer rechtlichen Verpflichtung, die die Verarbeitung nach dem Recht der Union oder der Mitgliedstaaten, dem der Verantwortliche unterliegt, erfordert, oder zur Wahrnehmung einer Aufgabe, die im öffentlichen Interesse liegt oder in Ausübung öffentlicher Gewalt erfolgt, die dem Verantwortlichen übertragen wurde;
- (3) aus Gründen des öffentlichen Interesses im Bereich der öffentlichen Gesundheit gemäß Art. 9 Abs. 2 lit. h und i sowie Art. 9 Abs. 3 DSGVO
- (4) für im öffentlichen Interesse liegende Archivzwecke, wissenschaftliche oder historische Forschungszwecke oder für statistische Zwecke gem. Art. 89 Abs. 1 DSGVO, soweit das unter Abschnitt a) genannte Recht voraussichtlich die Verwirklichung der Ziele dieser Verarbeitung unmöglich macht oder ernsthaft beeinträchtigt, oder
- (5) zur Geltendmachung, Ausübung oder Verteidigung von Rechtsansprüchen.

5. Recht auf Unterrichtung

Haben Sie das Recht auf Berichtigung, Löschung oder Einschränkung der Verarbeitung gegenüber dem Verantwortlichen geltend gemacht, ist dieser verpflichtet, allen Empfängern, denen die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten offengelegt wurden, diese Berichtigung oder Löschung der Daten oder Einschränkung der Verarbeitung mitzuteilen, es sei denn, dies erweist sich als unmöglich oder ist mit einem unverhältnismäßigen Aufwand verbunden. Ihnen steht gegenüber dem Verantwortlichen das Recht zu, über diese Empfänger unterrichtet zu werden.

6. Recht auf Datenübertragbarkeit

Sie haben das Recht, die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten, die Sie dem Verantwortlichen bereitgestellt haben, in einem strukturierten, gängigen und maschinenlesbaren Format zu erhalten. Außerdem haben Sie das Recht diese Daten einem anderen Verantwortlichen ohne Behinderung durch den Verantwortlichen, dem die personenbezogenen Daten bereitgestellt wurden, zu übermitteln, sofern

- (1) die Verarbeitung auf einer Einwilligung gem. Art. 6 Abs. 1 lit. a DSGVO oder Art. 9 Abs. 2 lit. a DSGVO oder auf einem Vertrag gem. Art. 6 Abs. 1 lit. b DSGVO beruht und
- (2) die Verarbeitung mithilfe automatisierter Verfahren erfolgt.

In Ausübung dieses Rechts haben Sie ferner das Recht, zu erwirken, dass die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten direkt von einem Verantwortlichen einem anderen Verantwortlichen übermittelt werden, soweit dies technisch machbar ist. Freiheiten und Rechte anderer Personen dürfen hierdurch nicht beeinträchtigt werden.

Das Recht auf Datenübertragbarkeit gilt nicht für eine Verarbeitung personenbezogener Daten, die für die Wahrnehmung einer Aufgabe erforderlich ist, die im öffentlichen Interesse liegt oder in Ausübung öffentlicher Gewalt erfolgt, die dem Verantwortlichen übertragen wurde.

7. Widerspruchsrecht

Sie haben das Recht, aus Gründen, die sich aus ihrer besonderen Situation ergeben, jederzeit gegen die Verarbeitung der Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten, die aufgrund von Art. 6 Abs. 1 lit. e oder f DSGVO erfolgt, Widerspruch einzulegen; dies gilt auch für ein auf diese Bestimmungen gestütztes Profiling.

Der Verantwortliche verarbeitet die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten nicht mehr, es sei denn, er kann zwingende schutzwürdige Gründe für die Verarbeitung nachweisen, die Ihre Interessen, Rechte und Freiheiten überwiegen, oder die Verarbeitung dient der Geltendmachung, Ausübung oder Verteidigung von Rechtsansprüchen.

Werden die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten verarbeitet, um Direktwerbung zu betreiben, haben Sie das Recht, jederzeit Widerspruch gegen die Verarbeitung der Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten zum Zwecke derartiger Werbung einzulegen; dies gilt auch für das Profiling, soweit es mit solcher Direktwerbung in Verbindung steht.

Widersprechen Sie der Verarbeitung für Zwecke der Direktwerbung, so werden die Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten nicht mehr für diese Zwecke verarbeitet.

Sie haben die Möglichkeit, im Zusammenhang mit der Nutzung von Diensten der Informationsgesellschaft – ungeachtet der Richtlinie 2002/58/EG – Ihr Widerspruchsrecht mittels automatisierter Verfahren auszuüben, bei denen technische Spezifikationen verwendet werden.

Bei Datenverarbeitung zu wissenschaftlichen, historischen oder statistischen Forschungszwecken:

Sie haben auch das Recht, aus Gründen, die sich aus Ihrer besonderen Situation ergeben, bei der Verarbeitung der Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten, die zu wissenschaftlichen oder historischen Forschungszwecken oder zu statistischen Zwecken gem. Art. 89 Abs. 1 DSGVO erfolgt, dieser zu widersprechen.

Ihr Widerspruchsrecht kann insoweit beschränkt werden, als es voraussichtlich die Verwirklichung der Forschungs- oder Statistikzwecke unmöglich macht oder ernsthaft beeinträchtigt und die Beschränkung für die Erfüllung der Forschungs- oder Statistikzwecke notwendig ist.

8. Recht auf Widerruf der datenschutzrechtlichen

Einwilligungserklärung

Sie haben das Recht, Ihre datenschutzrechtliche Einwilligungserklärung jederzeit zu widerrufen. Durch den Widerruf der Einwilligung wird die Rechtmäßigkeit der aufgrund der Einwilligung bis zum Widerruf erfolgten Verarbeitung nicht berührt.

9. Recht auf Beschwerde bei einer Aufsichtsbehörde

Unbeschadet eines anderweitigen verwaltungsrechtlichen oder gerichtlichen Rechtsbehelfs steht Ihnen das Recht auf Beschwerde bei einer Aufsichtsbehörde, insbesondere in dem Mitgliedstaat ihres Aufenthaltsorts, ihres Arbeitsplatzes oder des Orts des mutmaßlichen Verstoßes, zu, wenn Sie der Ansicht sind, dass die Verarbeitung der Sie betreffenden personenbezogenen Daten gegen die DSGVO verstößt.

Die Aufsichtsbehörde, bei der die Beschwerde eingereicht wurde, unterrichtet den Beschwerdeführer über den Stand und die Ergebnisse der Beschwerde einschließlich der Möglichkeit eines gerichtlichen Rechtsbehelfs nach Art. 78 DSGVO.

Data Protection Policy

This is a non-binding translation into English. The only legally binding text is the German "Datenschutzerklärung" above.

All references are to the German text of the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR, German: Datenschutz-Grundverordnung, DSGVO).

Data protection is of particular importance to me. Use of my electronic journal pages is possible without any indication of personal data.

The processing of personal data, such as the name and e-mail address of a person, is always carried out in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and in accordance with the country-specific data protection regulations applicable to me. By means of this data protection declaration I would like to inform the public about the type, scope and purpose of the personal data collected, used and processed by me. Furthermore, data subjects will be informed of their rights by means of this data protection declaration.

As data controller, I have implemented numerous technical and organisational measures to ensure the utmost protection of the personal data processed via this website. Nevertheless, Internet-based data transmissions, like e-mail, may in principle contain security risks, so that absolute protection cannot be guaranteed. For this reason, every person concerned is free to transmit personal data to me also in alternative ways.

I. Name and address of the person responsible

The person responsible in the sense of the General Data Protection Regulation and other national data protection laws of EU member states as well as other data protection regulations is:

Tobias Zywietz
Hauptstr. 10
75245 Neulingen
Germany
Phone: +49-(0)7237-44 39 03
E-mail: mep-bulletin@zobbel.de

II. General information about data processing

1. Scope of processing of personal data

In general, I only process personal data of users if this is necessary to provide information by way of a mailing-list. The further processing of personal data only takes place with the user's consent.

2. Legal basis for the processing of personal data

Insofar as I obtain the consent of the data subject for the processing of personal data, Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a EU General Data Protection Regulation serves as the legal basis for the processing of personal data.

In the processing of personal data required for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is a party, Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b DSGVO serves as the legal basis. This also applies to processing operations that are necessary to carry out pre-contractual measures.

As far as the processing of personal data is necessary for the fulfilment of a legal obligation, which is subject to me, Art. 6 Abs. 1 lit. c DSGVO serves as legal basis.

In the event that the vital interests of the data subject or another natural person require the processing of personal data, Article 6(1)(d) DSGVO serves as the legal basis.

If processing is necessary to safeguard a legitimate interest of mine or of a third party and if the interests, fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject do not outweigh the former interest, Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f DSGVO serves as the legal basis for processing.

3. Deletion time of data and storage

The personal data of the person concerned will be deleted or blocked as soon as the purpose of storage ceases to apply. Furthermore, data may be stored if this has been provided for by the European or national legislators' regulations, laws or other provisions to which the person responsible is subject. The data will also be blocked or deleted if a storage period prescribed by the aforementioned standards expires, unless there is a need for further storage of the data for the conclusion or fulfilment of a contract.

III. Mailing-List

Every user is free to subscribe for free to my mailing list via e-mail. This does not create any obligations for the user.

1. Description and scope of data processing

The following data is collected:

1. surname and first name of the user
2. e-mail address of the user

2. Legal basis for data processing

The legal basis for the temporary storage of data is Art. 6 para. 1 DSGVO.

3. Purpose of data processing

The purpose of the mailing list is to provide the user with information about the contents and appearance of the journal.

4. Storage duration

The user can leave the mailing list at any time. The data will be deleted immediately.

5. Possibility of objection and elimination

The collection of data for the provision of the mailing list is absolutely necessary for the operation of the mailing list. Consequently, there is no possibility of objection on the part of the user. The user can, however, object to the storage at any time and thus leave the mailing list.

IV. E-Mail contact

1. Description and scope of data processing

You can contact me via the e-mail address provided on my website. In this case, the user's personal data transmitted by e-mail will be stored. In this context, the data will not be passed on to third parties. The data is used exclusively for processing the conversation.

V. Rights of the person concerned

If your personal data is processed, you are affected within the meaning of the DSGVO and you have the following rights vis-à-vis the person responsible:

1. The right to information

You can ask the person in charge to confirm whether personal data concerning you will be processed by me. If such processing is available, you can request the following information from the person responsible:

- (1) the purposes for which the personal data are processed;
- (2) the categories of personal data processed;
- (3) the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data concerning you have been or are still being disclosed;
- (4) the planned duration of the storage of the personal data concerning you or, if specific information on this is not possible, criteria for determining the storage period;
- (5) the existence of a right to rectification or deletion of personal data concerning you, a right to limitation of processing by the controller or a right to object to such processing;
- (6) the existence of a right of appeal to a supervisory authority;
- (7) any available information on the origin of the data if the personal data are not collected from the data subject;
- (8) the existence of automated decision-making including profiling in accordance with Art. 22 para. 1 and 4 DSGVO and – at least in these cases – meaningful information on the logic involved and the scope and intended effects of such processing for the data subject.

You have the right to request information as to whether the personal data concerning you is transferred to a third country or to an international organisation. In this context, you may request to be informed of the appropriate guarantees pursuant to Art. 46 DSGVO in connection with the transmission. This right to information may be limited to the extent that it is likely to make it impossible or seriously impair the realisation of research or statistical purposes and the limitation is necessary for the fulfilment of research or statistical purposes.

2. The right of correction

You have a right of rectification and/or completion vis-à-vis the data controller if the personal data processed concerning you are incorrect or incomplete. The person responsible shall make the correction without delay.

Your right to correction may be limited to the extent that it is likely to render impossible or seriously prejudicial the achievement of the research or statistical purposes and the limitation is necessary for the fulfilment of the research or statistical purposes.

3. Right to limitation of processing

Under the following conditions, you may request that the processing of personal data concerning you be restricted:

- (1) if you dispute the accuracy of the personal data concerning you for a period that enables the data controller to verify the accuracy of the personal data;
- (2) the processing is unlawful and you refuse to delete the personal data and instead request the restriction of the use of the personal data;
- (3) the data controller no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but you do need them to assert, exercise or defend legal claims, or (4) if you have filed an objection to the processing pursuant to Art. 21 para. 1 DSGVO and it has not yet been determined whether the legitimate reasons of the person responsible outweigh your reasons. If the processing of personal data concerning you has been restricted, such data may only be processed - apart from being stored - with your consent or for the purpose of asserting, exercising or defending rights or protecting the rights of another natural or legal person or on grounds of an important public interest of the Union or a Member State.

If the processing restriction has been limited according to the above conditions, you will be informed by the person responsible before the restriction is lifted.

Your right to limitation of processing may be limited to the extent that it is likely to render impossible or seriously prejudicial the achievement of research or statistical purposes and the restriction is necessary for the fulfilment of research or statistical purposes.

4. The right of deletion

a) Duty of deletion

You may request the data controller to delete the personal data relating to you immediately, and the data controller is obliged to delete this data immediately, if one of the following reasons applies:

- (1) The personal data concerning you are no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed.
- (2) You revoke your consent, on which the processing was based pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a or Art. 9 para. 2 lit. a DSGVO, and there is no other legal basis for the processing.
- (3) You file an objection against the processing pursuant to Art. 21 para. 1 DSGVO and there are no overriding legitimate reasons for the processing, or you file an objection against the processing pursuant to Art. 21 para. 2 DSGVO.
- (4) The personal data concerning you have been processed unlawfully.
- (5) The deletion of personal data relating to you is necessary to fulfil a legal obligation under Union law or the law of the Member States to which the data controller is subject.
- (6) The personal data concerning you were collected in relation to information society services offered pursuant to Art. 8 para. 1 DSGVO.

b) Information to third parties

If the data controller has made the personal data concerning you public and is obliged to delete it pursuant to Art. 17 para. 1 DSGVO, he shall take appropriate measures, including technical measures, taking into account the available technology and the implementation costs, to inform data processors who process the personal data that you as the data subject have requested the deletion of all links to this personal data or of copies or replications of this personal data.

c) Exceptions

The right to cancellation does not exist if the processing is necessary

- (1) to exercise freedom of expression and information;
- (2) to fulfil a legal obligation required for processing under the law of the Union or of the Member States to which the controller is subject, or to perform a task in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority conferred on the controller
- (3) for reasons of public interest in the field of public health pursuant to Art. 9 para. 2 lit. h and i and Art. 9 para. 3 DSGVO;
- (4) for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or for statistical purposes pursuant to Art. 89 para. 1 DSGVO, insofar as the law referred to under a) is likely to make it impossible or seriously impair the attainment of the objectives of such processing, or
- (5) to assert, exercise or defend legal claims.

5. Right to information

If you have exercised your right to have the data controller correct, delete or limit the processing, he/she is obliged to inform all recipients to whom the personal data concerning you have been disclosed of this correction or deletion of the data or restriction on processing, unless this proves impossible or involves a disproportionate effort. Recipients have the right vis-à-vis the person responsible to be informed about these recipients.

6. Right to data transferability

You have the right to receive the personal data concerning you that you have provided to the person responsible in a structured, common and machine-readable format. In addition, you have the right to transmit this data to another person in charge without obstruction by the person in charge to whom the personal data was provided, provided

(1) processing is based on consent pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a DSGVO or Art. 9 para. 2 lit. a DSGVO or on a contract pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b DSGVO and

(2) processing is carried out by means of automated methods

In exercising this right, you also have the right to request that the personal data concerning you be transferred directly from one data controller to another data controller, insofar as this is technically feasible. The freedoms and rights of other persons must not be affected by this.

The right to transferability shall not apply to the processing of personal data necessary for the performance of a task in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority conferred on the controller.

7. Right of objection

You have the right to object at any time, for reasons arising from your particular situation, to the processing of personal data concerning you under Article 6(1)(e) or (f) of the DSGVO; this also applies to profiling based on these provisions.

The data controller no longer processes the personal data concerning you, unless he can prove compelling reasons worthy of protection for the processing, which outweigh your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing serves to assert, exercise or defend legal claims.

If the personal data concerning you are processed for direct marketing purposes, you have the right to object at any time to the processing of the personal data concerning you for the purpose of such advertising; this also applies to profiling, insofar as it is associated with such direct marketing.

If you object to the processing for direct marketing purposes, the personal data concerning you will no longer be processed for these purposes.

You have the possibility to exercise your right of objection in connection with the use of Information Society services by means of automated procedures using technical specifications, notwithstanding Directive 2002/58/EC.

For data processing for scientific, historical or statistical research purposes:

You also have the right to object to the processing of personal data concerning you for scientific or historical research purposes or for statistical purposes pursuant to Art. 89 para. 1 DSGVO for reasons arising from your particular situation.

Your right of objection may be limited to the extent that it is likely to make it impossible or seriously impair the realisation of the research or statistical purposes and the limitation is necessary for the fulfilment of the research or statistical purposes.

8. Right to revoke the declaration of consent

You have the right to revoke your data protection declaration of consent at any time. The revocation of consent shall not affect the legality of the processing carried out on the basis of the consent until revocation.

9. Right of appeal to a supervisory authority

Without prejudice to any other administrative or judicial remedy, you have the right of appeal to a supervisory authority, in particular in the EU member state where you reside, work or suspect the infringement, if you believe that the processing of personal data concerning you is contrary to the DSGVO.

The supervisory authority to which the complaint has been submitted shall inform the complainant of the status and results of the complaint, including the possibility of a judicial remedy under Article 78 DSGVO.
